Subdivision Regulations Would Remedy Matter

What's In A Name? Real Confusion When There Is Street Duplication

City Council has scheduled a public hearing Aug. 21 at 7 p.m. on proposed subdivision regulations for East Liverpool. This is the second in a series of articles based on the 37-page book of regulations and designed to assist the public in a better understanding of the complicated issue.

By ROBERT POPP

Where is Gaston Place? How do I get to Center Street?

Those are two questions about geographic locations that cannot be answered without a lot of ifs, ands, buts and qualifications because the area teems with duplications of street and place names.

But there will be no further confusion,, at least in the creation of new residential areas, following adoption of the proposed subdivision regulations for East Liverpool. They specifically prohibit assigning a name to a new street if that name already has been applied to an existing street. The regulations go further, in fact, and prohibit names which are "similar in spelling or pronunciation to those of existing streets."

THE ELIMINATION of duplication in street names is just one of the minor contingencies guarded against in the regulations.

Another section in the proposed regulations is devoted to encouraging the planting of trees along streets and spelling out the types most recommended.

The regulations stipulate that trees should be planted outside of street rights-of-way and away from sewer or water easements that may be adjacent. They should be planted "in such manner as not to impair visibility at any corner," the regulations add. In developing lots, subdividers should retain existing recommended trees, they say.

The regulations spell out the types of trees recommended for medium width streets, including Norway maple, sweet gum, scarlet oak, sassafras, Japanese pagoda tree and little leaf linden.

For wider streets, the regulations recommend a dozen types, including red oak, pin oak, sugar maple, sugar hackberry, white ash, white pine and the London plane tree.

The regulations add:

"Due regard shall be given to the preservation of outstanding cultural, historic or natural features such as scenic spots, watercourses or exceptionally fine groves of trees. Dedication to and acceptance by a public agency is usually the best means of assuring their preservation."

State Senators Hit Head-On With Tax Increase Proposal

Would Yield 300 Million For Schools

Sales, Cigarette Levies Would Be Hiked Under Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State senators, aware that their political careers could be at stake, clashed head-on today with a proposal for Ohio's first statewide tax increase in eight years.

They planned action on an administration measure designed to yield $300 million in additional revenue with the new money earmarked for education.

The last time Ohioans bore the brunt of new taxes at the state level was in 1959 during the administration of Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. He went under a GOP landslide in the next election and Democrats haven't controlled the legislature since.

Gov. James A. Rhodes, who defeated DiSalle with a promise of "no new or increased taxes" finally yielded in his second term when rapidly expanding school enrollments made it clear more money — and a lot more of it—had to come from somewhere.

Administration officials and legislative leaders drafted the tax increases and put them in the same bill with educational programs. Their strategy was to put Democrats in a position of having to support the tax increases or vote against more money for education.

Proposed in the big money bill are an increase in the sales tax to include laundry and dry cleaning, a three-cent boost in the present five-cents-a-pack cigarette tax, and closing of loopholes in direct use exemptions in the sales tax.

Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray R-3 Miami and others estimated the entire package would yield about $300 million every two years when fully implemented but other estimates range much higher.

Education expenditures in the measure would add $276 million to $920.1 million already appropriated in the 1967-69 budget and raise the total for all types of education to a record $1.2 billion.

It provides about $20 million for aid to non-public schools at so-called "auxiliary service

Reds Attack U.S. Merchant Ship

3 More American Planes Lost In Vietnam Combat

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command today announced the loss of three more American warplanes in combat and a Communist attack on an American ship.

The ground war lapsed back into a lull with no further fighting reported in the 10,000-man allied Operation Colorado II in the Mekong Delta south of Saigon.

Two of the planes were lost over North Vietnam and the other in South Vietnam, bringing the total number of American warplanes reported lost in combat in the war to 825. This includes 629 over North Vietnam and 196 over the South. One of the losses over the North was an Air Force RF101 reconnaissance Voodoo and the pilot was missing. The other was a carrier-based Navy A4 Skyhawk; its pilot was rescued.

Communist fire brought down an Air Force F100 Supersabre fighter-bomber on a combat support mission over South Vietnam and the pilot was killed.

The U.S. Command also announced that six Vietnamese civilians were killed and 23 wounded by U.S. artillery and air strike mistakes. In a third such incident, a U.S. Army helicopter accidentally fired on troops of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division 22 miles northeast of Saigon, killing one U.S. soldier and wounding seven.

A military spokesman said Viet Cong positions along the banks of the Long Tau River opened up on the American merchant ship Seatrain Florida 15 miles southeast of Saigon with small arms, automatic weapons and recoilless rifles, but the only damage was two punctured tires on a vehicle the ship was carrying.

Navy river patrol boats, army gunship helicopters and air force fighter-bombers swarmed over the area and killed four Viet Cong, the spokesman said.

The ship is owned by Seatrain Lines Inc. of New York.

Field commanders in the delta operation made estimates of enemy dead ranging from 150 to 350, but the U.S. Command put the figure at 200. The Saigon headquarters also reported 16 Americans killed and 59 wound-

Project Set At $27,698

Council 'Scrapes Barrel' To Provide Street Funds

Council scraped the bottom of the city's figurative "financial barrel" Tuesday night to come up with the last $3,000 needed for the annual summer low-cost street surfacing program, estimated to cost the municipality $27,698.

With $22,700 previously appropriated, almost $5,000 still was needed to assure the program would be a reality, including surfacing of sections of 34 secondary streets and the seal-coating of the thoroughfares given the original treatment in 1963 and 1965.

Mayor George E. Willshaw argued strongly that Council provide the additional funds, rather than cut back on the program amount. He pointed out the program has gone a long way toward changing the character of secondary streets — eliminating the twin problems of dust in the summer and mud and ruts in the winter and spring.

He suggested providing $3,000 by "borrowing" that amount from th $11,000 set up previously to pay the city's share of State Highway Department projects for resurfacing sections of Route 39 within the city, including E. and W. 5th and 6th Sts.

Since the state program can be classed as a capital improvement, the city can borrow money on notes to make up the $3,000 difference, he explained. But it could not borrow to help pay its share of the low cost surfacing program because that project cannot be classed as a capital improvement, he explained.

Council accepted the mayor's proposal and also transferred $2,358 from other funds to make a total of $5,358 additional available for the low cost surfacing program.

The mayor and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrrey presented Council with a break-

Auto Upsets, Injures Trio Near Lisbon

Three Lisbon youths were injured — one seriously — when their car careened off Route 164 south of Lisbon early today, rammed the porch of a home then overturned.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the auto operated by Michael A. Conn, 18, of 567 E. Washington St., Lisbon, traveled 708 feet out of control before overturning on its side.

Conn escaped injury, officers said, but three passengers in the 1957 coach were taken to Salem City Hospital.

They were Robert F. Mix Jr., 19, of 1115 Green St., Lisbon; Bud David Hall, 18, of 737 E. Lincoln Way, Lisbon, and Paul Hammett, 18, of E. Pine St., Lisbon. Officers said Hall's injuries were "serious."

Enforcement Begins In New Parking Rules

The police department began enforcement Tuesday midnight on a new ordinance that bans parking at all times on the west side of St. Clair Ave. for the full length of the three - lane pavement, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey has announced.

The enforcement began shortly after street department crews finished installing 38 "no parking" signs along the stretch from Princeton Ave. to the city limits. The ordinance was enacted in May and took effect in June, but could not be enforced until the city received the signs and installed them.

Parking has been banned on the east side of the stretch since it was opened to traffic.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate's new minority leader, Sen. Ernest P. Kline, says he plans to work closely with House Democrats.

Kline discussed dealings with the House and other topics such as civil rights and budget problems in an interview shortly after he was unanimously elected floor leader Tuesday.

The 38-year-old father of seven said he feels the legislature should move quickly on civil rights legislation.

"I think also that the federal and state governments should seriously consider the problems of cities, both large and small,"

His action was the latest development in off-and-on negotiations between Council, the administration and the autonomous Board of Public Utilities, which operates the sewage and water departments. Tuesday was the deadline set by Huddlestun for the city to move its pound to other quarters.

Council discussed the problem at length in a caucus session Tuesday night and agreed to send a three - member committee to confer with the utilities board at its meeting Saturday morning. Huddlestun had

Rodak, Residents Meet

Hancock Roads Discussed Again

By TOM FUTHEY

Hancock County Sheriff Joseph Rodak Tuesday assured residents along the 900 block of Grant St., Newell, that protests concerning the condition of their street and all roads in Hancock County are being heard in Charleston.

Rodak met, beginning at 11 a.m., with seven women from the block, part of a contingent of 30 who picketed late in May along Washington St. protesting the state of disrepair into which the road had fallen.

THE SHERIFF said subordinates of West Virginia Road Commissioner Burl Sawyers told him both letters and calls had been received from irate Hancock residents asking for immediate action on the road situation.

Arch A. Moore, congressman for the West Virginia 1st District, according to Rodak, wrote a "strongly-worded" letter to Sawyers urging an immediate correction of the conditions.

Rodak read a letter from J. C. Dillon Jr., Sawyers' administrative assistant, saying the department would evaluate the current financial status of the commission and arrive at a decision on the proposed resurfacing of Grant St. during the week of Aug. 7.

George E. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Davis of Dresden Ave. Ext., has been promoted to Army Specialist 5 in Vietnam, where he is serving with the 9th Infantry Division. He is a senior wheeled vehicle mechanic near Bear Cat, having entered the Army in March 1966. His wife Loretta resides at Neshanic, N. J.

Rising Aircraft Losses Cited

Battleship New Jersey Ordered For War Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rising aircraft losses over North Vietnam figured heavily in Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's decision to order up the battleship New Jersey for war duty, Pentagon sources say.

Officers estimated the 45,000-ton battlewagon, a naval behemoth of another era, may be able to do the work of roughly 50 planes a day, thus cutting down the number of U.S. aircraft exposed to Communist fire.

At the same time, Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, the new chief of naval operations, stressed in an interview he views deployment of the battleship as an addition to, rather than a replacement for, tactical air strikes aginst the Communists.

To date the United States has lost more than 625 planes over the North in attacks against the same kinds of targets the New Jersey will be able to bombard with 1,900-pound shells—bridges, highways, supply dumps and defensive installations.

The battleship has enough armor to allow it to wade into the heaviest enemy gunfire currently in use along North Vietnam's coast. These include five-inch equivalent weapons capable of sinking such lesser ships as destroyers.

McNamara approved Tuesday the Navy's recommendation to pull the New Jersey out of mothballs at the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard and add her 16-inch guns to Seventh Fleet forces now operating in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The Pentagon estimated it would take 9 or 10 months to get the 887-foot ship ready for its shakedown phase, which probably will be taken care of en route to Vietnam. Shakedown involves special crew training and test firing of the battleship's nine 16-inch and 20 5-inch guns.

Price of the reactivation was placed at $27 million, and sources estimated it would take 12.5 million annually to operate the battleship with an abbreviated crew of 1,400 enlisted men and 70 officers. A full complement would be 2,700 men.

Adm. Moorer said the battleship may prove most useful in battering such targets as concrete and steel reinforced bunkers and artillery emplacements near the so-called Demilitarized Zone.

"No one will quarrel with the fact that a 16-inch shell is impressive—particularly those who listen to them whistle by," Moorer said in an interview a few hours after he was sworn in to succeed Adm. David L. McDonald.

The main advantage of the battleship, in addition to its heavier shells, is the long firing range. The New Jersey can stand six miles out and hit enemy targets 15 miles inland. Cruisers operating at that distance to avoid hostile fire have five miles less range with smaller eight-inch guns.

After its destruction by fire, Faneuil Hall, Boston, was rebuilt from the proceeds of lotteries.

Two Lose Lives In Ohio Traffic

By The Associated Press

A Defiance County volunteer fireman and an Athens County motorcyclist are the latest victims of Ohio traffic.

The dead:

Richard Hohenberger, South Richland Township, Defiance County.

Clyde Elden, 19, Rt. 1, Sharpsburg, Athens County.

Hohenberger, a South Richland Township volunteer fireman, was directing traffic at the scene of a fire on Ohio 281 near the Independence Dam along the Maumee River and was killed when struck by an automobile Tuesday night.

Elden was riding his motorcycle on U. S. 50-A about a mile east of Amesville in Athens County Tuesday when the motorcycle crashed head - on with an automobile.

Post 374 Plans Outing Aug. 13

A family picnic will be held Aug. 13 at Valley Park by American Legion Post 374, Densel McKinney, commander, announced during a meeting Monday. Forty were present.

McKinney said Russ Ludwick and his band will play for dancing Saturday at the post home.

This month will launch an observance of "Legionnaire of the Month" by the post. Paul Gill, baseball chairman, reported that the post had been eliminated from tournament play.

John Armstrong, a former member of American Legion Post 121 of Chester, was accepted as a transfer member.

The next meeting will be Monday at 8 p.m.

Commuter Thief Indicted For 11 Bank Robberies

PITTSBURGH (AP)— William Zeiler, identified by the FBI as the "Commuter Bandit," has been indicted for 11 robberies attributed to the elusive gunman who terrorized Pittsburgh banks for several years.

Zeiler and another man were indicted together for one bank robbery. A federal grand jury returned the indictments Tuesday.

Zeiler, 52, a North Side grocer, was indicted for 10 robberies committed from April 17, 1963, to May 17, 1967, netting $103,630.

Richard Chiocca, 26, of Pittsburgh was indicted with Zeiler in the Aug. 24, 1964, robbery of the Carrick branch of the Pittsburgh National Bank.

No trial date was set.

Police dubbed the elusive gunman the "Commuter Bandit" because they theorized he lived near the city and held up banks when he became short of cash. The bandit is blamed for taking some $171,000 during a 5½ year period.

Consumpiton of distilled spirits in the United States in 1965 reached a high of 292,987,572 gallons, an average of 1.53 gallons per person.

Body Found In Lake

PORT CLINTON, Ohio (AP) The body of Kenneth Hahn, 42, of Archbold was recovered from Lake Erie Tuesday, the Ottawa County Sheriff's Department reported. Fishermen spotted the body about 200 yards off sand beach here. Hahn had been missing since Sunday night when his boat was found.

Battleship New Jersey Ordered For War Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rising aircraft losses over North Vietnam figured heavily in Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's decision to order up the battleship New Jersey for war duty, Pentagon sources say.

Officers estimated the 45,000-ton battlewagon, a naval behemoth of another era, may be able to do the work of roughly 50 planes a day, thus cutting down the number of U.S. aircraft exposed to Communist fire.

At the same time, Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, the new chief of naval operations, stressed in an interview he views deployment of the battleship as an addition to, rather than a replacement for, tactical air strikes aginst the Communists.

To date the United States has lost more than 625 planes over the North in attacks against the same kinds of targets the New Jersey will be able to bombard with 1,900-pound shells—bridges, highways, supply dumps and defensive installations.

The battleship has enough armor to allow it to wade into the heaviest enemy gunfire currently in use along North Vietnam's coast. These include five-inch equivalent weapons capable of sinking such lesser ships as destroyers.

McNamara approved Tuesday the Navy's recommendation to pull the New Jersey out of mothballs at the Philadelphia Naval Shipyard and add her 16-inch guns to Seventh Fleet forces now operating in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The Pentagon estimated it would take 9 or 10 months to get the 887-foot ship ready for its shakedown phase, which probably will be taken care of en route to Vietnam. Shakedown involves special crew training and test firing of the battleship's nine 16-inch and 20 5-inch guns.

Price of the reactivation was placed at $27 million, and sources estimated it would take 12.5 million annually to operate the battleship with an abbreviated crew of 1,400 enlisted men and 70 officers. A full complement would be 2,700 men.

Adm. Moorer said the battleship may prove most useful in battering such targets as concrete and steel reinforced bunkers and artillery emplacements near the so-called Demilitarized Zone.

"No one will quarrel with the fact that a 16-inch shell is impressive—particularly those who listen to them whistle by," Moorer said in an interview a few hours after he was sworn in to succeed Adm. David L. McDonald.

The main advantage of the battleship, in addition to its heavier shells, is the long firing range. The New Jersey can stand six miles out and hit enemy targets 15 miles inland. Cruisers operating at that distance to avoid hostile fire have five miles less range with smaller eight-inch guns.

After its destruction by fire, Faneuil Hall, Boston, was rebuilt from the proceeds of lotteries.

Two Lose Lives In Ohio Traffic

By The Associated Press

A Defiance County volunteer fireman and an Athens County motorcyclist are the latest victims of Ohio traffic.

The dead:

Richard Hohenberger, South Richland Township, Defiance County.

Clyde Elden, 19, Rt. 1, Sharpsburg, Athens County.

Hohenberger, a South Richland Township volunteer fireman, was directing traffic at the scene of a fire on Ohio 281 near the Independence Dam along the Maumee River and was killed when struck by an automobile Tuesday night.

Elden was riding his motorcycle on U. S. 50-A about a mile east of Amesville in Athens County Tuesday when the motorcycle crashed head - on with an automobile.

Post 374 Plans Outing Aug. 13

A family picnic will be held Aug. 13 at Valley Park by American Legion Post 374, Densel McKinney, commander, announced during a meeting Monday. Forty were present.

McKinney said Russ Ludwick and his band will play for dancing Saturday at the post home.

This month will launch an observance of "Legionnaire of the Month" by the post. Paul Gill, baseball chairman, reported that the post had been eliminated from tournament play.

John Armstrong, a former member of American Legion Post 121 of Chester, was accepted as a transfer member.

The next meeting will be Monday at 8 p.m.

Commuter Thief Indicted For 11 Bank Robberies

PITTSBURGH (AP)— William Zeiler, identified by the FBI as the "Commuter Bandit," has been indicted for 11 robberies attributed to the elusive gunman who terrorized Pittsburgh banks for several years.

Zeiler and another man were indicted together for one bank robbery. A federal grand jury returned the indictments Tuesday.

Zeiler, 52, a North Side grocer, was indicted for 10 robberies committed from April 17, 1963, to May 17, 1967, netting $103,630.

Richard Chiocca, 26, of Pittsburgh was indicted with Zeiler in the Aug. 24, 1964, robbery of the Carrick branch of the Pittsburgh National Bank.

No trial date was set.

Police dubbed the elusive gunman the "Commuter Bandit" because they theorized he lived near the city and held up banks when he became short of cash. The bandit is blamed for taking some $171,000 during a 5½ year period.

Consumpiton of distilled spirits in the United States in 1965 reached a high of 292,987,572 gallons, an average of 1.53 gallons per person.

Cuba And The Revolution

James Reston, writing from Havana, detects a sense of purpose among Cubans. The islanders are working hard to improve their lot and making slow progress.

An inquisitive American cannot help but wonder what the situation would be like in Cuba today if the United States had played its hand differently in the early days of Castro's regime.

Would a program of cooperation and negotiation have prevented takeover of American holdings in Cuba, prevented the quick acceptance of Communism, helped the average Cuban citizen and avoided today's tense relationship?

When Castro visited the United States in April 1959, he minced no words about what he had in mind. He said he had no intention of abrogating the agreement under which the United States maintained Guantanamo Naval Base, did not plan to confiscate investments by foreigners, sought additional foreign investments and did not want U.S. aid alone but would welcome more trade.

Castro, a revolutionary, had stirred deep animosity in the wrong places in the United States. He didn't get far in his search for support.

The policy was rigid. When Vice President Richard M. Nixon conducted his incident-marred trip to Latin America in 1958, he suggested it was time for a change in American foreign policy that gave too much support to dictators and turned a deaf ear to workers, labor leaders and students.

This statement was made at a time when three Latin dictators were in power. Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, Gen. Fulgencio Batista of Cuba and Gen. Alfredo Stroessner of Paraguay.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles turned aside Nixon's plea for a higher priority to relations with Latin America and a cooling off of relations with dictators. Policy remained the same.

After his visit to America, Castro proposed an ambitious U.S. aid program for Latin America that received a cool reception.

With nationalization of foreign business and seizure of land owned by foreign investors leading the way, Castro continued to alienate the United States.

In years to follow came a complete break in relations, the Bay of Pigs, Communist influence, the Soviet-U.S. confrontation over Cuban missiles and trouble over Guantanamo.

Years from now, when historians record the cause-and-effect aspect of this period, they will be able to make accurate judgments.

Right now the record indicates a different tack might have brought more satisfactory results.

Sen. Kline

Pennsylvania State Sen. Ernest Kline of Beaver Falls, well-known to Midland area residents not only as a capable legislator but as a former radio figure and friendly visitor to the community has achieved new status on the state scene with his election by Democrats as the minority floor leader.

Sen. Kline, 38, the father of seven, succeeds the late Sen. John Devlin of Pittsburgh, a popular young party leader who succumbed to cancer last month.

Mr. Kline's elevation to the new position is recognition by fellow Democrats of his abilities and of his potential as a figure of promise on the political front.

Depending upon his proven skills, the vagaries of intra-party power plays and the uncertainties of the electoral processes, Mr. Kline's stature, which already casts a stately shadow from Beaver Falls to Harrisburg, could be significantly larger in the years to come in the Keystone State.

If Anyone Wants To Know

President Johnson and Michigan Gov. Romney both blew their cool when insurrection in Detroit got out of hand.

They weren't alone in this.

No one can remain poised and calm when mobs are running amuck in the streets of a major city.

Gov. Romney asked for federal troops.

President Johnson sent them, and in due time their presence, added to that of Detroit police and Michigan National Guardsmen, caused the rioters to simmer down.

Then the politicking began.

Politicians began to writhe and wriggle for political advantage.

They assumed that the poor dumb people would want to blame someone, so be sure to blame the other fellow.

They seized on innuendoes and inferences. They hinted that the other fellow was a scoundrel; that if he had been less than a scoundrel things would have turned out better.

The American people have had it up to here with this political horseplay.

Everybody concerned did the best he could, and it should be allowed to rest right there.

President Johnson did not mean to hurt Gov. Romney's feelings when he referred to him in a White House statement about the trouble in Michigan.

We do not believe Gov. Romney was justified in taking umbrage about a remark that he could have let pass.

Republicans in Washington who tried to make political capital of the Michigan situation pulled a stupid stunt.

All politicians who try to make hay out of insurrection are out of step and out of tune.

Insurrection in this nation's cities is not a problem for one political faction or another. It is a problem for all of us, whatever name we give to our political affiliation.

The problem will be compounded dangerously if all that politicians ever think about when trouble is recrimination at each other.

This is not a squabble in a precinct, gentlemen.

This is a challenge to the Republic — a challenge to statesmen, not politicos.

Please grow up to the enormity of the danger that lurks in civil insurrection—so ridiculously easy to start, so deadly hard to stop.

Holidays Are Happy Days

Congress looks as if it is getting ready to render a decision on making most national holidays fall on Monday.

Affirmative action on the proposal would give citizens six short work breaks scattered through the year, with Christmas and New Year's still rotating on days of the week.

On a whole, workers are in favor of the proposed changes for Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day and Veterans' Day. Labor Day already falls on Monday.

There is reported enthusiasm for the move within business circles, where management feels it could smooth out disrupted production schedules and cut down on absenteeism when workers take extra time off for midweek holidays.

The big objection is being voiced by traditionalists. They are people who either believe the celebrated event took place on the day set aside to commemorate it, or who cling to the idea that holidays should continue to be observed on the same day because it has been done that way in the past.

Public hearings are scheduled later this month by a House Judiciary subcommittee. Representatives of all factions will get a chance to speak their piece.

The position of the traditionalists will be difficult to defend.

Labor Demands May Be Cut

WASHINGTON — Having made politics the art of the impossible, President Johnson now is straining his luck. He and a small band of intimate advisers, working between riots, have decided to urge "restraint" upon the nation's labor leaders and advise them not to seek wage hikes in 1968 as hefty as those which have been won this year.

Victor Riesel

Bluntly, the President will ask them to cut their demands.

Bluntly, on Jan. 20, 1968, his Council of Economic Advisers, with his most ecumenical blessing, will counsel the labor chiefs to cut back and ask for at least 15 per cent less next year than unions fought for and have won this year.

The Council will argue that it has taken the "heat" out of the price rate escalation and therefore the cost of living will go up more slowly in '68.

Bluntly, with the President backing them up, the advisers will say that there still are wage-price guidelines and that the 5 to 6.5 per cent wage increase of 1967 just will have to be cut back to about 5 per cent.

Bluntly, a truly highly placed AFL-CIO spokesman said the other day, "We will tell him (the President) and them (the Council) that if they restrain wages, they will also have to restrain profits, prices, rents and the salaries of corporation executives.

"If the government wants to keep its guidepost," said the labor official, "it can, but that's their business and their guidelines, not ours."

Thus the President and his closest allies are on a collision course — a sort of unrestrained roulette.

And they may crash head on long before '68, the presidential election year.

FEW OF THE CITIZENRY realize this because few heed the storm signals of labor relations until the cries come. So, few realize that, in addition to Walter Reuther's marathon dialogue with the car companies, there's another labor crisis in the country's near future.

Contracts between the can (container) industry and the United Steelworkers of America (AFL-CIO) expire next Oct. 1. Those negotiations, in the past, have set some interesting patterns. During previous can negotiations the powerful steel union, led by the terse, self-effacing "Abe" Abel, has won heavy wage increases unprecedented extended (three months every five years) vacations, and guaranteed minimum pay.

This year, these dealings come after "Reuther." Thus the steel union will use the auto settlement as a base — to ask and get more or strike.

But this is only prelude. The can contracts will set the pattern for the Big Steel negotiations which begin next Spring. Contracts covering 500,000 workers in the massive basic steel industry expire on August 1, 1968 — just three months before the Presidential election day.

It will not be a happy moment for President Johnson. Those close to Abel say, "It will take a big chunk of money to settle with basic steel without a strike."

The political and statistical arithmetic add up. Abel recently succeeded Reuther as chairman of the AFL-CIO national Economic Policy Committee. Reuther has been stinging labor's high command with charges that they have an ox-cart mentality in a jet age. So it is not likely that Abel will be insensitive to Reuther's darts and ease off when Mr. Johnson calls for "restraint."

Furthermore, the steel union has about gotten all the fringe benefits its rank and file want for a while. Now they—and that includes about 300,000 workers under 29 years of age—want money, lots of it.

ABEL WILL TRY to deliver. Recently he has revitalized his own capital headquarters here to fight for economic issues, lobby for legislation and accelerate political action. His union is a power in the Midwest.

But President Johnson and his Council are set to demand massive restaint. The President is saying that he can't hike the tax on corporations if the unions persist in hiking their wage demands.

The reasoning of the Council of Economic Advisers, which will be found in its Jan. 20, 1968, report, in effect will be:

In Jan. 1967 the productivity increase rate was 3.2 per cent. Prices increased about 3.5 per cent. Thus the total increase in wages could have been justified at the 6.5 per cent rate of increased wages. But in 1968, productivity will remain the same and prices will go up about 2.5 per cent. So the rise in wages should be little more than 5 per cent — or about $5 a week on the hundred.

The labor leaders will say that's as old as a crew cut hairdo. They will demand 7 and 8 per cent.

Just remember this a year from now when Congress gathers to stop the steel strike as it did the rail walkout. That collision, however, will be noisier. There will be fewer days till election.

Pro And Con

WASHINGTON

Michigan Gov. George Romney's complaint this week — "I think the President of the United States played politics in a period of tragedy and riot" — was not the first time he had accused President Johnson of playing politics with a critical situation.

Last February Romney, who is expected to try for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968, found a lot of fault with the way Johnson was handling the Vietnamese war. He said some of the administration's decisions were made on a basis of political expediency.

But when reporters asked if he would cite an example, he replied: "No, I will not." A reporter asked: "Why?" And Romney replied: "Because I choose not to."

In the case of the Detroit riots last week Romney made a major point of the time it took to get the Johnson administration to put U.S. troops into the riot area after Romney asked for them.

He said about 24 hours elapsed between the time he first called Atty. Gen Ramsey Clark about his problem and the time the troops reached the riot zone. In effect, he said some lives might have been saved if the troops had arrived sooner.

THE ADMINISTRATION position is that Romney consumed a lot of time trying to make up his mind to admit the situation was out of control and to say so in the kind of legal language the administration thought necessary before the troops could be sent.

Asked by a newsman when he first began to feel politics were getting involved. Romney said later: "When the attorney general (the only high Washington official whom Romney telephoned) began to insist on certification (one of the legal words involved) that we had an insurrection (another legal word) that was out of control and he didn't seem particularly impressed with the fact we needed troops to keep the situation from getting out of control."

One of the mysteries of this whole episode is why Romney never called Johnson personally if he felt Clark was failing to respond quickly enough.

But it was ironic the Michigan governor had to ask the federal government to step in and bail him out at the worst moment of his three terms in office.

Romney's speeches on national political problems so far have been usually vague, platitudinous, moralistic or limited in range, but he has made a lot of them as he traveled the country to sound out his chances for 1968.

ONE OF his favorite themes is that the state should exhibit more self - reliance less dependence on the federal government. He has pictured Washington as forever trying to do what he thinks the states should be doing for themselves.

For example: In Des Moines last March 19 Romney said this country today faces a problem just the opposite of what it had to face in Civil War times when there was too much concentration of power in the individual states. Now, he said, the danger is that the federal government is robbing the people of the will to take care of themselves.

And in Lansing, Mich., last Jan. 18, promising to crack down hard on future racial violence, he said: "We are going to maintain law and order in this state. We are going to take whatever steps are necessary to see that private individuals, whoever they are, do not take the law into their own hands."

He explained how: "We will call on the state police and, if necessary, the National Guard and any other instruments we have to do whatever is necessary to protect people and their property."

Law And Order

President Johnson might well have decided to make six addresses on TV instead of trying to cover all phases of the riot problem that he mentioned briefly in his speech a few nights ago.

There was a need for emphasis primarily on law and order, but the President did not deal with the problem of why incitement to violence has not been punished by law.

The President spoke of "the conditions that breed despair and violence" and mentioned "ignorance, discrimination, slums, poverty, disease, not enough jobs."

But, on the same night he was addressing the nation over radio and TV networks, a well-educated Negro was publicly urging Negroes "to shoot and loot," calling the President "a wild, mad dog, an outlaw from Texas," and declaring that Mr. Johnson had sent "white killers" and federal troops "into Negro communities to kill black people."

Hubert G. (Rap) Brown attended public schools, was graduated from high school then entered Southern University Agricultural and Mechanical College in Louisiana as a sociology major in September 1960.

HE HAD A VERY good scholastic record.

After leaving college, he became a project director of the "civil rights" group known as the Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee for Alabama, where he worked in voter-registration drives and on other "civil rights" programs.

He recently became national chairman of this organization as successor to Stokely Carmichael.

During an address at a rally in an Episcopal Church in Washington, Brown called on his listeners to prepare for the "black revolution," and said:

"Death is no stranger to the black man. So when the rebellion starts, don't be afraid of being killed."

In commenting on the recent killing in Plainfield, N.J., of a white policeman — who was shot, stabbed and beaten to death — Brown said this was a "beautiful" example of black people controlling their community.

These anti-white statements drew standing ovations from the crowd, which interrupted him frequently with appaluse.

Three days before, Brown had addressed a rally at Cambridge, Md., and after an inflammatory speech, fires were started and a riot ensued. Authorities tried to arrest Brown but found he had left town.

He had made similar speeches in other cities. He was finally arrested in Alexandria, Va., and released on bail.

Disturbnces in different parts of the country have followed speeches of this kind by some other "civil rights" leaders. President Johnson tried in his address to separate riots from the civil-rights movement when he said:

"The looting, arson, plunder and pillage which have occurred are not part of a civil-rights protest. There is no American right to loot stores, burn buildings, or fire rifles from the rooftops. That is crime — and crime must be dealt with forcefully, and swiftly, and certainly — under law."

THE PRESIDENT called for a day of prayer, but he might have also pointed out that individuals, white and Negro, have been disregarding the age-old commandments which say:

"Thou shalt not kill. . .thou shalt not steal. . .thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house. . .nor anything that is thy neighbor's."

The big question is why these commandments are being ignored and why it is considered merely an expression of "free speech" for leaders to assemble crowds and exhort them to violence, instead of utilizing the legislative processes of self-government in order to redress injustices.

If individuals are permitted to provoke others into violence, and if the effort to teach the principle of adherence to moral law does not have the support of the government itself — which nowadays even bars prayer in public schools — then the problem of "educating" the populace on the true meaning of "law and order" will be a difficult task.

It will not be fulfilled by one or two exhortations over nationwide television.

Cuba And The Revolution

James Reston, writing from Havana, detects a sense of purpose among Cubans. The islanders are working hard to improve their lot and making slow progress.

An inquisitive American cannot help but wonder what the situation would be like in Cuba today if the United States had played its hand differently in the early days of Castro's regime.

Would a program of cooperation and negotiation have prevented takeover of American holdings in Cuba, prevented the quick acceptance of Communism, helped the average Cuban citizen and avoided today's tense relationship?

When Castro visited the United States in April 1959, he minced no words about what he had in mind. He said he had no intention of abrogating the agreement under which the United States maintained Guantanamo Naval Base, did not plan to confiscate investments by foreigners, sought additional foreign investments and did not want U.S. aid alone but would welcome more trade.

Castro, a revolutionary, had stirred deep animosity in the wrong places in the United States. He didn't get far in his search for support.

The policy was rigid. When Vice President Richard M. Nixon conducted his incident-marred trip to Latin America in 1958, he suggested it was time for a change in American foreign policy that gave too much support to dictators and turned a deaf ear to workers, labor leaders and students.

This statement was made at a time when three Latin dictators were in power, Generalissimo Rafael L. Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, Gen. Fulgencio Batista of Cuba and Gen. Alfredo Stroessner of Paraguay.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles turned aside Nixon's plea for a higher priority to relations with Latin America and a cooling off of relations with dictators. Policy remained the same.

After his visit to America, Castro proposed an ambitious U.S. aid program for Latin America that received a cool reception.

With nationalization of foreign business and seizure of land owned by foreign investors leading the way, Castro continued to alienate the United States.

In years to follow came a complete break in relations, the Bay of Pigs, Communist influence, the Soviet-U.S. confrontation over Cuban missiles and trouble over Guantanamo.

Years from now, when historians record the cause-and-effect aspect of this period, they will be able to make accurate judgments.

Right now the record indicates a different tack might have brought more satisfactory results.

Sen. Kline

Pennsylvania State Sen. Ernest Kline of Beaver Falls, well-known to Midland area residents not only as a capable legislator but as a former radio figure and friendly visitor to the community has achieved new status on the state scene with his election by Democrats as the minority floor leader.

Sen. Kline, 38, the father of seven, succeeds the late Sen. John Devlin of Pittsburgh, a popular young party leader who succumbed to cancer last month.

Mr. Kline's elevation to the new position is recognition by fellow Democrats of his abilities and of his potential as a figure of promise on the political front.

Depending upon his proven skills, the vagaries of intra-party power plays and the uncertainties of the electoral processes, Mr. Kline's stature, which already casts a stately shadow from Beaver Falls to Harrisburg, could be significantly larger in the years to come in the Keystone State.

Thus the total increase in wages could have been justified at the 6.5 per cent rate of increased wages. But in 1968, productivity will remain the same and prices will go up about 2.5 per cent. So the rise in wages should be little more than 5 per cent — or about $5 a week on the hundred.

HE HAD A VERY good scholastic record. After leaving college, he became a project director of the "civil rights" group known as the Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee for Alabama, where he worked in voter-registration drives and on other "civil rights" programs.

He recently became national chairman of this organization as successor to Stokely Carmichael.

During an address at a rally in an Episcopal Church in Washington, Brown called on his listeners to prepare for the "black revolution," and said:

"Death is no stranger to the black man. So when the rebellion starts, don't be afraid of being killed."

In commenting on the recent killing in Plainfield, N.J., of a white policeman — who was shot, stabbed and beaten to death — Brown said this was a "beautiful" example of black people controlling their community.

These anti-white statements drew standing ovations from the crowd, which interrupted him frequently with appaluse.

Three days before, Brown had addressed a rally at Cambridge, Md., and after an inflammatory speech, fires were started and a riot ensued. Authorities tried to arrest Brown but found he had left town.

He had made similar speeches in other cities. He was finally arrested in Alexandria, Va., and released on bail.

Disturbnces in different parts of the country have followed speeches of this kind by some other "civil rights" leaders. President Johnson tried in his address to separate riots from the civil-rights movement when he said:

"The looting, arson, plunder and pillage which have occurred are not part of a civil-rights protest. There is no American right to loot stores, burn buildings, or fire rifles from the rooftops. That is crime — and crime must be dealt with forcefully, and swiftly, and certainly — under law."

THE PRESIDENT called for a day of prayer, but he might have also pointed out that individuals, white and Negro, have been disregarding the age-old commandments which say:

"Thou shalt not kill. . .thou shalt not steal. . .thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house. . .nor anything that is thy neighbor's."

The big question is why these commandments are being ignored and why it is considered merely an expression of "free speech" for leaders to assemble crowds and exhort them to violence, instead of utilizing the legislative processes of self-government in order to redress injustices.

If individuals are permitted to provoke others into violence, and if the effort to teach the principle of adherence to moral law does not have the support of the government itself — which nowadays even bars prayer in public schools — then the problem of "educating" the populace on the true meaning of "law and order" will be a difficult task.

It will not be fulfilled by one or two exhortations over nationwide television.

Curfew Due To Noise

JACKSONBURG, Ohio (AP) —The council of this northern Butler County village has enacted a curfew from 10 p.m. to 6 a. m., banning all gatherings of more than three persons in the streets.

Village Clerk Lee Schooley said the ordinance was passed because noisy groups of youths have been gathering in the streets and disturbing the rest of the 100 or so villagers.

Dog

written to Council at least three times within the last 15 months asking the city to find another site for its pound.

He said in a letter to councilmen in mid - July that the dogs and their cages would be moved bodily out of the brick structure if the city had not vacated the building voluntarily by Aug. 1.

Councilman Harold Maylone, who heads the committee which has been seeking a new pound structure, said that he understood that some of the empty cages had been moved out of the sewage plant as of 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, but that the eight dogs being held there had not been "evicted."

Maylone gave Council a detailed report on the search for a pound that has been going on since May 1966, when the utilities board first asked the city to vacate its garage. He indicated he would favor shifting the pound to the former incinerator furnace building at the foot of Washington St., utilizing either the main floor or the basement area, which still contains a huge unused furnace. Maylone said it might be possible to interest a firm in removing the furnace for the value of the scrap metal it would obtain.

The alternative would be to use the main floor of the structure, which could not be done until the roof was repaired, he said. Maylone pointed out that roofing the building and razing its huge stack has been estimated to cost $5,000.

Councilman Frank P. Duffy criticized the utilities board and Huddlestun for the demand that the city move out of the garage.

"Council runs this city, not the utilities board," he declared. He added he was "not in favor of spending a lot of money" to provide another pound.

Huddlestun told Council in his July letter that the sewage department needs the garage for storage of its own equipment, including a pickup truck, tools and a sewer cleaning machine. Machinery and chemicals stored at the site pose a hazard to visitors who wander onto the property to inquire about dogs, he added.

In addition, the superintendent declared that his staff loses time from its work and is berated by the public over dog problems that it knows nothing about.

Duffy declared if the sewage department needs storage space it could use part of the city-owned street barn in East End —the former Valley Motor transit bus barn. He asserted that the utilities board was created by Council action and could be dissolved in the same fashion.

Mayor George E. Willshaw told Council it might be possible to repair the roof of the building for as little as $1,500 to $2,000. He pointed out that "water and electricity are available there, there is plenty of room for the dogs to exercise and the building is not in an area where yelping dogs would disturb householders."

The discussion ended as President Ernest Lowe appointed Duffy, Mrs. Donna Richards Wilson and Norman Bucher to confer with the utilities board at its meeting Saturday morning at City Hall.

Bruce Keslar, treasurer, reported a profit of over $400 on the annual ice cream and strawberry festival in June.

"Memories of My First County Fair" was used for roll call response. Clifford Shaw reported on the National Grange Lecturers workshop. Participating in the lecturer's program were Mrs. Shaw, stunt; Mrs. Helen Keslar, poem, and Mrs. Zada Crosser, reading.

100 More Candidates May File Within Week

The Columbiana County Election Board's staff estimated today at least 100 more candidates may file before the deadline next Wednesday at 4 p.m., seeking ballot places for nonpartisan elections in townships, school districts and villages under 2,000 population.

Two more candidates were listed today, raising the total to 77. They are Henry H. Taggart of Wellsville RD 1, for trustee of Yellow Creek Township, and Raymond E. Doss Jr. of Columbiana RD 2, for the Board of Education in the Fairfield-Waterford School District.

The board listed 229 candidates prior to the last comparable election in 1965. It recorded 189 for nonpartisan ballot spots in 1963. The small villages affected by the Aug. 9 filing deadline are Rogers, Washingtonville, Hanoverton, New Waterford, Salineville and Summitville.

Jordan, Israel Break Mideast Cease-Fire

The cease-fire between Jordanian and Israeli troops was broken today with gunfire erupting across the Jordan River for the second straight day.

A Jordanian military communique in Amman said the two sides exchanged fire for one hour, broke off for five minutes, then resumed. The shooting was still going on this afternoon, it said.

Legislation was authorized for $150 for removal of an incinerator at the old refuse dump.

Action was not taken on Baldasare's request for $2,000 to buy a combination lime - alum machine.

Council also discussed the upcoming need by the city for new police cruisers.

Councilman James Phillips suggested abandoning the practice of purchasing two each time they are bought to prevent "both of them dying on us at once."

Council will send letters to State Sen. John Longsworth, Rep. Clarence Wetzel and other state officials protesting the sudden draining of Highlandtown Lake, which has sent muddy water into the Wellsville watershed.

Because of the sudden flow, extra chlorine has had to be added to city water, "giving it a horrible taste" and detracting from Wellsville's claim of having "the best water in Ohio," the legislators pointed out.

Council suggested that if the city were informed in advance of any planned changes in the Highlandtown level, chemical treatment could be conducted more realistically and chlorine or carbon might be meted out in lesser amounts, making the water more suitable for drinking.

A letter also will be sent to state officials outlining Wellsville's dilemma in locating sufficient funds to meet the city's requirements under the new law concerning fire and police pension funds.

An agreement will be drawn up between the city and Frank Salonica of Weirton giving the latter rights to strip mine at the city dump in return for his covering of refuse there.

Ordinance 67-14 was placed on first reading vacating a portion of Walden Ave. in the Arcadia Addition. The adjoining property is owned by Sam Maylone.

Resolution 67-4, agreeing to cooperate with the City of East Liverpool in its transportation study, was also placed on first reading.

Approval was given for the cutting of a curb at 625 Wood St. under supervision of the safety director.

Beer Buyer Gets Penalty At Court

LISBON — Scott Clutter, 20, of Irondale, charged with contributing to the delinquency of minor boys by buying beer for them, was sentenced to 60 days in the Columbiana County Jail Tuesday by Judge Louis Tobin in Juvenile Court.

However, the court suspended the sentence on condition Clutter pays a $50 fine, does not associate with anyone under 18 except members of his family, and surrenders his driver's license to the Ohio Highway Patrol for 30 days.

A 17-year-old Wellsville youth in the case was fined $25, placed on a 9 p.m. curfew for four months, ordered not to ride in an autobmile with anyone except his parents, and not to associate with anyone over 18 outside his family.

A Dixonville man Tuesday became the fourth to file for three seats on the East Liverpool Board of Education that will be filled at the Nov. 7 general election.

He is Larry H. Walton of Macrum St., employed the last six years as a salesman at Don Eckert's Camera Mart on Market St.

Married and the father of a daughter, Heather L., 4, Walton is a member of the Board of Directors of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and a past vice president of the organization. A graduate of Wellsville High School, he served in the Army as a platoon sergeant in the Armored Force.

The earlier candidates were: Richard Smith of St. George St., an incumbent seeking a second term; G. Thomas Rodfong of 1416 Pennsylvania Ave., an employe in the labor relations department at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., and Richard Keith Wolf of 920 Peake St., a recorder in the cold strip department at Crucible.

The other incumbents whose terms will run out Dec. 31 are Samuel W. Brown and Jack Woomer. The filing deadline is Aug. 9. The holdover members are Harry McConville and Mrs. Nessie Dunlop. Terms are for four years.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police were looking for Linville Aaron Crawford, 38, today as the result of a brawl in which a man was fatally injured last weekend.

Clark Blasts Gov. Romney Troop Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark says federal troops were ready to be dispatched to riot-torn Detroit last week hours before Michigan Gov. George Romney asked for them.

Clark told a Tuesday news conference Romney did not ask for federal troops to help quell the Detroit riot until nearly 11 a.m. on July 24, about eight hours after the governor had said he requested them.

Outlining events during what Clark called that "tragic morning in American history," the attorney general said the first direct contact he had with Romney was at 2:40 a.m. He said the governor telephoned then and termed the situation in Detroit "very bad."

He said Romney reported 80 untended fires and widespread looting and said he thought he might need about 5,000 Army troops. But Clark said it was only after hours of back-and-forth telephoning between him and Romney that the governor finally sent a 10:46 a.m. telegram requesting the troops.

Romney has said he requested the troops in a telephone call before 3 a.m. He said also Clark told him at first that an oral request would be satisfactory, but later demanded a written request and directed that he specify there was an insurrection in Detroit which he was unable to control.

Romney charged President Johnson with playing politics at the expense of the people of Detroit, and that Clark's demand for a written request was more political than legal.

In announcing he was sending federal troops into Detroit, the President went to some lengths to emphasize he was doing so because of the inability of state and local officials to control the situation. He mentioned that point and Romney's name seven times in his brief statement to a nationwide television audience.

The White House has said it considers the matter closed.

Seal-coating of 134,074 square yards of streets will cost a total of $23,999.24. The city pays the entire cost of the sealing work.

The same appropriation ordinance calls for allocation of $150 for incidental expenses of the new Board of Zoning Appeals; $125 for a $25-a-month car allowance for the zoning inspector, Dee Morrell, and $500 for incidental expenses in the fire department.

Pressmen Get Wage Hike At Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)- Members of the Pressmen's Unin have signed a contract with the Cleveland Plain Dealer and the Cleveland Press that calls for total wage increases of $23.40 a week. The contract, retroactive to Dec. 1, is in force until May 1, 1969.

Latkovic said the union also won an improved bereavement clause, pay for jury duty, six weeks severance pay in case of merger, four weeks vacation after 10 years, increased apprentice pay and additional pay for press operators and assistants.

Store Probes Discovery Of Merchandise

LISBON — A quantity of merchandise — some bearing Hills Department Store tags — was discovered by a motorist Tuesday night on Fairfield Township Rd. 908 about two miles southeast of Columbiana.

Sheriff's deputies, notified by Columbiana police, said the pile of goods included women's purses, shoes, miscellaneous items of clothing and toys.

Hills representatives were to check the material today. Deputies said there were no reports of store burglaries yesterday.

They investigated two burglaries yesterday, however.

Deputies R. E. Wellington and Kent Garvey said someone entered the Kenneth McIntosh residence on Route 267 north of East Liverpool and stole a color television set and a stereo.

The McIntoshes were on vacation and the entry was discovered Tuesday afternoon by a neighbor who stopped daily to check the house. Deputies found drawers ransacked. They said the thief got in by forcing a sliding window. The McIntoshes returned today.

Deputy Howard Gray reported someone pried open a barn-type door at the rear of Jarrett's Feed Mill, East Rochester, Monday night and took four hunting knives, approximately 30 pocket knives, two boxes of shotgun shells and an unknown number of .22 caliber bullets.

Ralph Jarrett, the operator, discovered the burglary at 8 a.m. yesterday.

Ohio River Toured By Chester Kiwanis

Members of the Chester Kiwanis Club toured the Ohio River Tuesday night when program chairman Alvin Fineman took the group on a boat ride.

Piloting his yacht, Fineman began the trip near Kennedy Park and proceeded up river, around Babb's Island and back, following dinner.

Harold Staley and Eugene Boyce will attend a meeting of the Wellsville club Tuesday at noon.

Thomas Ridge will attend the West Virginia Kiwanis conference at Parkersburg.

Members who returned after a lengthy absence were Harold Staley, Pete Arner and Abbie Kell.

upon establishment of alleys in districts dsigned for single family or two-family dwellings. However, in the case of multiple dwelling developments, an alley must have a minimum width of 20 feet.

Alleys are required in the rear of all commercial and industrial lots, if no other provisions are made for adequate service access or for parking. Dead-end alleys are not permitted under the regulations. Alleys serving commercial and industrial lots have a right-of-way of at least 45 feet.

If th subdivided area is not under zoning control and is to be used for residential purposes, the average front building line must be not less than 25 feet from the right-of-way of the street or thoroughfare upon which the lots front.

Restrictions requiring greater setbacks may be established for commercial and industrial uses and for residential uses along major highways at the commission's discretion.

The regulations call upon subdividers to allocate areas for playgrounds, school sites, parks and other outdoor recreational facilities as indicated in the city's comprehensive plan.

The vehicle swerved back across the road and went off the right side, struck the porch at the home owned by Margaret McGoogan of Lisbon RD 1, continued across a drive way into another yard where it came to rest on its side.

The front and side of the auto were demolished, officers said.

Mix faces a charge of reckless operation.

Edgar F. Huston, 16, of Negley RD 1 was uninjured when his motorbike rammed a bridge abutment along Township Rd. 1044 just east of Route 170 Tuesday afternoon at 3:15.

The Patrol said he lost control of the 1966 motorbike on a curve and went off the right side of the board, hitting the abutment.

centers", teacher pay raises averaging $400 a year and establishment of minimum teacher pay schedules, and new programs for educationally and culturally deprived children, driver training, and adult literary programs.

At busy floor sessions indicative Tuesday of a legislature trying to wind up major business, the House and Senate ground out action on several important bills.

The Senate voted to increase unemployment compensation benefits an average of 10.3 per cent and to impose a $500 fine and six months in jail for wilfull interference with police or other authorized persons at the scene of disasters, fires, or other emergencies.

Representatives approved bills establishing a new homicide by vehicle law and extending by an hour the time during which 16 and 17-year-old boys may work.

In other business, the House Government Operations Committee voted 10-6 to recommend passage of a bill permitting Sunday sale of liquor. Three members of the committee were absent.

Under the measure, Sunday sales would be permitted between the hours of 1 p.m. and midnight by holders of a special $2,500 license.

Floor amendments strengthened the homicide vehicle bill which would replace Ohio's traffic manslaughter law. Rep. James Thorpe R-90 Alliance, Stark, sponsored the amendments which require six-months suspension of driver licenses and automatic 30-day jail sentences for certain types of convictions.

A conviction of first-degree homicide by vehicles—when a death results from drunken driving, reckless operation, or drag racing—was punishable in the original bill by a $500 fine or a 30-day to six month jail term. Thorpe's amendment replaced the word "or" with "and" to assure at least a 30-day term.

The second amendment covered convictions for drunken driving, leaving the scene of an accident, fleeing an officer, reckless operation, and similar offenses. It required automatic license suspension of six months compared to a 30-day suspension called for in the House-passed omnibus highway safety bill.

"That's nothing more than a slap on the wrist," said Thorpe.

Another major floor amendment made a substantial change in the bill extending from 6 a. m. to 11 p.m. the hours boys may work on days not preceding a school day. It knocked out language that would have set the same hours for girls.

Sixteen and 17-year-old boys now may work in the hours from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. and girls from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m.

"This is outright discrimination and in violation of the federal Civil Rights Act of 1964," protested Rep. Walter L. White R-6 Allen, the chief sponsor of the bill, about the amendment.

The House completed enactment of three bills. They set procedures for the Highway Department to plan with municipalities construction projects within their boundaries, clarify duties of the Youth Commission and change the name of the chairman to director, and permit sale of $500 demonstrator license plates to truck dealers.

Senators completed enactment of House-passed bills authorizing tax levies for maintenance as well as operation of schools for mentally retarded children and setting heavy penalties for industrial espionage and theft of trade secrets.

A Senate bill authorizing special license plates for fulltime rural mail carriers went to the House on a 29-1 vote with Sen. Robert R. Shaw R-16 Columbus dissenting.

Most senators will get a long weekend. Only a skeleton session of the Senate is scheduled Thursday.

the Beaver County Democrat said.

As for the budget stalemate in the legislature, Kline said "They the Republicans need our help. Something will have to be worked out."

The former Beaver Falls broadcaster said that his caucis would be fair and responsible in its dealings with the majority Senate Republicans, but added, "We will not be timid to state the viewpoint of the Democratic Party."

"I hope we conduct ourselves in such a manner that next session there will be more of us and less of them," Kline added.

There are 20 Democrats in the Senate, 26 Republicans and four vacancies.

Kline was elected to the Senate in 1964 and re-elected in 1966.

Kline represents the 47th Senatorial District which is comprised of Beaver and part of Washington counties.

The Senate convened shortly after the caucus election and Lane announced Kline's selection.

Kline's counterpart, Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup, also offered congratulations.

police officers and a brief alert of the National Guard. The situation in the predominantly Negro South Providence section was brought under control about 2 a.m.

Police said 57 persons—most of them white youths who tried to enter the area of the disturbance—were picked up. Two young Negroes were shot, one seriously.

In Milwaukee sporadic sniper fire swept across a Negro neighborhood for about three hours before National Guardsmen and police were able to control the shooting.

"This is the one thing that damn curfew can't stop," hissed one harrassed guardman as he crouched behind a wall trying to locate a hidden sniper. There were no reports of serious injury.

In Washington Tuesday, as the overnight disturbance cooled down the debate over the cause and cure of rioting heated up.

Hancock

took to the meeting, he said, "We'll put the signs up ourselves; we aren't going to wait for the state."

The women also asked for help in protecting their children who must walk along Washington St., near the site of construction at 6th St.

THE SHERIFF said he will try to send a man to the location during hours when the children will be traveling to and from school and kindergarten classes and pointed out he could place a full-time crossing guard if the county court would allocate $1,000 or allow him to transfer a guard at Pughtown to the Newell spot.

Rodak read a letter from Sawyers in reply to one from a resident of the Middle Run Rd., near Chester, protesting street conditions. Rodak noted the letter was written some time before the women protested and Sawyers was just now getting around to answering it. The letter declared the commission is acting to improve the road conditions of the county. Sawyers' letter also noted many of the streets were not on the SRC's system, but said the department is re-evaluating the program.

Rodak also discussed the situation with the Hancock County commissioners when they met Tuesday afternoon at New Cumberland.

He told of a two-hour meeting he held with road commission officials during his last trip to Charleston and pointed out that when he dropped into the department's offices the staff was poring over petitions, letters and plans sent by county residents protesting road conditions.

Rodak said those with whom he talked promised to see Sawyers and ask him to speed the program and allocate more funds for the Northern Panhandle area.

RODAK TOLD the commissioners he no longer would be involved in meetings with the women following accusations he had entered the dispute with state officials merely for political gain. Rodak said he became involved because he too is a taxpayer, but decided to drop out to avoid any adverse publicity for the campaign.

Rodak told members of the court that Paul Crabtree, assistant to Gov. Hulett C. Smith, notified him the governor would try to assist, although nothing specific was promised.

Rodak said the $40,000 appropriated for the local SRC district each year is only for road repair and any new street surfacing programs must be allocated beyond that appropriation.

The Hancock commissioners agreed to allocate $60 from the contingency fund to pay for the two-dozen signs Rodak purchased for the protection of a play area in Newell.

COMMISSION President Jack Evans said there will be no meeting scheduled with those having protests about roads, since many of the persons indicated they would not wish to meet with anyone except Sawyers. Evans cited an article appearing yesterday to the effect Sawyers saw no reason for attending a meeting in Hancock as sufficient excuse to call off any further proposed meetings.

He criticized Sawyers for not having notified the commissioners after they sent a formal request for a meeting. Evans said he believed it was a shame the only way the body received notification was through the newspaper.

Rodak met with the Grant St. women nearly two hours and spoke with commissioners about 45 minutes concerning the road conditions.

The women have scheduled a meeting Monday night to discuss with "prominent people," county officials and others interested the situation as it exists.

centers", teacher pay raises averaging $400 a year and establishment of minimum teacher pay schedules, and new programs for educationally and culturally deprived children, driver training, and adult literary programs.

At busy floor sessions indicative Tuesday of a legislature trying to wind up major business, the House and Senate ground out action on several important bills.

The Senate voted to increase unemployment compensation benefits an average of 10.3 per cent and to impose a $500 fine and six months in jail for willfull interference with police or other authorized persons at the scene of disasters, fires, or other emergencies.

Representatives approved bills establishing a new homicide by vehicle law and extending by an hour the time during which 16 and 17-year-old boys may work.

In other business, the House Government Operations Committee voted 10-6 to recommend passage of a bill permitting Sunday sale of liquor. Three members of the committee were absent.

Under the measure, Sunday sales would be permitted between the hours of 1 p.m. and midnight by holders of a special $2,500 license.

Floor amendments strengthened the homicide vehicle bill which would replace Ohio's traffic manslaughter law. Rep. James Thorpe R-90 Alliance, Stark, sponsored the amendments which require six-months suspension of driver licenses and automatic 30-day jail sentences for certain types of convictions.

A conviction of first-degree homicide by vehicles—when a death results from drunken driving, reckless operation, or drag racing—was punishable in the original bill by a $500 fine or a 30-day to six month jail term. Thorpe's amendment replaced the word "or" with "and" to assure at least a 30-day term.

The second amendment covered convictions for drunken driving, leaving the scene of an accident, fleeing an officer, reckless operation, and similar offenses. It required automatic license suspension of six months compared to a 30-day suspension called for in the House-passed omnibus highway safety bill.

"That's nothing more than a slap on the wrist," said Thorpe.

Another major floor amendment made a substantial change in the bill extending from 6 a. m. to 11 p.m. the hours boys may work on days not preceding a school day. It knocked out language that would have set the same hours for girls.

Sixteen and 17-year-old boys now may work in the hours from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. and girls from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m.

"This is outright discrimination and in violation of the federal Civil Rights Act of 1964," protested Rep. Walter L. White R-6 Allen, the chief sponsor of the bill, about the amendment.

The House completed enactment of three bills. They set procedures for the Highway Department to plan with municipalities construction projects within their boundaries, clarify duties of the Youth Commission and change the name of the chairman to director, and permit sale of $500 demonstrator license plates to truck dealers.

Senators completed enactment of House-passed bills authorizing tax levies for maintenance as well as operation of schools for mentally retarded children and setting heavy penalties for industrial espionage and theft of trade secrets.

A Senate bill authorizing special license plates for fulltime rural mail carriers went to the House on a 29-1 vote with Sen. Robert R. Shaw R-16 Columbus dissenting.

Most senators will get a long weekend. Only a skeleton session of the Senate is scheduled Thursday.

Kline

the Beaver County Democrat said.

As for the budget stalemate in the legislature, Kline said "They the Republicans need our help. Something will have to be worked out."

The former Beaver Falls broadcaster said that his caucis would be fair and responsible in its dealings with the majority Senate Republicans, but added, "We will not be timid to state the viewpoint of the Democratic Party."

"I hope we conduct ourselves in such a manner that next session there will be more of us and less of them," Kline added.

There are 20 Democrats in the Senate, 26 Republicans and four vacancies.

Kline was elected to the Senate in 1964 and re-elected in 1966.

Kline represents the 47th Senatorial District which is comprised of Beaver and part of Washington counties.

The Senate convened shortly after the caucus election and Lane announced Kline's selection.

Kline's counterpart, Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup, also offered congratulations.

police officers and a brief alert of the National Guard. The situation in the predominantly Negro South Providence section was brought under control about 2 a.m.

Police said 57 persons—most of them white youths who tried to enter the area of the disturbance—were picked up. Two young Negroes were shot, one seriously.

In Milwaukee sporadic sniper fire swept across a Negro neighborhood for about three hours before National Guardsmen and police were able to control the shooting.

"This is the one thing that damn curfew can't stop," hissed one harrassed guardman as he crouched behind a wall trying to locate a hidden sniper. There were no reports of serious injury.

In Washington Tuesday, as the overnight disturbance cooled down the debate over the cause and cure of rioting heated up.

Hancock

took to the meeting, he said, "We'll put the signs up ourselves; we aren't going to wait for the state."

The women also asked for help in protecting their children who must walk along Washington St., near the site of construction at 6th St.

THE SHERIFF said he will try to send a man to the location during hours when the children will be traveling to and from school and kindergarten classes and pointed out he could place a full-time crossing guard if the county court would allocate $1,000 or allow him to transfer a guard at Pughtown to the Newell spot.

Rodak read a letter from Sawyers in reply to one from a resident of the Middle Run Rd., near Chester, protesting street conditions. Rodak noted the letter was written some time before the women protested and Sawyers was just now getting around to answering it. The letter declared the commission is acting to improve the road conditions of the county. Sawyers' letter also noted many of the streets were not on the SRC's system, but said the department is re-evaluating the program.

Rodak also discussed the situation with the Hancock County commissioners when they met Tuesday afternoon at New Cumberland.

He told of a two-hour meeting he held with road commission officials during his last trip to Charleston and pointed out that when he dropped into the department's offices the staff was poring over petitions, letters and plans sent by county residents protesting road conditions.

Rodak said those with whom he talked promised to see Sawyers and ask him to speed the program and allocate more funds for the Northern Panhandle area.

RODAK TOLD the commissioners he no longer would be involved in meetings with the women following accusations he had entered the dispute with state officials merely for political gain. Biblical River Jordan Is Smugglers' Stream

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The Biblical River Jordan has become a smugglers' stream for Arab people and produce moving clandestinely in and out of Israeli-occupied territory.

The crossings begin after nightfall when the searing heat of the Jordan Valley subsides and the west bank of the river is curfewed by Israeli army patrols.

Shopkeepers in Amman report that Arab truck drivers pay Israeli soldiers on the west bank 10 dinars—$28—per truck to look the other way while they drive loads of fruit and vegetables across shallow fords in the river for the market in Amman. They pay again when they cross back into occupied territory for another load.

Arab refugees who fled from their homes on the west bank and are now crowded into desert camps around Amman report that many of their friends are crossing back to their homes by night. They pay Arab Palestinians five dinars—$14—per refuge to show them the river crossings and escort them past Israeli patrols.

The slow-flowing green waters of the Jordan are only five yards wide in places. The river is easy to cross and bushes or orchards lining the banks in places provide good cover.

At least five Jordanians have been killed by Israeli troops in the secret nighttime crossings, Jordanian security officials report.

There is no way of estimating the number of trucks or people slipping across the river, but one Western official connected with the refugee camps said: "The traffic seems to be brisk and the Israeli soldiers must be making a lot of money."

"Hundreds of us are going back every night," said one refuge on the river bank. But some officials estimate only a few dozen cross each night.

Seven weeks after the end of the war, refugees are still fleeing the occupied zone with Israeli permission, crossing in daylight over the Allenby bridge and the northern bridges at Damia.

Latest statistics show 64,500 refugees packed into camps around Amman, 45,000 of them in tent cities run by the United Nations Relief and Works Agency. The total number of refugees who fled to Jordan is estimated at 200,000.

Israel has announced it will let refugees return home starting Aug. 10. But the repatriation is deadlocked by Jordan's refusal to use repatriation forms headed "State of Israel" and Israel's refusal to use Red Cross forms.

Your Pocketbook May Feel Impact Of Freight Rate Hike

NEW YORK (AP) — Your pocketbook eventually may feel the impact of the $300-million annual freight rate increase won by the nation's railroads Tuesday.

Groceries, cars and paper products may inch upward in price when the new Interstate Commerce Commission rates become effective.

"The ultimate consumer will feel the squeeze of these increased costs," said one Wall Street analyst.

The increase was the railroads' first general rate hike in seven years and came despite administration pleas that such raises be considered "in the light of the national interest in promoting price stability."

The American Paper Institute, representing the paper and wood pulp industry, estimated the new rates would cost its members about $22 million annually.

Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. said the rates would add about $1 million annually to its $50-million railroad freight bill.

"Rarely are costs of this type absorbed," said an Olin spokesman.

C. F. Fisher, transportation director for the Great Northern Paper Co., said "ultimately they (the increases) have to show up somewhere.

The housewife in the supermarket may feel the pinch also. The new rates "cannot help but have an effect on food prices in the long run," said George W. Koch, presidest of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, representing 300 food processors.

"Eventually, they will have to be passed on," said the American Institute of Food distribution.

One Wall Streeter close to the industry guessed that when the prices of 1968 model cars are announced, some of the rate increase will be reflected.

In Detroit, the Big 3 automakers declined comment. But more than 50 per cent of General Motor products move by rail.

Pearson Declares De Gaulle Proposal Still 'Unacceptable'

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Lester Pearson, in a terse reply to French President Charles de Gaulle's second call for the liberation of French-speaking Canada, says outside intervention in Canadian affairs is still "unacceptable."

"The government of Canada has noted the statement by the president of the French republic regarding his recent visit to Canada," Pearson's statement Tuesday night said in reference to a communique issued by De Gaulle Monday.

"It has already made its position clear on the unacceptability of any outside interference in Canadian affairs and has nothing to add in the present circumstances."

After a Cabinet meeting Monday De Gaulle issued a statement saying that during his tour of Quebec last week he observed the French Canadians' will "to be masters of themselves in all respects, and especially to become masters of their own progress."

France, said De Gaulle, means to aid the French Canadians "to reach their objectives of liberations which they themselves have fixed."

Pearson last week pinned the "unacceptable" tag on De Gaulle's trumpeting in a Montreal speech of "long live free Quebec," the rallying cry of the French Canadian minority which wants to separate Quebec from the English-speaking provinces of Canada. Angered by Pearson's statement, De Gaulle cancelled a visit to Ottawa and returned home.

"It is hoped by the Canadian government that this whole silly situation will boil down," said a source close to Pearson.

Politically the separatists, a noisy minority of Quebec's 5.7 million residents, have made little headway.

The expression, "taken down a peg" to mean deflated in ego, comes from the British navy. The flag was raised or lowered according to the prominence of visitors. The line was fastened by pegs, giving rise to the expression.

Biblical River Jordan Is Smugglers' Stream

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The Biblical River Jordan has become a smugglers' stream for Arab people and produce moving clandestinely in and out of Israeli-occupied territory.

The crossings begin after nightfall when the searing heat of the Jordan Valley subsides and the west bank of the river is curfewed by Israeli army patrols.

Shopkeepers in Amman report that Arab truck drivers pay Israeli soldiers on the west bank 10 dinars—$28—per truck to look the other way while they drive loads of fruit and vegetables across shallow fords in the river for the market in Amman. They pay again when they cross back into occupied territory for another load.

Arab refugees who fled from their homes on the west bank and are now crowded into desert camps around Amman report that many of their friends are crossing back to their homes by night. They pay Arab Palestinians five dinars—$14—per refuge to show them the river crossings and escort them past Israeli patrols.

The slow-flowing green waters of the Jordan are only five yards wide in places. The river is easy to cross and bushes or orchards lining the banks in places provide good cover.

At least five Jordanians have been killed by Israeli troops in the secret nighttime crossings, Jordanian security officials report.

There is no way of estimating the number of trucks or people slipping across the river, but one Western official connected with the refugee camps said: "The traffic seems to be brisk and the Israeli soldiers must be making a lot of money."

"Hundreds of us are going back every night," said one refuge on the river bank. But some officials estimate only a few dozen cross each night.

Seven weeks after the end of the war, refugees are still fleeing the occupied zone with Israeli permission, crossing in daylight over the Allenby bridge and the northern bridges at Damia.

Latest statistics show 64,500 refugees packed into camps around Amman, 45,000 of them in tent cities run by the United Nations Relief and Works Agency. The total number of refugees who fled to Jordan is estimated at 200,000.

Israel has announced it will let refugees return home starting Aug. 10. But the repatriation is deadlocked by Jordan's refusal to use repatriation forms headed "State of Israel" and Israel's refusal to use Red Cross forms.

Your Pocketbook May Feel Impact Of Freight Rate Hike

NEW YORK (AP) — Your pocketbook eventually may feel the impact of the $300-million annual freight rate increase won by the nation's railroads Tuesday.

Groceries, cars and paper products may inch upward in price when the new Interstate Commerce Commission rates become effective.

"The ultimate consumer will feel the squeeze of these increased costs," said one Wall Street analyst.

The increase was the railroads' first general rate hike in seven years and came despite administration pleas that such raises be considered "in the light of the national interest in promoting price stability."

The American Paper Institute, representing the paper and wood pulp industry, estimated the new rates would cost its members about $22 million annually.

Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. said the rates would add about $1 million annually to its $50-million railroad freight bill.

"Rarely are costs of this type absorbed," said an Olin spokesman.

C. F. Fisher, transportation director for the Great Northern Paper Co., said "ultimately they (the increases) have to show up somewhere."

The housewife in the supermarket may feel the pinch also. The new rates "cannot help but have an effect on food prices in the long run," said George W. Koch, presidest of the Grocery Manufacturers of America, representing 300 food processors.

"Eventually, they will have to be passed on," said the American Institute of Food distribution.

One Wall Streeter close to the industry guessed that when the prices of 1968 model cars are announced, some of the rate increase will be reflected.

In Detroit, the Big 3 automakers declined comment. But more than 50 per cent of General Motor products move by rail.

Pearson Declares De Gaulle Proposal Still 'Unacceptable'

OTTAWA (AP) — Prime Minister Lester Pearson, in a terse reply to French President Charles de Gaulle's second call for the liberation of French-speaking Canada, says outside intervention in Canadian affairs is still "unacceptable."

"The government of Canada has noted the statement by the president of the French republic regarding his recent visit to Canada," Pearson's statement Tuesday night said in reference to a communique issued by De Gaulle Monday.

"It has already made its position clear on the unacceptability of any outside interference in Canadian affairs and has nothing to add in the present circumstances."

After a Cabinet meeting Monday De Gaulle issued a statement saying that during his tour of Quebec last week he observed the French Canadians' will "to be masters of themselves in all respects, and especially to become masters of their own progress."

France, said De Gaulle, means to aid the French Canadians "to reach their objectives of liberations which they themselves have fixed."

Pearson last week pinned the "unacceptable" tag on De Gaulle's trumpeting in a Montreal speech of "long live free Quebec," the rallying cry of the French Canadian minority which wants to separate Quebec from the English-speaking provinces of Canada. Angered by Pearson's statement, De Gaulle cancelled a visit to Ottawa and returned home.

"It is hoped by the Canadian government that this whole silly situation will boil down," said a source close to Pearson.

Politically the separatists, a noisy minority of Quebec's 5.7 million residents, have made little headway.

The expression, "taken down a peg" to mean deflated in ego, comes from the British navy. The flag was raised or lowered according to the prominence of visitors. The line was fastened by pegs, giving rise to the expression.

Officers Pick Up Michigan Youth

LISBON — A 16-year-old youth from Kalamazoo was released to Michigan authorities Tuesday evening at the County Jail here.

He and another youth, 16, from Media, Pa., and two Kalamazoo girls, 13 and 14, were taken into custody northeast of Lisbon July 24 in a stolen car.

The Media youth is still in detention awaiting FBI consideration of his case, according to James Miller, Juvenile Court probation officer.

Parents of the Michigan girls took them home July 25.

The youths, pursued by the Ohio Highway Patrol, spun into a cornfield on Route 517. Miller said he was advised the Michigan boy is an escapee from a state institution.

Youth, 17, Penalized In Link To Car Theft

LISBON—Two companions of a 17 - year - old Salem boy sentenced July 17 to three months in detention for stealing a car from the Salem A.&P. parking lot appeared for hearings Tuesday in Juvenile Court.

A Kensington youth, 17, denied a charge he stole the same car from the lot a couple of days later. He said he did not know the car had been stolen by the Salem youth and that as soon as he realized it he took it back to the lot and notified police where it was.

The court ordered him not to ride with anyone except his parents for 60 days, not to apply for a driver's license for 60 days and to avoid the Salem youth and his family for one year.

A hearing for a Hanoverton boy, 17, involved in the same affair, was continued until Sept. 5.

Brief Work Stoppage Takes Place At Airco

A jurisdictional dispute between two unions constructing the new industrial gases plant at the Air Reduction Co.'s site in Arroyo resulted in a brief work stoppage Tuesday afternoon.

John Day, manager of the gas plant, said the men "got sick" about 2 p. m. and work stopped for the remainder of the day.

However, he added, the men are back on the job today, with business agents endeavoring to settle the dispute.

Plan Outlined At Wellsville For Museum

Wellsville Council Tuesday night put its stamp of approval on a plan by the Historical Society to extend Boyce Ave. and thereby prevent the River Museum from being left inaccessible, although untouched, by the proposed relocation of Route 7.

Acting on a letter from Edward Pugh and a personal visit by James Salsgiver, the lawmakers went on record favoring an extension of Boyce Ave. once work begins on the new road.

Present plans indicate the River Museum will not be taken with the right-of-way, but that no thoroughfare will skirt the building.

The Carnegie Library Board, owners of the museum, earlier had asked the state to take the museum, but pressure by the society and other historical "buffs" apparently convinced engineers the site could stand, although figuratively "high and dry."

The society's plans call for a road branching from Boyce Ave. through property owned by Myron Weis.

Councilmen indicated they feel the plan is feasible.

Pugh's letter stated that in any event it was hoped the museum will continue and went on to foresee the possibility of tourists leaving the new highway at 3rd St. and making their way south through the city to visit the museum.

Youth Bound Over For East End Robbery

David Leroy Roberts, 19, of Drain St. pleaded not guilty, waived a preliminary hearing and was bound over to the Grand Jury today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff in connection with an $80 armed robbery July 26 at Berlie's Dinner on Mulberry St., East End.

Judge Chertoff continued Roberts' $5,000 appearance bond. The defendant was represented by William S. Foulks. Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. signed the affidavit accusing Roberts of the stickup.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan said today at Lisbon he will file with Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis the particulars on another robbery in which Roberts allegedly was involved—a $160 stickup July 24 at Adrian's Catering Service on St. Clair Ave. Ext. The prosecutor will present the case to the Grand Jury, he explained.

Fire Department Picks President

One Lawrenceville man was reinstated and another installed as a new member during a meeting of the fire department Tuesday night.

Edward Oliver, president, resigned his post and Ben Dudgeon was moved up from vice president to fill the position. Okey Leaisure was appointed vice president.

Joe Bennett was reinstated and Hubert (Bud) Powers of Taylor's Bend was appointed to the department on six months probation.

A wiener roast will be held at Rock Springs Park Aug. 13. All rides for children will be donated by Robert Hand, the park's owner.

It's Home, Judge Says After Jailing Woman

"You may as well change your mailing address to the County Jail, because it has been your home for most of 1967," Judge Samuel M. Chertoff commented today in Municipal Court as he imposed fines that will keep a Beaver County woman behind bars for 55 more days.

Mrs. Alice Doyle of Blackhawk was fined $100 and costs on an intoxication charge and $50 and costs on a charge of possessing an open container of alcoholic beverage in a public place. She was arrested at 1:27 this morning on the Diamond by Patrolman James Buckley.

Examining her court record, the judge said Mrs. Doyle has served 125 days behind bars in the 214 days of 1967 to date, mostly on intoxication charges.

QUESTION — "Will our government ever consider operating socialized funeral homes?"

ANSWER — Several attempts have been made to introduce such legislation, but congressmen quickly agreed that American funeral customs were entirely too personal to successfully be conducted by politically controlled funeral directors, who would have no personal interest in the families served.

Americans strongly resist giving up their personal freedom of choice.

Officers Pick Up Michigan Youth

LISBON — A 16-year-old youth from Kalamazoo was released to Michigan authorities Tuesday evening at the County Jail here.

He and another youth, 16, from Media, Pa., and two Kalamazoo girls, 13 and 14, were taken into custody northeast of Lisbon July 24 in a stolen car.

The Media youth is still in detention awaiting FBI consideration of his case, according to James Miller, Juvenile Court probation officer.

Parents of the Michigan girls took them home July 25.

The youths, pursued by the Ohio Highway Patrol, spun into a cornfield on Route 517. Miller said he was advised the Michigan boy is an escapee from a state institution.

Youth, 17, Penalized In Link To Car Theft

LISBON—Two companions of a 17 - year - old Salem boy sentenced July 17 to three months in detention for stealing a car from the Salem A.&P. parking lot appeared for hearings Tuesday in Juvenile Court.

A Kensington youth, 17, denied a charge he stole the same car from the lot a couple of days later. He said he did not know the car had been stolen by the Salem youth and that as soon as he realized it he took it back to the lot and notified police where it was.

The court ordered him not to ride with anyone except his parents for 60 days, not to apply for a driver's license for 60 days and to avoid the Salem youth and his family for one year.

A hearing for a Hanoverton boy, 17, involved in the same affair, was continued until Sept. 5.

Brief Work Stoppage Takes Place At Airco

A jurisdictional dispute between two unions constructing the new industrial gases plant at the Air Reduction Co.'s site in Arroyo resulted in a brief work stoppage Tuesday afternoon.

John Day, manager of the gas plant, said the men "got sick" about 2 p. m. and work stopped for the remainder of the day.

However, he added, the men are back on the job today, with business agents endeavoring to settle the dispute.

Plan Outlined At Wellsville For Museum

Wellsville Council Tuesday night put its stamp of approval on a plan by the Historical Society to extend Boyce Ave. and thereby prevent the River Museum from being left inaccessible, although untouched, by the proposed relocation of Route 7.

Acting on a letter from Edward Pugh and a personal visit by James Salsgiver, the lawmakers went on record favoring an extension of Boyce Ave. once work begins on the new road.

Present plans indicate the River Museum will not be taken with the right-of-way, but that no thoroughfare will skirt the building.

The Carnegie Library Board, owners of the museum, earlier had asked the state to take the museum, but pressure by the society and other historical "buffs" apparently convinced engineers the site could stand, although figuratively "high and dry."

The society's plans call for a road branching from Boyce Ave. through property owned by Myron Weis.

Councilmen indicated they feel the plan is feasible.

Pugh's letter stated that in any event it was hoped the museum will continue and went on to foresee the possibility of tourists leaving the new highway at 3rd St. and making their way south through the city to visit the museum.

Youth Bound Over For East End Robbery

David Leroy Roberts, 19, of Drain St. pleaded not guilty, waived a preliminary hearing and was bound over to the Grand Jury today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff in connection with an $80 armed robbery July 26 at Berlie's Dinner on Mulberry St., East End.

Judge Chertoff continued Roberts' $5,000 appearance bond. The defendant was represented by William S. Foulks. Lt. Paul A. Burson Jr. signed the affidavit accusing Roberts of the stickup.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan said today at Lisbon he will file with Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis the particulars on another robbery in which Roberts allegedly was involved—a $160 stickup July 24 at Adrian's Catering Service on St. Clair Ave. Ext. The prosecutor will present the case to the Grand Jury, he explained.

Fire Department Picks President

One Lawrenceville man was reinstated and another installed as a new member during a meeting of the fire department Tuesday night.

Edward Oliver, president, resigned his post and Ben Dudgeon was moved up from vice president to fill the position. Okey Leaisure was appointed vice president.

Joe Bennett was reinstated and Hubert (Bud) Powers of Taylor's Bend was appointed to the department on six months probation.

A wiener roast will be held at Rock Springs Park Aug. 13. All rides for children will be donated by Robert Hand, the park's owner.

It's Home, Judge Says After Jailing Woman

"You may as well change your mailing address to the County Jail, because it has been your home for most of 1967," Judge Samuel M. Chertoff commented today in Municipal Court as he imposed fines that will keep a Beaver County woman behind bars for 55 more days.

Mrs. Alice Doyle of Blackhawk was fined $100 and costs on an intoxication charge and $50 and costs on a charge of possessing an open container of alcoholic beverage in a public place. She was arrested at 1:27 this morning on the Diamond by Patrolman James Buckley.

Examining her court record, the judge said Mrs. Doyle has served 125 days behind bars in the 214 days of 1967 to date, mostly on intoxication charges.

QUESTION — "Will our government ever consider operating socialized funeral homes?"

ANSWER — Several attempts have been made to introduce such legislation, but congressmen quickly agreed that American funeral customs were entirely too personal to successfully be conducted by politically controlled funeral directors, who would have no personal interest in the families served.

Americans strongly resist giving up their personal freedom of choice.

Suspensions Set In Sunday Sales

Two suspensions totaling 56 days have been ordered against a local establishment for liquor violations, according to the Ohio Department of Liquor Control at Columbus.

Fred L. Rayl of Rayl's Market at 246 W. 4th St., holder of two carryout permits, has been ordered to suspend sales for 21 days beginning at noon Aug. 22 and ending at noon Sept. 12 for having been convicted in Municipal Court here for violation of the Sunday sale law on April 2.

For Sunday sales on April 16, the department ordered a 35-day suspension to be served consecutively to the previous suspension, beginning at noon Sept. 12 and ending noon Oct. 17.

The liquor control board dismissed a charge for the actual violation of the Sunday sale law on April 2 as Rayl had been convicted in Municipal Court and ordered the hearing held on his conviction, which is sufficient to order a suspension.

Luci And Pat Mobbed By Theatergoers

NEW YORK (AP) — Patrick and Luci Johnson Nugent were mobbed by more than 200 midtown theatergoers Tuesday night as they started their second honeymoon with a stop on Broadway.

The Nugents had left their 5-week-old son Patrick Lyndon in the White House with his grandparents, President and Mrs. Johnson—but they hadn't forgotten him.

"He's fine—I haven't talked to him recently," quipped Pat, during intermission at the Imperial Theater, where he and Luci had joined a group of friends to see the musical "Cabaret."

The Nugents are heading for a second honeymoon in the Bahamas—but Luci said all plans hinge on baby Lyn.

"Our plans aren't really definite at all," she said. "We've got a new baby, you know."

The couple slipped into fifth row orchestra seats virtually unobserved—but by intermission word had filtered through the sell-out crowd that the Nugents were in the orchestra.

The Nugents waited until most of the theater had emptied before leaving—but the crowd hadn't gone far.

As they rapidly made their way through the lobby, they were surrounded by well wishers. Secret Servicemen pushed the crowd back, cleared a path to a waiting limousine and hustled them off.

Rotarians At Lisbon Hear Talk By Lawyer

LISBON — James Allison, East Palestine attorney, spoke at Rotary's dinner meeting Tuesday in the Wick Hotel as a representative of District Gov. Lindsay Williams of Rittman.

Allison discussed Rotary programs, with particular emphasis on international service and student exchanges.

Wilbur Whan, president, was in charge. The club will attend the races at Waterford Park next Tuesday evening.

Luci And Pat Mobbed By Theatergoers

NEW YORK (AP) — Patrick and Luci Johnson Nugent were mobbed by more than 200 midtown theatergoers Tuesday night as they started their second honeymoon with a stop on Broadway.

The Nugents had left their 5-week-old son Patrick Lyndon in the White House with his grandparents, President and Mrs. Johnson—but they hadn't forgotten him.

"He's fine—I haven't talked to him recently," quipped Pat, during intermission at the Imperial Theater, where he and Luci had joined a group of friends to see the musical "Cabaret."

The Nugents are heading for a second honeymoon in the Bahamas—but Luci said all plans hinge on baby Lyn.

"Our plans aren't really definite at all," she said. "We've got a new baby, you know."

The couple slipped into fifth row orchestra seats virtually unobserved—but by intermission word had filtered through the sell-out crowd that the Nugents were in the orchestra.

The Nugents waited until most of the theater had emptied before leaving—but the crowd hadn't gone far.

As they rapidly made their way through the lobby, they were surrounded by well wishers. Secret Servicemen pushed the crowd back, cleared a path to a waiting limousine and hustled them off.

Barricades Raised

LISBON — Barricades mark two new corners on the square. The street crew removed the sidewalk at the northeast and northwest corners of N. Market St. (Route 45) and Lincoln Way (Route 30) Monday and Tuesday to make a better turning radius for trucks. The newly-opened area will be filled and blacktopped and new sidewalk will be poured.

Killed In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced Tuesday that Army Spec. 4 Terry Winters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winters of Geneva, Ohio, has been killed in Vietnam as a result of non-hostile causes.

Contract Let In Hancock Jail Plans

A contract for architectural plans for a new jail in Hancock County was let Tuesday by commissioners at New Cumberland.

The formal motion approving W. A. Curtis of Toledo, Ohio, as the architect came after the firm presented preliminary plans to commissioners and advised them they are under no obligation at this time to approve such plans.

Commissioner William C. Graham offered the motion, with the stipulation the commissioners make no final decision for some time.

The architectural firm will receive 7 per cent of the cost of the new facility, expected to be $360,000.

COMMISSIONERS were advised to increase their estimates by 5 per cent to allow for rising construction costs.

Commissioner Edward Nogay suggested the county may be nearly $10,000 short of funds for construction if the 5 per cent figure is accurate.

Prosecutor Floyd Tarr told commissioners they will have to create a special fund in which to keep the money for the project.

The architectural firm's local attorney, Edwin Flowers, said the plans were submitted yesterday as a preliminary study and suggestions are requested.

Graham asked that a special meeting be held some evening to discuss the proposed structure.

Evans will contact authorities in both Brooke and Ohio counties relative to the use of their jail facilities while the present structure in New Cumberland is razed and replaced.

ANDREW KONDICK, Hancock Civil Defense director, reviewed the plans for a community shelter program in the county.

He explained Phase I of the operation and said maps of the county are being prepared. He said the response was favorable in a countywide census concerning the shelters everywhere except in Weirton. Kondick said anyone who has not received a letter concerning the shelter survey should contact him.

October 14 and 15 and 21-22 have been set as dates for rescue classes in conjunction with United Hancock County Firefighters Association. The classes will be held on the apron of the old New Cumberland locks.

A simulated exercise for Hancock will be held Sept. 29 and 30, he added.

Commissioners signed and sent to the Army Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh a contract with Martin Gluchow of East Liverpool for leasing of the facilities of Kennedy Park near Congo. Commissioners pointed out the engineers will examine the document and return it with any changes they may feel necessary.

Nogay pointed out the park is the property of the federal government and not Hancock County.

A LOW BID of $2,050 was received from Bob Sowers Dodge in Weirton for a new cruiser to be used by the sheriff's office. Commissioners awarded the firm a contract after examining the only other bid from Newell Central Service, which was slightly higher.

John W. Hertnick of Weirton was appointed to the County Board of Health.

Mrs. Jean Robinson from Clay District was appointed to the Children's Home Board, succeeding Arnold Anderson, who resigned Monday.

The county's only employe in the Welfare Department, Mrs. Edith Evans, was granted a salary increase from $510 to $540 a month.

A discussion concerning the painting of the county extension office was held and members decided to request that agent Oliver Johnson provide them with estimates before the job is approved.

Twenty-five estates were approved and 20 probate appointments were made.

Approval was given nine notary public applicants and eight erroneous assessments were corrected.

No one appeared from Chester to discuss the possibility of a subsidy for the Lynn Ambulance Service in Grant District, although a discussion was on the agenda.

Newell Class Has Reunion

A two-day observance of the 10th reunion of the class of 1957 of Wells High School, Newell, was held Friday and Saturday. Thirty were present.

A family picnic was held at Thompson Park Friday, with games played.

Saturday night the class members met at the Inn Town Motel for dinner, a program and dancing.

Green and white, the class colors, formed the color scheme. A centerpiece of summer flowers complemented the decorations.

Jerry Noland, master of ceremonies, gave the opening address; Jerry McFeeley, read the original class prophecy, and Don Linger a revised version. Letters from members unable to attend were read by Mrs. Penny Arnott.

Mary Ann Dunlevy awarded prizes to Mrs. Charles (Barbara) McClay, farthest distance; Donald Jennings, most children; Jerry McFeeley, married the longest, and Leroy Riddle, youngest child.

Posters and scrapbooks of school pictures were displayed.

Bud vases with an inscription were favors. Following the dinner, the Jokers, a local instrumental group, provided music for dancing.

Plans were made to hold another reunion in five years.

The committee members were Donald Linger, chairman, Penny Arnott, Diane Arner, Linda Kiger, Marilyn McHaffey, Jean Lowers, Peggy Linger, Emma Ronfro and Mary Ann Dunlevy.

American Samoa has a population of 22,000.

Lang Ties 'Little Things With Big Things' In Talk

Outlining his varied activities since arriving in East Liverpool, Francis Lang emphasized that "little things lead to big things" when he addressed the Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

He came here in 1932 as a young lawyer newly - admitted to the Ohio Bar.

HIS FIRST non-legal activity was a Sunday school teaching post, through which he met his wife.

After joining the Rotary Club 34 years ago, he served officially as its president from 1936-37.

When, in 1939, the city's first Junior Chamber of Commerce was chartered, Lang became its president. He went on to serve as a state vice president.

"After World War II the local club was the strongest to return," Lang said. A "hard-core" group of young men was enthusiastic in its attitudes toward the Jaycees and its creed, he added.

Later, the local attorney served on the executive board of the area Boy Scout council and was a Region 4 executive in addition to holding seats on the national council and national committees."

"Scouting is not the answer to all things," he continued, "but is a supplement to other educational and training programs."

LANG SUGGESTED that the programs of Scouting are ones which "get young people out."

Boys can learn more through Scouting, he continued, referring to their knowledge of the outside world, than is possible in "schools or the church."

"You have a real stake in the Scouting program of youth," Lang concluded, and indicated that had some of the young people involved in the recent riots enjoyed "a richer experience and training," there would have been less disrespect for the law.

The third area of interest explored by the speaker was his work with the Northeastern Ohio Methodist Conference.

CURRENTLY president of the board of trustees now supervising the construction of a second Methodist home for the elderly near Sebring, Lang also has been named a lay delegate to the General Conference of Methodists next April in Dallas.

In 1958, Lang was named chairman of the Chamber of Commerce highway committee and was present at a public hearing in Warren when plans for the proposed Route 11 — the Lake - to - River Highway — took shape.

It was explained that the program has moved slowly because of the priority in building federal interstate highways. Critics have asked why the road was not constructed along interstate highway routes. Lang explained:

The interstate roads were almost all completely assigned by the time Route 11 was proposed; such roads must connect metropolitan areas of more than 50,000 population, and pointed to the large amount of time necessary in acquiring rights-of-way.

The terminals of the lake-to-river highway will be East Liverpool and Ashtabula, neither with a 50,000 population.

Lang indicated that construction will be in effect all along the route by 1969, with anticipated completion in the very early 70's.

Frank C. Dawson presided.

Smith Denies He Is Backing Fox In Governor Bid

VOLTA REDONA, Brazil (AP) — West Virginia Gov. Hulett C. Smith, vacationing in Brazil, denied Tuesday that he has thrown his support for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in next May's primary election behind former Atty. Gen. John G. Fox.

Smith said, "I have no knowledge of Mr. Fox being a candidate for governor, and I will not announce support for any candidate until. . . it is known who is running."

Both the Morgantown Dominion-News and WSAZ-TV of Huntington and Charleston reported Monday night and Tuesday that Smith had endorsed Fox, now a vice president for American Telephone & Telegraph in Washington, D.C., during a high-level Democratic meeting at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., last Friday.

Retail Milk Prices Hiked In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland area retail milk prices have increased by one-half cent to one cent a half gallon as the result of higher prices farmers are charging dairies.

The price increases came Tuesday. The farmers' price of milk to the dairies went up 30 cents to $6.40 a hundredweight for class I milk—fluid milk for human consumption.

Gregory In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Negro comedian Dick Gregory appears here twice tonight to aid voter registration. His appearances will be at the Second Tabernacle Baptist Church and at a benefit at LeoS Casino.

Railroad Engineer Cited For Speeding

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Not even freight trains escape Salt Lake City traffic speed limits.

Wallace Rosander, a Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad engineer is charged in Municipal Court with operating a locomotive 35 miles an hour in a 25 mile an hour zone.

The tracks run down the middle of a city street.

The five volcanic Isles of American Samoa — Tutuila, Aunuu, Tau, Ofu and Olosega, and two coral atolls called Rose and Swans — comprise a land area of 76 square miles.

During Rotary Meeting

Lang Ties 'Little Things With Big Things' In Talk

Outlining his varied activities since arriving in East Liverpool, Francis Lang emphasized that "little things lead to big things" when he addressed the Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

He came here in 1932 as a young lawyer newly - admitted to the Ohio Bar.

HIS FIRST non-legal activity was a Sunday school teaching post, through which he met his wife.

After joining the Rotary Club 34 years ago, he served officially as its president from 1936-37.

When, in 1939, the city's first Junior Chamber of Commerce was chartered, Lang became its president. He went on to serve as a state vice president.

"After World War II the local club was the strongest to return," Lang said. A "hard-core" group of young men was enthusiastic in its attitudes toward the Jaycees and its creed, he added.

Later, the local attorney served on the executive board of the area Boy Scout council and was a Region 4 executive in addition to holding seats on the national council and national committees."

"Scouting is not the answer to all things," he continued, "but is a supplement to other educational and training programs."

LANG SUGGESTED that the programs of Scouting are ones which "get young people out."

Boys can learn more through Scouting, he continued, referring to their knowledge of the outside world, than is possible in "schools or the church."

"You have a real stake in the Scouting program of youth," Lang concluded, and indicated that had some of the young people involved in the recent riots enjoyed "a richer experience and training," there would have been less disrespect for the law.

The third area of interest explored by the speaker was his work with the Northeastern Ohio Methodist Conference.

CURRENTLY president of the board of trustees now supervising the construction of a second Methodist home for the elderly near Sebring, Lang also has been named a lay delegate to the General Conference of Methodists next April in Dallas.

In 1958, Lang was named chairman of the Chamber of Commerce highway committee and was present at a public hearing in Warren when plans for the proposed Route 11 — the Lake - to - River Highway — took shape.

It was explained that the program has moved slowly because of the priority in building federal interstate highways. Critics have asked why the road was not constructed along interstate highway routes. Lang explained:

The interstate roads were almost all completely assigned by the time Route 11 was proposed; such roads must connect metropolitan areas of more than 50,000 population, and pointed to the large amount of time necessary in acquiring rights-of-way.

The terminals of the lake-to-river highway will be East Liverpool and Ashtabula, neither with a 50,000 population.

Lang indicated that construction will be in effect all along the route by 1969, with anticipated completion in the very early 70's.

Frank C. Dawson presided.

Smith Denies He Is Backing Fox In Governor Bid

VOLTA REDONA, Brazil (AP) — West Virginia Gov. Hulett C. Smith, vacationing in Brazil, denied Tuesday that he has thrown his support for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in next May's primary election behind former Atty. Gen. John G. Fox.

Smith said, "I have no knowledge of Mr. Fox being a candidate for governor, and I will not announce support for any candidate until. . . it is known who is running."

Both the Morgantown Dominion-News and WSAZ-TV of Huntington and Charleston reported Monday night and Tuesday that Smith had endorsed Fox, now a vice president for American Telephone & Telegraph in Washington, D.C., during a high-level Democratic meeting at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., last Friday.

Retail Milk Prices Hiked In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland area retail milk prices have increased by one-half cent to one cent a half gallon as the result of higher prices farmers are charging dairies.

The price increases came Tuesday. The farmers' price of milk to the dairies went up 30 cents to $6.40 a hundredweight for class I milk—fluid milk for human consumption.

Hold Lead Of 2½; Red Sox In Split

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox gained the reputation as a good-pitch, no-hit team. But that was in their BBC era—Before Boyer and Colavito.

Ken Boyer, whose pinch hit single tied the game in Chicago's 4-2 victory over Cleveland Monday night, got a double and three singles in five times at bat and scored twice in the White Sox' 11-5 drubbing of the Indians Tuesday night.

Colavito, who won Monday's game with a two-run homer in the 10th inning, collected three singles in five times up, scored three runs and drove in one Tuesday night.

Since being acquired from the New York Mets July 22, Boyer has gone 14-for-31 for a .452 average, with four RBI. Colavito, picked up from Cleveland last Saturday, is 4-for-12 for a .333 mark, with three RBI.

Elsewhere in the American League Tuesday night, Boston lost 4-3 to Kansas City before beating the Athletics 8-3, Minnesota edged Washington 5-4, Detroit topped Baltimore 4-2 and New York trounced California 6-1.

The White Sox, who increased their league lead to 2½ games over second-place Boston, blew a 4-0 margin before breaking a 5-5 tie with six runs in the ninth inning.

Boyer doubled and, after pinch hitter Smoky Burgess walked, scored the go-ahead run on Colavito's single. Tom McCraw then doubled home a run, three more came in on Ron Hansen's bases loaded double, and final tally crossed the plate on Walt Williams' triple.

Cleveland scored three times in the seventh off starter Gary Peters and tied the game with a pair on Lee Maye's single in the eighth off reliever Hoyt Wilhelm, who had driven in the Sox' fifth run with a single in the top of the inning.

Kansas City scored four times in the third inning on Bert Campaneris' three-run triple and John Donaldson's single and Chuck Dobson survived a three-run homer by Car Yaztrzemski, his 27th, in the sixth for the first-game victory over Boston.

Jim Lonborg, on pass from two week's active duty with the Army Reserve, ran his record to 15-4, with relief help, in the second game.

Boston clinched the nightcap with four runs in the seventh, three coming on Mike Ryan's homer.

Tony Oliva tripled home two runs in a three-run first inning and Ted Uhlaender drove in two with a two-out, bases-loaded single in the fifth for Minnesota's victory.

Dean Chance picked up his 13th victory against eith losses, but he needed relief help from Al Worthington when Washington scored twice in the eighth to pull to within one run.

Earl Wilson, backed by solo homers from Don Wert and Bill Freehan and a two inning relief stint by Mike Marshall, made his record 14-8 for Detroit. Wert also drove in a run with a sacrifice fly.

Mel Stottlemyre broke a scoreless tie with a two-run single in the seventh inning when New York scored five times. The right-hander lost a shutout in the eighth when Jim Fregosi beat out an infield hit with the bases loaded.

U.S. Beats Ecuador In Tennis—Too Late

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP) —The United States finally has beaten Ecuador in tennis, but it came about six weeks too late to do America's Davis Cup chances any good.

Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., seeded fifth, turned back Ecuador's Davis Cup hero Francisco "Pancho" Guzman 9-7, 6-2 Tuesday in the second round of the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Championships.

Riessen and Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, lost their Davis Cup doubles match to Guaman and Miguel Olvera as Ecuador upset the United States 3-2 in Guayaquil in June. The winners' other two points came as first Olvera and then Guzman, in the deciding match, whipped top-ranked Arthur Ashe.

Marichal, Giants Top Pirates, 3-1

Cubs Bounce Back To Nip Cards, 3-2; Pitchers Take Spotlight In NL Tilts

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Leave it to Willie Mays.

It was a pitcher's paradise in the National League Tuesday night until Mays caught up with Woody Fryman in the seventh inning of San Francisco's 3-1 victory over Pittsburgh.

Willie walloped his 14th home run of the season and No. 556 of his career helping Juan Marichal win his 14th game.

Mays' blast was the first and only homer of the night as the pitchers shut off the power in the National League. The shot soared over the right center field fence at Candlestick Park and was Mays' first circuit since June 28. He struggled through a homerless July with a heavy cold and influenza.

In other National League action Tuesday, Chicago cut St. Louis' lead to 3½ games by clipping the Cardinals 3-2, Cincinnati shut out Atlanta 2-0 on Jim Maloney's three-hitter, New York topped Houston 5-1 and Philadelphia nipped Los Angeles 2-1.

Marichal hurled a six-hitter and drove in the game's tie-breaking run with a sixth inning single following hits by Hal Lanier and Tito Fuentes.

The Review Sports
WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 2, 1967 PAGE 18

Roberto Clemente had tripled home a run for the Pirates in the third but Jim Hart's two-out single in the fifth following an error by Gene Alley, tied it for the Giants.

Ferguson Jenkins hurled a six-hitter and won his 14th game for the Cubs, as the Cardinals' six-game winning streak came to an end.

Ron Santo and Clarence Jones smacked run-scoring doubles, helping Chicago to an early 3-0 edge. Jenkins was coasting on a two-hitter until the eighth when the Cards rocked him for both their runs. But the young right-hander pitched out of the jam and hung on for the victory.

Maloney, 9-7, hurled his second complete game of the season and was in control all the way against the Braves. He scattered three singles and struck out eight.

Maloney protected a 1-0 lead provided when Tony Perez rapped into a bases-loaded double play in the fourth. Then doubles by Don Pavletich and Chico Ruiz gave him an insurance run in the eighth.

Ed Charles drove in three runs with a pair of singles and Don Shaw bailed Don Cardwell out of a bases-loaded jam in the fifth inning as New York ended a six-game losing streak and a seven-game Houston win string.

Charles singled John Sullivan across with the tying run in the second inning and then followed hits by Tommy Davis and Ron Swoboda with a two-run single in the third.

Shaw struck out Rusty Staub, Eddie Mathews and Bob Aspromonte, leaving the bases loaded in the fifth inning. The young left-hander allowed just three hits in five innings of relief and gained credit for his third victory.

Tony Gonzalez drove in both Philadelphia runs with a single and a sacrifice fly as Larry Jackson outduelled Claude Osteen.

Jackson hurled a five-hitter for his eighth victory. Osteen lost his 11th.

Midland Legion Trips N. Castle

Midland Post 481, champions of the Beaver County Legion League for the second year in a row, defeated New Castle, 9-4, Tuesday at Midland in the first of a three game series to decide the representative to the Western Elimination Tournament at Freeport.

Midland pounded out 10 hits, including three by second baseman Bill DeHass, to turn back the New Castle nine.

Post 481 opened with two runs in the first inning, scored one in the third then rallied for five big markers in the fourth inning to put the game on ice.

Rick Shimko the winning pitcher scattered seven hits while Midland took advantage of six New Castle errors.

Shimko received fielding support from his teammates who turned in three double plays.

Vernon Dell Captures First Playoff Contest

Vernon Dell broke up a tight pitching duel by scoring eight runs in the seventh inning to hand Parsons Coal a 9-1 setback Tuesday in the opener of a three game playoff series to decide the Little League title in East Liverpool.

Vernon Dell was issued seven walks but the key hit was by Bruce Rohrer who tripled with the bases loaded in that inning.

Jim Anderson was the winning pitcher and Dennis Yanni waged a pitching duel for six innings each giving up three hits. Each team scored one run in the first six innings with Parsons scoring firsts when Vince McGeehan doubled. Vernon Dell tied it in the sixth when Gary Cunningham who had doubled scored on Jary Petkovich's bunt hit.

A key defensive play saw Vernon Dell leftfielder Mike Dauka rob Samples of a home run in the last of the sixth.

Coach Feels He Has Excell ent Talent

Packers Warned By Sauer To Look Out For All-Stars

CHICAGO (AP) Coach Johnny Sauer of the College All-Stars is convinced of two things —he has the best talent available and his team will slug it out toe-to-toe with the Green Bay Packers.

Sauer leads the All-Stars against the Packers Friday night in Soldier Field with hopes of wiping out the 38-0 licking administered by the Packers against his 1966 All-Star contingent.

"I don't make predictions," said Sauer Tuesday "but I guarantee you this squad will hit with the Packers all night."

Speaking before the annual luncheon where the Stars make their only pre-game public appearance, Sauer said, "I don't know of a single rookie with any pro team presently who belongs on this squad. We have the best players available."

The All-Stars, who have a glittering array of talent, had their hopes bolstered last Thursday when they got their first taste of pro competition in a scrimmage against the Chicago Bears.

The Bears won the game 23-22 with a field goal on the last play but the Stars were satisfied with their performance.

"The Packers had better be on their toes," said Owner-Coach George Halas of the Bears. "This is the best All-Star squad I've ever seen and these kids want to play. They know how to hit."

The man who is expected to do most of the hitting for the Stars is All-America Bubba Smith, the 290-pounder from Michigan State.

"I expected him to use his strength more than he did," said Bear Guard Jim Cadile, who went up against Bubba in the scrimmage.

"I thought he'd come straight ahead with power," said Cadile. "Instead, he was moving and throwing. He's learned some tricks already which is unusual for a rookie, especially a man his size."

Debate Expected Over Players' Reserve Clause

CHICAGO (AP) — The reserve clause — a baseball team's legal hold on a player's exclusive services — is expected to trigger a flurry of debate once again at the major league summer meetings.

Representatives of the Players Association will meet today with league officials and club owners to discuss the demands of the athletes which were relayed last week to the owners in a seven-page letter.

The players are demanding a review of the reserve clause which first created a furor during the formation of the American League at the turn of the century.

In their statement, the players said the reserve clause deprives an athlete of "bona-fide bargaining power in his salary negotiations with a club."

The players doubted the legality of the reserve clause and said they disagreed with the owners' longtime contention that removal of the reserve clause would be injurious to baseball.

Midland Legion Trips N. Castle

Midland Post 481, champions of the Beaver County Legion League for the second year in a row, defeated New Castle, 9-4, Tuesday at Midland in the first of a three game series to decide the representative to the Western Elimination Tournament at Freeport.

Midland pounded out 10 hits, including three by second baseman Bill DeHass, to turn back the New Castle nine.

Post 481 opened with two runs in the first inning, scored one in the third then rallied for five big markers in the fourth inning to put the game on ice.

Rick Shimko the winning pitcher scattered seven hits while Midland took advantage of six New Castle errors.

Shimko received fielding support from his teammates who turned in three double plays.

Vernon Dell Captures First Playoff Contest

Vernon Dell broke up a tight pitching duel by scoring eight runs in the seventh inning to hand Parsons Coal a 9-1 setback Tuesday in the opener of a three game playoff series to decide the Little League title in East Liverpool.

Vernon Dell was issued seven walks but the key hit was by Bruce Rohrer who tripled with the bases loaded in that inning.

Jim Anderson was the winning pitcher and Dennis Yanni waged a pitching duel for six innings each giving up three hits. Each team scored one run in the first six innings with Parsons scoring firsts when Vince McGeehan doubled. Vernon Dell tied it in the sixth when Gary Cunningham who had doubled scored on Jary Petkovich's bunt hit.

A key defensive play saw Vernon Dell leftfielder Mike Dauka rob Samples of a home run in the last of the sixth.

BATTING—Ken Boyer, White Sox, lashed four hits and scored two runs, leading Chicago to an 11-5 victory over Cleveland.

PITCHING—Jim Maloney, Reds, shut out Atlanta 2-0, allowing just three hits and striking out eight.

Leave it to Willie Mays.

It was a pitcher's paradise in the National League Tuesday night until Mays caught up with Woody Fryman in the seventh inning of San Francisco's 3-1 victory over Pittsburgh.

Willie walloped his 14th home run of the season and No. 556 of his career helping Juan Marichal win his 14th game.

Mays' blast was the first and only homer of the night as the pitchers shut off the power in the National League. The shot soared over the right center field fence at Candlestick Park and was Mays' first circuit since June 28. He struggled through a homerless July with a heavy cold and influenza.

In other National League action Tuesday, Chicago cut St. Louis' lead to 3½ games by clipping the Cardinals 3-2, Cincinnati shut out Atlanta 2-0 on Jim Maloney's three-hitter, New York topped Houston 5-1 and Philadelphia nipped Los Angeles 2-1.

Marichal hurled a six-hitter and drove in the game's tie-breaking run with a sixth inning single following hits by Hal Lanier and Tito Fuentes.

Roberto Clemente had tripled home a run for the Pirates in the third but Jim Hart's two-out single in the fifth following an error by Gene Alley, tied it for the Giants.

Ferguson Jenkins hurled a six-hitter and won his 14th game for the Cubs, as the Cardinals' six-game winning streak came to an end.

Ron Santo and Clarence Jones smacked run-scoring doubles, helping Chicago to an early 3-0 edge. Jenkins was coasting on a two-hitter until the eighth when the Cards rocked him for both their runs. But the young right-hander pitched out of the jam and hung on for the victory.

Maloney, 9-7, hurled his second complete game of the season and was in control all the way against the Braves. He scattered three singles and struck out eight.

Maloney protected a 1-0 lead provided when Tony Perez rapped into a bases-loaded double play in the fourth. Then doubles by Don Pavletich and Chico Ruiz gave him an insurance run in the eighth.

Ed Charles drove in three runs with a pair of singles and Don Shaw bailed Don Cardwell out of a bases-loaded jam in the fifth inning as New York ended a six-game losing streak and a seven-game Houston win string.

Charles singled John Sullivan across with the tying run in the second inning and then followed hits by Tommy Davis and Ron Swoboda with a two-run single in the third.

Shaw struck out Rusty Staub, Eddie Mathews and Bob Aspromonte, leaving the bases loaded in the fifth inning. The young left-hander allowed just three hits in five innings of relief and gained credit for his third victory.

Tony Gonzalez drove in both Philadelphia runs with a single and a sacrifice fly as Larry Jackson outduelled Claude Osteen.

Jackson hurled a five-hitter for his eighth victory. Osteen lost his 11th.

Coach Feels He Has Excellent Talent

Packers Warned By Sauer To Look Out For All-Stars

CHICAGO (AP) Coach Johnny Sauer of the College All-Stars is convinced of two things —he has the best talent available and his team will slug it out toe-to-toe with the Green Bay Packers.

Sauer leads the All-Stars against the Packers Friday night in Soldier Field with hopes of wiping out the 38-0 licking administered by the Packers against his 1966 All-Star contingent.

"I don't make predictions," said Sauer Tuesday "but I guarantee you this squad will hit with the Packers all night."

Speaking before the annual luncheon where the Stars make their only pre-game public appearance, Sauer said, "I don't know of a single rookie with any pro team presently who belongs on this squad. We have the best players available."

The All-Stars, who have a glittering array of talent, had their hopes bolstered last Thursday when they got their first taste of pro competition in a scrimmage against the Chicago Bears.

The Bears won the game 23-22 with a field goal on the last play but the Stars were satisfied with their performance.

"The Packers had better be on their toes," said Owner-Coach George Halas of the Bears. "This is the best All-Star squad I've ever seen and these kids want to play. They know how to hit."

The man who is expected to do most of the hitting for the Stars is All-America Bubba Smith, the 290-pounder from Michigan State.

"I expected him to use his strength more than he did," said Bear Guard Jim Cadile, who went up against Bubba in the scrimmage.

"I thought he'd come straight ahead with power," said Cadile. "Instead, he was moving and throwing. He's learned some tricks already which is unusual for a rookie, especially a man his size."

Debate Expected Over Players' Reserve Clause

CHICAGO (AP) — The reserve clause — a baseball team's legal hold on a player's exclusive services — is expected to trigger a flurry of debate once again at the major league summer meetings.

Representatives of the Players Association will meet today with league officials and club owners to discuss the demands of the athletes which were relayed last week to the owners in a seven-page letter.

The players are demanding a review of the reserve clause which first created a furor during the formation of the American League at the turn of the century.

In their statement, the players said the reserve clause deprives an athlete of "bona-fide bargaining power in his salary negotiations with a club."

The players doubted the legality of the reserve clause and said they disagreed with the owners' longtime contention that removal of the reserve clause would be injurious to baseball.

Hold Lead Of 2½; Red Sox In Split

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox gained the reputation as a good-pitch, no-hit team. But that was in their BBC era—Before Boyer and Colavito.

Ken Boyer, whose pinch hit single tied the game in Chicago's 4-2 victory over Cleveland Monday night, got a double and three singles in five times at bat and scored twice in the White Sox' 11-5 drubbing of the Indians Tuesday night.

Colavito, who won Monday's game with a two-run homer in the 10th inning, collected three singles in five times up, scored three runs and drove in one Tuesday night.

Since being acquired from the New York Mets July 22, Boyer has gone 14-for-31 for a .452 average, with four RBI. Colavito, picked up from Cleveland last Saturday, is 4-for-12 for a .333 mark, with three RBI.

Elsewhere in the American League Tuesday night, Boston lost 4-3 to Kansas City before beating the Athletics 8-3, Minnesota edged Washington 5-4, Detroit topped Baltimore 4-2 and New York trounced California 6-1.

The White Sox, who increased their league lead to 2½ games over second-place Boston, blew a 4-0 margin before breaking a 5-5 tie with six runs in the ninth inning.

Boyer doubled and, after pinch hitter Smoky Burgess walked, scored the go-ahead run on Colavito's single. Tom McCraw then doubled home a run, three more came in on Ron Hansen's bases loaded double, and final tally crossed the plate on Walt Williams' triple.

Cleveland scored three times in the seventh off starter Gary Peters and tied the game with a pair on Lee Maye's single in the eighth off reliever Hoyt Wilhelm, who had driven in the Sox' fifth run with a single in the top of the inning.

Kansas City scored four times in the third inning on Bert Campaneris' three-run triple and John Donaldson's single and Chuck Dobson survived a three-run homer by Car Yaztrzemski, his 27th, in the sixth for the first-game victory over Boston.

Jim Lonborg, on pass from two week's active duty with the Army Reserve, ran his record to 15-4, with relief help, in the second game.

Boston clinched the nightcap with four runs in the seventh, three coming on Mike Ryan's homer.

Tony Oliva tripled home two runs in a three-run first inning and Ted Uhlaender drove in two with a two-out, bases-loaded single in the fifth for Minnesota's victory.

Dean Chance picked up his 13th victory against eith losses, but he needed relief help from Al Worthington when Washington scored twice in the eighth to pull to within one run.

Earl Wilson, backed by solo homers from Don Wert and Bill Freehan and a two inning relief stint by Mike Marshall, made his record 14-8 for Detroit. Wert also drove in a run with a sacrifice fly.

Mel Stottlemyre broke a scoreless tie with a two-run single in the seventh inning when New York scored five times. The right-hander lost a shutout in the eighth when Jim Fregosi beat out an infield hit with the bases loaded.

U.S. Beats Ecuador In Tennis—Too Late

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP) —The United States finally has beaten Ecuador in tennis, but it came about six weeks too late to do America's Davis Cup chances any good.

Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., seeded fifth, turned back Ecuador's Davis Cup hero Francisco "Pancho" Guzman 9-7, 6-2 Tuesday in the second round of the Eastern Grass Court Tennis Championships.

Riessen and Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, lost their Davis Cup doubles match to Guaman and Miguel Olvera as Ecuador upset the United States 3-2 in Guayaquil in June. The winners' other two points came as first Olvera and then Guzman, in the deciding match, whipped top-ranked Arthur Ashe.

U.S. Swimmers Win 28 of 33 Events

Spitz Wins 5th Medal; Miss Kolb Cracks Second World Swim Mark

WINNIPEG (AP)—Uncle Sam's young band of swimmers and divers turned over the spotlight in the Pan-American Games to the other athletes today after hauling in a record bag of 28 chmpionships in 33 events.

The swimming phenoms busted 11 of the 14 world records that were destroyed in a fantastic week-long display of speed and stamina in the huge, indoor Pan-American pool.

A pair of 17-year-old sharks from Santa Clara, Calif., Mark Spitz and Claudia Kolb, 15-year-old Catie Ball of Jacksonville, Fla., and Canada's 16-year-old Elaine Tanner were the record wreckers of distinction.

Spitz captured his fifth gold medal and Miss Kolb collected her second world record and third gold medal Tuesday as the United States swept all five of the final events in the Pan-Am pool.

The track and fielders from the United States kept pace with the aquatic whizzes by taking all four of the titles at stake Tuesday for a 15-of-16 record.

The Yanks figure to take at least five of the six golds on the line today.

In all the favored U. S. squad had 88 gold medals, 47 silver and 32 in bronze for a whopping total of 167. Canada was next with 75 (8-27-30) while Brazil was next best in golds with six and a total of 13 (6-4-3). Argentina had 4-8-8, Mexico 3-11-13 and Cuba 3-7-17.

Spitz, a slender, 5-foot-11, 150-pounder who aims to be the world kingpin in five to six events in the 1968 Olympics at Mexico City, collected his fifth gold as the butterfly man on the winning 400-meter medley relay quartet which won in Pan-American record time of 3:59.3.

Other members of the team were Doug Russell, Midland, Tex., Russ Webb, Yorba Linda, Calif., and Ken Walsh, East Lansing, Mich.

Miss Kolb, a 5-7, 130-pounder, knocked off the listed world mark of 5:14.9 and her pending mark of 5.11.7 in romping to a 5:09.7 triumph in the 400-meter individual medley. Previously she had won the 200-meter individual medley in world record time, taken the 200-meter butterfly gold, and a silver in the 200-meter breaststroke.

Spitz broke the world mark in the 200-meter butterfly, tied his pending world record of :56.3 in the 100 'fly, and swam on three winning relays. He also holds the pending world record for 400 meters freestyle.

The other U. S. winners were Win Young of Phoenix, Ariz., and Indiana University in the platform diving; Mike Burton, Carmichael, Calif., in the 1,500 freestyle in 16:44.4, and the women's 400-meter freestyle relay team of Wendy Fordyce, Miami Springs, Calif., Linda Gustavson, Santa Cruz, Calif., and Pam Kruse of Pompano Beach, Fla., in Pan-American record time of 4:04.6. Every Pan-Am swimming record was erased.

Miss Tanner, the "Mighty Mouse" of the Canadian team, earned her third silver medal as a member of the second place 400 freestyle relay team. Earlier in the meet she won two golds, breaking the world records for 100 and 200 meters backstroke. She lowered the 100 mark again to 1:07.1 in the medley relay.

Miss Ball didn't compete Tuesday. She already had done her share. She won gold medals in the 100 and 200 meter breaststroke and another gold as a member of the world record-breaking medley relay team. In taking the 100, she blitzed the world mark to 1:14.8.

In track and field, the winners were Barbara Friedrich, Asbury Park, N.J., in the women's javelin with a Pan-Am mark of 174-9; Ron Whitney, Boulder, Colo., 400-meter hurdles, :50.7; Gary Carlsen, Rock Island, Ill., discus, 188-8, and Charles Craig, Fresno, Calif., in the triple jump, 54-3¼.

The Americans earned other gold medals in women's volleyball, judo and water polo.

The track and field program today included the attempt of Bill Toomey to regain the world decathlon record. Toomey, of Laguna Beach, Calif., piled up 4,198 points in Tuesday's first five events. He had a good chance at the pending world mark of 8,319 by Germany's Kurt Bendelin.

Don't Talk About Last Year To Cubs' Pilot

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Leo Durocher of the Chicago Cubs doesn't have a short memory so the safest thing to do in his presence is not to mention last year.

The Cubs had knocked off the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 Tuesday and Leo was all smiles until an unsuspecting visitor said "congratulations."

"Don't congratulate me," shouted Leo. "Go in there and congratulate the players."

"I didn't mean today's game," said the visitor. "This was your 59th win this season and matches your victory total of last year."

"Last year?" roared Durocher. "We don't talk about last year around this clubhouse. You know what happened last year? We finished 10th last year. Don't anybody mention last year to me."

Durocher simmered down and then chuckled.

"A guy came up to me this morning and got me on the field. Didn't give me a chance to say hello. Started right out telling me he wanted to do a half-hour television documentary.

"He gave me one helluva sales talk," continued Durocher. "Told me how much good it would do for the Cubs and baseball. When he got finished I said 'No.' He couldn't understand why.

"I asked him where he had been last year and got back to what he called "a big win. If we'd a lost that one we'd be 5½ behind the Cardinals. Now it's only 3½."

The two contenders meet in a doubleheader today and if the Cubs can come off with a double victory, they'll cut St. Louis' margin to a game and a half.

Thorne Fires 38 To Capture Jaycee Title

Dave Thorne fired a 38 to win first place at the East Liverpool Jaycees golf day Monday at the East Palestine Country Club. Thirty-two entered the event.

Bob Campbell and Dave Drakulich tied for second with 40 each while Bob Dusock was next with 42.

Campbell won a prize for being closest to the hole on No. 2 while a prize for the highest total and highest hole went to Glen Gallo.

Thorne, Campbell, Dusock and Babb will represent the East Liverpool Jaycees at the Regional Golf tournament at Salem.

Golf prizes were donated by Locke's Jewelers, Ogilvie's, Montgomery Ward, Burbick's Hardware, Arrow Pants Shop, Men's Shop, Robins & Sant, Eckert's Camera Mart and Potters Lumber.

Dodgers' Power Turned Off, Team In 8th Place

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers entered the 1967 season believing that Jim Lefebvre, Ron Fairly, Lou Johnson, Willie Davis, and newcomer Bob Bailey would give them a satisfactory offense.

Last year, the five combined to hit 79 homers and drive in 315 runs.

But, with little more than one - third of the season left, these five have the surprisingly low total of 21 homers and 146 RBIs.

That, then, is one big reason why the defending National League champions currently reside in eighth place, and it helps explain why Dodger pitchers are tossing and turning in bed at night.

The 2-1 loss left - hander Claude Osteen, 12-11, suffered against Philadelphia here Tuesday night is typical of what Los Angeles pitchers have been going through. The Dodgers have scored two runs or less in eight of Osteen's 11 defeats.

Dodger pitchers have allowed only seven runs in the last five games but have won only three of them. Not once in that span has the Los Angeles attack generated more than two runs.

"These are typical games for us — we're not hitting when it counts," sighed Manager Walter Alston Tuesday night after Philadelphia right - hander Larry Jackson, 8-10, restricted the Dodgers to five hits.

An example of the Dodger problem came in the seventh inning after singles by Davis and Len Gabrielson put runners at first and third with only one out. Jackson was able to protect his 2-1 lead when he struck out both Lefebvre and Fairly.

Youth, 21, Holds Lead In Publinx

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — The 240-man field in the Ohio Publinks Golf Tournament was chasing today a 21-year-old Ohio State University senior who couldn't make the Buckeye varsity.

Mike Parker, a civil engineering major from Paulding, shot a two-under-par 35-35—70 Tuesday and assumed the first round lead in the 34th annual classic by one stroke.

He toured the 6,374-yard Auglaize County Club layout with five birdies and three bogeys, two of his bogeys coming on par three holes.

In hot pursuit were Hugh Farmer, a Toledo die repairman, Arnold Schuessler, a 26-year-old Sandusky laborer, and Pat Kaylor got his with the help of an eagle three on the par five third hole.

Defending Publinx champion Lalu Sabotin, still favored as the man to beat, was very much in contention after carving out an even par 72.

Sabotin, who only two weeks ago added the Ohio Amateur crown to his crowded trophy case, is bidding to become the first Buckeye golfer to capture both the Amateur and the Public Links titles in one season.

Parker, who went out for golf at Ohio State earlier in his collegiate career and failed to make the squad, virtually was playing his home course.

Cloran Near Top In Ohio Publinx Play

Tom Cloran of East Liverpool was only three strokes off the pace as he fired a 73 in the first round of the Ohio Publinks tournament Tuesday at Defiance. Cloran and other leaders trailed Mike Parker of Paulding who led the first day with 35-35-70.

U.S. Swimmers Win 28 of 33 Events

Spitz Wins 5th Medal; Miss Kolb Cracks Second World Swim Mark

WINNIPEG (AP)—Uncle Sam's young band of swimmers and divers turned over the spotlight in the Pan-American Games to the other athletes today after hauling in a record bag of 28 chmpionships in 33 events.

The swimming phenoms busted 11 of the 14 world records that were destroyed in a fantastic week-long display of speed and stamina in the huge, indoor Pan-American pool.

A pair of 17-year-old sharks from Santa Clara, Calif., Mark Spitz and Claudia Kolb, 15-year-old Catie Ball of Jacksonville, Fla., and Canada's 16-year-old Elaine Tanner were the record wreckers of distinction

Spitz captured his fifth gold medal and Miss Kolb collected her second world record and third gold medal Tuesday as the United States swept all five of the final events in the Pan-Am pool.

The track and fielders from the United States kept pace with the aquatic whizzes by taking all four of the titles at stake Tuesday for a 15-of-16 record.

The Yanks figure to take at least five of the six golds on the line today.

In all the favored U. S. squad had 88 gold medals, 47 silver and 32 in bronze for a whopping total of 167. Canada was next with 75 (8-27-30) while Brazil was next best in golds with six and a total of 13 (6-4-3). Argentina had 4-8-8, Mexico 3-11-13 and Cuba 3-7-17.

Spitz, a slender, 5-foot-11, 150-pounder who aims to be the world kingpin in five to six events in the 1968 Olympics at Mexico City, collected his fifth gold as the butterfly man on the winning 400-meter medley relay quartet which won in Pan-American record time of 3:59.3.

Other members of the team were Doug Russell, Midland, Tex., Russ Webb, Yorba Linda, Calif., and Ken Walsh, East Lansing, Mich.

Miss Kolb, a 5-7, 136-pounder, knocked off the listed world mark of 5:14.9 and her pending mark of 5:11.7 in romping to a 5:09.7 triumph in the 400-meter individual medley. Previously she had won the 200-meter individual medley in world record time, taken the 200-meter butterfly gold, and a silver in the 200-meter breaststroke.

Spitz broke the world mark in the 200-meter butterfly, tied his pending world record of :56.3 in the 100 'fly, and swam on three winning relays. He also holds the pending world record for 400 meters freestyle.

The other U. S. winners were Win Young of Phoenix, Ariz., and Indiana University in the platform diving; Mike Burton, Carmichael, Calif., in the 1,500 freestyle in 16:44.4, and the women's 400-meter freestyle relay team of Wendy Fordyce, Miami Springs, Calif., Linda Gustavson, Santa Cruz, Calif., and Pam Kruse of Pompano Beach, Fla., in Pan-American record time of 4:04.6. Every-Pan-Am swimming record was erased.

Miss Tanner, the "Mighty Mouse" of the Canadian team, earned her third silver medal as a member of the second place 400 freestyle relay team. Earlier in the meet she won two golds, breaking the world records for 100 and 200 meters backstroke. She lowered the 100 mark again to 1:07.1 in the medley relay.

Miss Ball didn't compete Tuesday. She already had done her share. She won gold medals in the 100 and 200 meter breaststroke and another gold as a member of the world record-breaking medley relay team. In taking the 100, she blitzed the world mark to 1:14.8.

In track and field, the winners were Barbara Friedrich, Asbury Park, N.J., in the women's javelin with a Pan-Am mark of 174-9; Ron Whitney, Boulder, Colo., 400-meter hurdles, :50.7; Gary Carlsen, Rock Island, Ill., discus, 188-8, and Charles Craig, Fresno, Calif., in the triple jump, 54-3¼.

The Americans earned other gold medals in women's volleyball, judo and water polo.

The track and field program today included the attempt of Bill Toomey to regain the world decathlon record. Toomey, of Laguna Beach, Calif., piled up 4,198 points in Tuesday's first five events. He had a good chance at the pending world mark of 8,319 by Germany's Kurt Bendelin.

Don't Talk About Last Year To Cubs' Pilot

CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Leo Durocher of the Chicago Cubs doesn't have a short memory so the safest thing to do in his presence is not to mention last year.

The Cubs had knocked off the St. Louis Cardinals 3-2 Tuesday and Leo was all smiles until an unsuspecting visitor said "congratulations."

"Don't congratulate me," shouted Leo. "Go in there and congratulate the players."

"I didn't mean today's game," said the visitor. "This was your 59th win this season and matches your victory total of last year."

"Last year?" roared Durocher. "We don't talk about last year around this clubhouse. You know what happened last year? We finished 10th last year. Don't anybody mention last year to me."

Durocher simmered down and then chuckled.

"A guy came up to me this morning and got me on the field. Didn't give me a chance to say hello. Started right out telling me he wanted to do a half-hour television documentary.

"He gave me one helluva sales talk," continued Durocher. "Told me how much good it would do for the Cubs and baseball. When he got finished I said 'No.' He couldn't understand why.

"I asked him where he had been last year and got back to what he called "a big win. If we'd a lost that one we'd be 5½ behind the Cardinals. Now it's only 3½."

The two contenders meet in a doubleheader today and if the Cubs can come off with a double victory, they'll cut St. Louis' margin to a game and a half.

Thorne Fires 38 To Capture Jaycee Title

Dave Thorne fired a 38 to win first place at the East Liverpool Jaycees golf day Monday at the East Palestine Country Club. Thirty-two entered the event.

Bob Campbell and Dave Drakulich tied for second with 40 each while Bob Dusock was next with 42.

Campbell won a prize for being closest to the hole on No. 2 while a prize for the highest total and highest hole went to Glen Gallo.

Thorne, Campbell, Dusock and Babb will represent the East Liverpool Jaycees at the Regional Golf tournament at Salem.

Golf prizes were donated by Locke's Jewelers, Ogilvie's, Montgomery Ward, Burbick's Hardware, Arrow Pants Shop, Men's Shop, Robins & Sant, Eckert's Camera Mart and Potters Lumber.

Dodgers' Power Turned Off, Team In 8th Place

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers entered the 1967 season believing that Jim Lefebvre, Ron Fairly, Lou Johnson, Willie Davis, and newcomer Bob Bailey would give them a satisfactory offense.

Last year, the five combined to hit 79 homers and drive in 315 runs.

But, with little more than one - third of the season left, these five have the surprisingly low total of 21 homers and 146 RBIs.

That, then, is one big reason why the defending National League champions currently reside in eighth place, and it helps explain why Dodger pitchers are tossing and turning in bed at night.

The 2-1 loss left - hander Claude Osteen, 12-11, suffered against Philadelphia here Tuesday night is typical of what Los Angeles pitchers have been going through. The Dodgers have scored two runs or less in eight of Osteen's 11 defeats.

Dodger pitchers have allowed only seven runs in the last five games but have won only three of them. Not once in that span has the Los Angeles attack generated more than two runs.

"These are typical games for us — we're not hitting when it counts," sighed Manager Walter Alston Tuesday night after Philadelphia right - hander Larry Jackson, 8-10, restricted the Dodgers to five hits.

An example of the Dodger problem came in the seventh inning after singles by Davis and Len Gabrielson put runners at first and third with only one out. Jackson was able to protect his 2-1 lead when he struck out both Lefebvre and Fairly.

Youth, 21, Holds Lead In Publinx

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — The 240-man field in the Ohio Publinks Golf Tournament was chasing today a 21-year-old Ohio State University senior who couldn't make the Buckeye varsity.

Mike Parker, a civil engineering major from Paulding, shot a two-under-par 35-35—70 Tuesday and assumed the first round lead in the 34th annual classic by one stroke.

He toured the 6,374-yard Auglaize County Club layout with five birdies and three bogeys, two of his bogeys coming on par three holes.

In hot pursuit were Hugh Farmer, a Toledo die repairman, Arnold Schuessler, a 26-year-old Sandusky laborer, and Pat Kaylor got his with the help of an eagle three on the par five third hole.

Defending Publinx champion Lalu Sabotin, still favored as the man to beat, was very much in contention after carving out an even par 72.

Sabotin, who only two weeks ago added the Ohio Amateur crown to his crowded trophy case, is bidding to become the first Buckeye golfer to capture both the Amateur and the Public Links titles in one season.

Parker, who went out for golf at Ohio State earlier in his collegiate career and failed to make the squad, virtually was playing his home course.

Cloran Near Top In Ohio Publinx Play

Tom Cloran of East Liverpool was only three strokes off the pace as he fired a 73 in the first round of the Ohio Publinks tournament Tuesday at Defiance. Cloran and other leaders trailed Mike Parker of Paulding who led the first day with 35-35-70.

Brown With Eight Set For Hall Of Fame

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Paul Brown will take a break this weekend to be inducted into pro football's Hall of Fame. He's busy getting ready for his second start in the pros.

The former Cleveland Browns coach will be among eight men enshrined Saturday, bringing the total number to 47 in five years.

The two-day festivities will end Saturday night with a National Football League exhibition game between the Philadelphia Eagles and the Browns at Fawcett Stadium.

Brown will coach the Cincinnati franchise in the American Football League. The AFL is now in the process of working out a player formula to stock the club for the 1968 season. It'll be his sixth coaching job.

Also being inducted are former playing stars Chuck Bednarik, Bobby Layne, Ken Strong Joe Stydahar and Emlen Tunnell, owner Dan Reeves of the Los Angeles Rams and the late Charles Bidwill, who owned the Chicago Cardinals.

Brown is no stranger to the Canton area.

After coaching for two years at Severn Prep, he took over at nearby Massillon High School, Canton's big rival, then moved onto Ohio State University, Great Lakes Naval Station and pro football with Cleveland, the club that still bears his name.

Otto Graham, who was Brown's quarterback at Cleveland and is now coach of the Washington Redskins, will present Brown at the enshrinement ceremony. Brown did the honors when Graham was inducted two years ago.

E. Liverpool Golfer Fires Hole-In-One

Ron Cunningham of East Liverpool joined the hole-in-one club Monday when he fired an ace on the No. 2 hole at the East Palestine Country Club Course at Negley.

Cunningham used a No. 8 iron on the 165-yard hole. He was playing in a foursome with Dick Cunningham, Jack Woomer and Curly Kinsey.

Saints Meet Los Angeles In Exhibition

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)— The New Orleans Saints kick off their National Football League competitive existence tonight against the Los Angeles Rams at Anaheim Stadium.

Stocked by the expansion draft and some highly regarded rookies, the Saints become the 16th NFL club. Coach Tom Fears, a former Rams star, seeks to mold a team which can hold its own against established outfits.

The Saints have quarterback Gary Cuozzo, former understudy to John Unitas at Baltimore, and fullback Jim Taylor, the Green Bay Packers' heavyduty performer for nine seasons.

Fears named only two rookies to his starting units— halfback Don McCall of Southern California and guard Del Williams from Florida State, both on offense.

New Orleans faces a veteran defensive crew which allowed only 212 points in 14 league games a year ago when the Rams compiled an 8-6 record, its best since 1958.

The only change will be Myron Pottios at middle linebacker in place of the retired Bill George.

Brown With Eight Set For Hall Of Fame

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Paul Brown will take a break this weekend to be inducted into pro football's Hall of Fame. He's busy getting ready for his second start in the pros.

The former Cleveland Browns coach will be among eight men enshrined Saturday, bringing the total number to 47 in five years.

The two-day festivities will end Saturday night with a National Football League exhibition game between the Philadelphia Eagles and the Browns at Fawcett Stadium.

Brown will coach the Cincinnati franchise in the American Football League. The AFL is now in the process of working out a player formula to stock the club for the 1968 season. It'll be his sixth coaching job.

Also being inducted are former playing stars Chuck Bednarik, Bobby Layne, Ken Strong Joe Stydahar and Emlen Tunnell, owner Dan Reeves of the Los Angeles Rams and the late Charles Bidwill, who owned the Chicago Cardinals.

Brown is no stranger to the Canton area.

After coaching for two years at Severn Prep, he took over at nearby Massillon High School, Canton's big rival, then moved onto Ohio State University, Great Lakes Naval Station and pro football with Cleveland, the club that still bears his name.

Otto Graham, who was Brown's quarterback at Cleveland and is now coach of the Washington Redskins, will present Brown at the enshrinement ceremony. Brown did the honors when Graham was inducted two years ago.

E. Liverpool Golfer Fires Hole-In-One

Ron Cunningham of East Liverpool joined the hole-in-one club Monday when he fired an ace on the No. 2 hole at the East Palestine Country Club Course at Negley.

Cunningham used a No. 8 iron on the 165-yard hole. He was playing in a foursome with Dick Cunningham, Jack Woomer and Curly Kinsey.

Saints Meet Los Angeles In Exhibition

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP)— The New Orleans Saints kick off their National Football League competitive existence tonight against the Los Angeles Rams at Anaheim Stadium.

Stocked by the expansion draft and some highly regarded rookies, the Saints become the 16th NFL club. Coach Tom Fears, a former Rams star, seeks to mold a team which can hold its own against established outfits.

The Saints have quarterback Gary Cuozzo, former understudy to John Unitas at Baltimore, and fullback Jim Taylor, the Green Bay Packers' heavy-duty performer for nine seasons.

Fears named only two rookies to his starting units— halfback Don McCall of Southern California and guard Del Williams from Florida State, both on offense.

New Orleans faces a veteran defensive crew which allowed only 212 points in 14 league games a year ago when the Rams compiled an 8-6 record, its best since 1958.

The only change will be Myron Pottios at middle linebacker in place of the retired Bill George.

May Have 100 H-Bombs Within 30 Months

Red China Flexing Atomic Muscles

EDITOR'S NOTE—China's H-bomb explosion last June meant a big step forward in its drive to become a major nuclear power. Now her arsenal may grow by leaps and bounds—with dire implications for the West. Here is the first of three articles by an AP team that examined Red China's atomic weaponry and its likely effects on the United States.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Writers

In one searing moment last June 17, the world changed suddenly and drastically.

Red China exploded an H-bomb.

Within 30 months, she may well have 100 of the mammoth bombs, Dr. Ralph Lapp, a nuclear physicist, estimates.

Within that same brief time, she could be stockpiling the missiles needed to lob city-obliterating bombs at American or other targets.

This is far ahead of initial government estimates. Investigation shows U.S. officials have consistently miscalculated the speed of China's nuclear progress.

Ironically, the record also shows the United States educated and then deported to Communist China some of the key nuclear and missile experts who contributed enormously to her achievements.

Super-terror weapons are coming into the hands of a Chinese regime regarded by the West as reckless and paranoid.

"If they think about it, Americans get a gut feeling that spells big trouble," declares Rep. Craig Hosmer of California, a Republican member of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

China's nuclear progress "is frightening," says Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., committee chairman. "China within five years will be a formidable nuclear power."

The possible consequences from China's dealing herself in as a nuclear poker player are widespread and dismaying, an Associated Press study finds:

—It could resolve affirmatively a hot debate whether the United States should drive ahead now for antiballistic missile defenses and perhaps civilian shelters—at a cost to taxpayers that could reach $70 billion as a starter. Such a decision, opponents argue, would only explode the arms race into a new, dangerous and useless spiral.

—China might donate a few A-bombs to Arab countries in the touchy Middle East. Israel then could be impelled to build, beg or borrow bombs of her own.

—China might use bombs to blackmail weaker countries into keeping hands off "people's liberation" wars of rebellion within their own borders.

—Japan, India, other countries could decide to make their own bombs, killing all hopes for a nuclear nonproliferation treaty.

—China, under Mao Tse-tung or more cooperative successors, must be reckoned as a first-class power. The H-bomb gives a soaring boost to Chinese morale, says one top adviser on China to the U.S. government.

"After 100 years of ignominy and having to accept battleships, booze and Bibles forced on them by foreigners, after suffering heartaches and burning in their bellies from all that, the bomb is a tremendous symbol of emancipation from second-class status," he remarks.

It took China only 32 months to leap from her first atomic explosion to detonation of a pretty complete H-bomb. How swiftly may she acquire significant nuclear muscles?

Pentagon and Atomic Energy Commission officials declined requests for interviews, referring queries mainly to a "posture statement" by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara last Jan. 23:

"It appears unlikely that the Chinese could deploy a significant number of operational ICBMs before the mid-1970's, or that these ICBMs would have great reliability, speed of response, or substantial protection against attack."

A "significant number" of ICBM'—intercontinental ballistic missiles—was defined by Pentagon sources at the time as 75 to 100 or more.

McNamara and others have predicted China may test-launch an ICBM before the year's end, or send a Chinese satellite beep-beeping into orbit, signaling progress in control and guidance skills required for pinpointed nuclear missiles.

The estimate that China could have 100 H-bombs by 1970 is made on the basis of published information and other sources by Dr. Lapp, of Washington, D.C., a physicist now in private consulting business who played a roll in A-bomb development.

He credits China with current ability to produce 1,000 pounds per year of uranium 235, the atoms that fission or split in A-weapons.

But Dr. Lapp and others think it would be foolish for China to use costly U-235 for atomic weapons. Instead, they think China will opt to use all or most of it as triggers for H-bombs, with the explosive equivalent of many millions of tons of TNT.

Dr. Lapp estimates China can turn its 1,000 pounds of U-235 into 20 H-bomb triggers each year. That, plus existing stocks and a rising production could mean 100 H-bombs within about 30 more months.

U-235 is the most expensive ingredient in the big bombs. Others such as lithium 6 and heavy water are relatively cheap.

With a large H-bomb, "you can buy the equivalent of a ton of TNT for 40 cents a ton. With smaller A-bombs, the cost is more than $1,000 per ton," says Rep. Hosmer.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., predicts China by the end of 1967 will have a capability for intermediate-range ballistic missiles and will begin deploying them.

These can zoom 1,000 to 1,500 miles or more, and so could menace Soviet Asia and Southeast Asian countries, says Jackson, a member of several military and nuclear affairs committees.

By 1971, China may have ICBMs that could reach North America, the senator adds. By the mid-1970s, China "will have enough bombs and missiles to be a real threat to life in the United States. That's perhaps eight years away, but time flies by."

In eight years, a child progresses from first grade to high school.

When China exploded her H-bomb, she was at least 2½ years ahead of the schedule estimated for her by Westerners.

It took the United States seven years from A-bomb to H-bomb, but there had been no pressure to move quickly when this country had a monopoly on A-weapons. It took the Soviet Union four years, Britain seven, and France is not yet there. China required only two years and eight months. The reasons are intriguing; the record impressive:

—Oct. 16, 1964: The first A-device is detonated from a tower in the dsolate salt flats near Lop Nor—Lake Lop—in the remote northwestern province of Sinkiang, on a site 450 miles from the Soviet frontier. Its force; 20,000 tons of TNT, equal to the Hiroshima bomb 19 years earlier.

Through spy planes and other intelligence, the United States was able to predict the event 17 days in advance, diluting its propaganda value. It was made of U-235, not easier-to-get plutonium; China was more sophisticated in nuclear prowess than had been supposed.

U.S. experts figured China might have H-bombs by 1975. Little official concern was expressed—China still had to produce numerous A-bombs, and means of delivering them.

—May 17, 1965: An air drop of an A-bomb about double the earlier force. U.S. officials spoke in terms of a Chinese H-bomb by 1970.

—May 9, 1966: Test tower detonation of a device of over 200,000 tons of TNT. Ingredients needed for an H-reaction were detected, says Rep. Hosmer.

—Oct. 27, 1966: A missile carried an A-warhead 400 to 500 miles to detonation. The explosive force was perhaps 20,000 tons. Major Asian cities were coming within range.

—Dec. 27, 1966: Probably a proof test of an H-bomb trigger, Hosmer reports. Explosive force, a few hunded thousand tons of TNT.

—June 17, 1967: Proof test for an H-bomb. Its force, "several" millions of tons of TNT, said the Atomic Energy Commission. Furthermore, says Hosmer, it was an air drop, something transportable even if only in one of China's limited-range bombers.

Experts analyzing China's nuclear hurry point to numerous factors:

—Her leaders put top priority on this goal.

—The Soviet Union helped directly for a time; the United States indirectly.

—The Chinese are very smart people, as evidenced by their impressive share of outstanding scientists in many fields.

—They profited hugely from U.S. and Soviet pioneering which showed that A-bombs and H-bombs can be built—that warheads can be designed to fit atop missiles—that gaseous diffusion is an effective way of separating U-235 from ordinary uranium.

This fact alone saved them half to 80 per cent of the time and effort Americans had to spend originally in various phases of weapons development, Dr. Philip Abelson, editor of Science magazine, estimates.

—China worked simultaneously to develop bombs and missiles, then to marry the two. The United States and the Soviet Union got weapons first, with bombers to carry them, then made ICBMs to hurl them. China could take a shortcut.

—There are conflicting reports whether China tumbled onto a quicker and cheaper way—a centrifuging process—to concentrate U-235.

—China's scientists and engineers in nuclear-missile work were "insulated from the frightening and deleterious antics of the cultural revolution," says a China authority who advises the U.S. government. "They had to go through the formula of adulating Mao, but they didn't have to interrupt their work, or have signs glued onto them."

—China spent heavily in skilled manpower, resources and foreign exchange at a cost of not pursuing or else limiting, other needs.

Rep. Hosmer estimates China is spending about $1 billion annually on nuclear and missile development, or some 4 per cent of her gross national product.

She is getting what the Maoists want—nuclear war power.

In China with this new kind of might, says a China-watcher, "maybe we are seeing the manifestation of a giant waking, and stretching, and kicking."

Steer Auction Set For Fair

LISBON — Ninety head of steers raised by Columbiana County 4-H'ers and Future Farmers of America will go to the auction ring at 8 p. m. Aug. 24 at the County Fair.

Robert Lewis, county 4-H extension agent, said the show and sale in the coliseum will be a highlight of the year for the 66 boys and girls enrolled in the steer project.

He expressed concern that there may be a shortage of buyers because of the high number of steers and invited businesses and individuals to support the 4-H program by joining the buyers' circle.

Lewis said anyone interested in buying a steer should contact a local processor and make arrangements. Most county meat packers and processors will be happy to assist groups willing to buy steers at the annual sale, he said.

Glenn Shreve of Damascus will direct the sale for the county 4-H Steer Committee.

Police Get Okay To Take Jobs As Taxicab Drivers

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City police have for the first time been authorized to take jobs as taxi drivers during off-duty hours, and they may carry their service pistols while doing so.

Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary granted the permission in a special announcement, it was learned Tuesday night.

The effect of the move was expected to be twofold: first, the presence of armed officers in some cabs was expected to be a deterrent to would-be criminals and thereby reduce the number of assaults and robberies of drivers.

Second, the availability of a pool of potential drivers should ease the taxi shortage. Industry sources said thousands of cabs are idle some shifts each day for lack of drivers.

Local Youth Unhurt When Car Rolls Over

A city youth escaped injury when his compact rolled over on Route 43, a tenth of a mile south of Richmond in Jefferson County, Tuesday at 4:10 p.m.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Wintersville said the 1962 model operated by Alfonzo Foster, 18, of 170 Haywood St. was demolished.

Foster, who was cited for speed in excess of conditions, was northbound when he lost control on a right curve. The car went left of center, off the opposite side and rolled.

May Have 100 H-Bombs Within 30 Months

Red China Flexing Atomic Muscles

EDITOR'S NOTE—China's H-bomb explosion last June meant a big step forward in its drive to become a major nuclear power. Now her arsenal may grow by leaps and bounds—with dire implications for the West. Here is the first of three articles by an AP team that examined Red China's atomic weaponry and its likely effects on the United States.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE and WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Writers

In one searing moment last June 17, the world changed suddenly and drastically.

Red China exploded an H-bomb.

Within 30 months, she may well have 100 of the mammoth bombs, Dr. Ralph Lapp, a nuclear physicist, estimates.

Within that same brief time, she could be stockpiling the missiles needed to lob city-obliterating bombs at American or other targets.

This is far ahead of initial government estimates. Investigation shows U.S. officials have consistently miscalculated the speed of China's nuclear progress.

Ironically, the record also shows the United States educated and then deported to Communist China some of the key nuclear and missile experts who contributed enormously to her achievements.

Super-terror weapons are coming into the hands of a Chinese regime regarded by the West as reckless and paranoid.

"If they think about it, Americans get a gut feeling that spells big trouble," declares Rep. Craig Hosmer of California, a Republican member of the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The policeman didn't know whose car it was and he wound up giving a ticket to Eisenhower and Nixon—and to make things worse they hauled it away with a tow truck.

In this case, the Eisenhower name belonged to the former president's granddaughters, Barbara Anne and Mary Jean, and the Nixon was Julie—daughter of the former vice president.

They had come to Philadelphia for a newspaper interview and left their car in an illegal parking zone Tuesday. The newspaper paid the $3 fine and the girls picked up their car.

Steer Auction Set For Fair

LISBON — Ninety head of steers raised by Columbiana County 4-H'ers and Future Farmers of America will go to the auction ring at 8 p. m. Aug. 24 at the County Fair.

Robert Lewis, county 4-H extension agent, said the show and sale in the coliseum will be a highlight of the year for the 66 boys and girls enrolled in the steer project.

He expressed concern that there may be a shortage of buyers because of the high number of steers and invited businesses and individuals to support the 4-H program by joining the buyers' circle.

Lewis said anyone interested in buying a steer should contact a local processor and make arrangements. Most county meat packers and processors will be happy to assist groups willing to buy steers at the annual sale, he said.

Glenn Shreve of Damascus will direct the sale for the county 4-H Steer Committee.

Police Get Okay To Take Jobs As Taxicab Drivers

NEW YORK (AP) — New York City police have for the first time been authorized to take jobs as taxi drivers during off-duty hours, and they may carry their service pistols while doing so.

Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary granted the permission in a special announcement, it was learned Tuesday night.

The effect of the move was expected to be twofold: first, the presence of armed officers in some cabs was expected to be a deterrent to would-be criminals and thereby reduce the number of assaults and robberies of drivers.

Second, the availability of a pool of potential drivers should ease the taxi shortage. Industry sources said thousands of cabs are idle some shifts each day for lack of drivers.

Wounded, Wants Back In Action

U.S. Soldier Goes AWOL To Fight In Vietnam War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louis Melendez wasn't supposed to be in Vietnam— but the Army says chances he'll be punished for deserting basic training are slight indeed.

After all, how many soldiers go absent without leave to fight in Vietnam?

That's what the 18-year-old Melendez did—twice. The native of Bayamon, Puerto Rico, currently is at Walter Reed Military Hospital here, undergoing treatment for shrapnel wounds suffered during his second stint on the front lines.

He still wants to go back to Vietnam and "do something for my country," he told the Washington Post.

Melendez joined the Army last November and was assigned to training at Ft. Benning, Ga.

"But you know," he told the Post, "I was sitting there after three weeks of training and I had seven more weeks to go when I heard they wanted me to go to jump school, which was going to be another four weeks.

"That morning I read about how 250 Green Berets had been killed in battle and that depressed me very much."

He said he deserted camp and took a plane from Atlanta to New York. He reported to Ft. Hamilton in Brooklyn, and there told officers he was home on emergency leave from Vietnam. He also said he was due back the next day but had lost his orders.

Ft. Hamilton authorities, not wanting to see a soldier get in trouble by failing to report as scheduled, drafted what they thought were duplicate orders, he said. Melendez flew to San Francisco, where he boarded a Vietnam-bound plane.

Arriving in Vietnam, he showed his Ft. Hamilton-drafted orders and was assigned to the Fifth Special Forces.

He served and fought with the unit for three months before his past caught up and he was shipped back to Ft. Benning.

But he stayed only a week before going AWOL again. Using the same scheme, he said he not only made it back to Vietnam but was assigned again to the Fifth Special Forces. He fought with a unit in the Mekong Delta, where he was wounded May 15.

His repeat ruse was uncovered during his subsequent stay in a U.S. hospital in Japan.

The Post quoted Col. Richard Louis Traub, commander of the medical holding company at Walter Reed, as saying Melendez probably will be discharged soon.

Six Road Deaths Bring Appeal To District Drivers

The worst month - long traffic fatality record since 1966 has prompted Sgt. Ralph Rizzo of the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon to issue an appeal for caution on the part of area motorists.

Sgt. Rizzo said six persons died on Columbiana County roads and streets in July, the worst fatality record since October 1966 when eight were killed.

Referring to past traffic accident patterns, he said August through September loom as dangerous months, and suggested drivers follow six important rules while behind the wheel:

Make sure the car is in good mechanical condition, make sure the driver is in good physical and mental condition, drive at safe and sane speeds, drive on the proper side of the road, don't pass on hills, curves or at intersections, obey all signs and signals and don't drive after drinking.

Sgt. Rizzo said there were 110 accidents investigated in the county by the patrol last month. There were 38 injury accidents in which 67 were hurt. Officers made 409 arrests and issued 236 written warnings.

Assistance was given 113 motorists.

Motorist Will Face Hearing In Accident

NEW CUMBERLAND — A Pennsylvania driver will appear before Squire John D. Herron Aug. 21 on a charge of reckless driving after an accident on Route 66 near the intersection of Route 2 Tuesday night.

Richard J. Severson, 30, of Pittsburgh was headed south when he lost control and his car tore up several feet of guardrail and overturned. There was heavy damage to the car, but Severson was not injured.

The accident occurred at 11:55.

Next to green, red is the most predominant color in nature.

Florida Firm Takes Over At Chester Plant

The Jim Walter Corp. of Tampa, Fla., officially has taken over the Allied Chemical Co.'s Barrett Division plant at Chester, the former T-K Roofing Co.

John Burnquist, who continues as manager, said the plant's name has been changed to the Cellotex Corp. Between 65 and 100 are employed.

The facility was part of a $48 million sale of Allied's assets in the building materials business.

Of that amount, Allied received $20 million in cash and the balance in a new $40-par preferred stock of Jim Walter, convertible into Jim Walter common on a share - for - share basis.

Allied officials said the Barrett Division was sold because other phases of the corporation's operations have continued to move away from the building materials business. In addition, Allied's first - quarter earnings were down more than $2 million.

Allied Chemical purchased the plant from Ted Kashuba more than a year before the sale to Jim Walter.

Action Due Soon On Applications

LISBON — The Policy Advisory Committee of the Community Action Committee of Columbiana County, Inc., will meet next week to consider applications for the new position of administrative assistant.

Personnel in the CAC office at the county welfare building here said there are several applications, but they will not know exactly how many until they check with the East Liverpool and Salem offices of the Ohio State Employment Service.

Tuesday was the deadline for applications for the $6,600-a-year position to be added next month.

Applicants who pass the preliminary screening will be interviewed by the Board of Trustees. The next regular meeting of the board will be Aug. 22.

At cocktail time, insert small frankfurters in a head of cabbage and serve the franks with a tangy sauce. To prepare the cabbage, choose a dark green head, rinse thoroughly and dry. Trim base so head will stand steady. Curl loose outer leaves down and away from the head.

Projects Set For Post 70

Plans were made to have the exterior of the post home sandblasted as well as other building additions during a meeting of American Legion Post 70 of Wellsville Monday night.

Jerome Gitschier, commander, said the kitchen area also will be sandblasted and a new storeroom built adjacent to the home.

Michael Sweeney of East Liverpool, the first president of a newly - formed tri-state 40 & 8 Association was a guest at the meeting, along with James Cregar, 10th District commander. Sweeney said that the new association will meet twice a year in each of the states, with the first session Oct. 29 at the Wellsville post.

Cregar outlined fall events, including a fall conference Oct. 14 at Post 33 in Steubenville.

Gitschier said a family picnic will be held Aug. 27 at James Lake.

James Ralston served as adjutant in the absence of Harry Excell. Thomas Enochs, chairman of a book and magazine collection for veterans' hospitals, said a container had been placed in the post home.

George Wilkins, chaplain, gave a visitation report.

Members and guests who want to watch an all-star game on the post's color television Friday will be served refreshments, Gitschier said. Those in charge will be David Rife, Dorman Householder and Daun Gitschier. Frances House, past commander, reported that he has contacted the Pittsburgh Steelers to obtain a speaker for a post meeting.

Kenny Nichols and his band will provide music for dancing at a St. Rocco's dance Saturday from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. Gitschier said it was being held in observance of the annual St. Rocco's celebration.

Motorist Fined $10 In 'Double Line' Case

LISBON — Harvey Richards of Elkton, charged with passing on a double yellow line, was found guilty Tuesday night by Acting Mayor Clyde B. Pike and was fined $10 and costs.

Lisbon police arrested Richards Thursday afternoon on a complaint filed by Brenda K. Wherry of the Salem Rd. She said Richards passed her car on N. Market St. and almost crowded her off the highway.

It has been estimated that some 100,000 Europeans live on boats and canal barges.

Canton Man Who Threatened Four Of Family Slain

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — An Ohio man who threatened to shoot four members of his family after a drinking spree has been killed by sheriff's deputies in this southern California beach town.

Officers were told Albert Heimes, 47, of Canton, Ohio, began shooting at furniture and walls after forcing his wife, Betty Lou, 40, his daughter Lorrie, 6, a married daughter, Linda Pelton, and their granddaughter, Michelle, 3, to line up against a wall. It was at the home of William T. Plotts, 44, Heimes' brother-in-law.

The shooting continued for some five hours while Plotts was at work before Mrs. Heimes was able to escape and call for help.

As five deputies surrounded the home the remaining members of the family fled. When the deputies ordered Heimes to come out of the house, they said, he opened fire. Their return fire hit Heimes several times, killing him.

Heimes had been drinking heavily before the incident, officers were told.

Licenseless Motorist Gets Impressing Term

"What will I do to impress you with the fact you cannot drive without a license?" Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff asked a West End man today after sentencing him to a 90-day County Jail term for the second time in eight months on a charge of operating a car without a permit.

Robert E. Adkins of 942 Fairview St. was arrested at 2:48 this morning on W. 8th St. by Patrolman James Buckley. Queried by the judge, he admitted he was sentenced to a 90-day jail term last December, also for driving without a license, and then bought another car and began to drive again after his release.

The grandson of a Midland couple drowned Tuesday afternoon when he apparently fell into a pond near his home at Patterson Heights, west of Beaver Falls.

The victim was John Roony III, 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rooney and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. D'Innocenzo of Midland.

Beaver County Deputy Coroner Mearl Bozett said the child drowned about 20 minutes after he was last seen by a housekeeper, Edythe Hobson. He was pronounced dead at the Beaver Falls Unit of the Beaver Valley Providence General Hospital.

The mother was treated for shock. Private funeral services will be held Thursday at 9 a.m. at the J. & J. Spratt Funeral Home at New Brighton. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery at Beaver Falls.

Weirton Cyclist Escapes Unhurt In Local Mishap

A 33-year-old Weirton area man escaped injury in a collision between his motorcycle and a Salem man's auto at 12:09 a. m. today on Dresden Ave., police reported.

The 1967 motorcycle ridden by George W. Males of Weirton RD 1 was struck from behind by a 1965 sedan operated by F. Howard Walker, 19, of 661 E. Perry Ave., Salem, officers said. Males told Patrolman Charles Coen he was southbound and attempting a right turn into an ice cream stand when the car hit his motorcycle.

The mishap scratched and dented a saddlebag and a chrome rail of the motorcycle.

Meanwhile, a 1964 sedan driven by Alan Lee Cornell, 23, of 1167 Lisbon St. and a 1965 compact sedan operated by Frederick P. Schultz, 17, of 1407 St. Clair Ave. were damaged in a mishap at 6th St. and Dresden Ave. Tuesday at 5:28 p. m., officers said.

Cornell, turning from Dresden Ave. onto 6th St., bumped the left side of the Schultz car, officers said. Cornell told Patrolman James Woods he was looking to see if a shoe store on 6th St. was open.

Raphael's painting of the "Sistine Madonna" is in the Dresden Gallery.

Wounded, Wants Back In Action

U.S. Soldier Goes AWOL To Fight In Vietnam War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louis Melendez wasn't supposed to be in Vietnam— but the Army says chances he'll be punished for deserting basic training are slight indeed.

After all, how many soldiers go absent without leave to fight in Vietnam?

That's what the 18-year-old Melendez did—twice. The native of Bayamon, Puerto Rico, currently is at Walter Reed Military Hospital here, undergoing treatment for shrapnel wounds suffered during his second stint on the front lines.

He still wants to go back to Vietnam and "do something for my country," he told the Washington Post.

Melendez joined the Army last November and was assigned to training at Ft. Benning, Ga.

"But you know," he told the Post, "I was sitting there after three weeks of training and I had seven more weeks to go when I heard they wanted me to go to jump school, which was going to be another four weeks.

"That morning I read about how 250 Green Berets had been killed in battle and that depressed me very much."

He said he deserted camp and took a plane from Atlanta to New York. He reported to Ft. Hamilton in Brooklyn, and there told officers he was home on emergency leave from Vietnam. He also said he was due back the next day but had lost his orders.

Ft. Hamilton authorities, not wanting to see a soldier get in trouble by failing to report as scheduled, drafted what they thought were duplicate orders, he said. Melendez flew to San Francisco, where he boarded a Vietnam-bound plane.

Arriving in Vietnam, he showed his Ft. Hamilton-drafted orders and was assigned to the Fifth Special Forces.

He served and fought with the unit for three months before his past caught up and he was shipped back to Ft. Benning.

But he stayed only a week before going AWOL again. Using the same scheme, he said he not only made it back to Vietnam but was assigned again to the Fifth Special Forces. He fought with a unit in the Mekong Delta, where he was wounded May 15.

His repeat ruse was uncovered during his subsequent stay in a U.S. hospital in Japan.

The Post quoted Col. Richard Louis Traub, commander of the medical holding company at Walter Reed, as saying Melendez probably will be discharged soon.

Six Road Deaths Bring Appeal To District Drivers

The worst month - long traffic fatality record since 1966 has prompted Sgt. Ralph Rizzo of the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon to issue an appeal for caution on the part of area motorists.

Sgt. Rizzo said six persons died on Columbiana County roads and streets in July, the worst fatality record since October 1966 when eight were killed.

Referring to past traffic accident patterns, he said August through September loom as dangerous months, and suggested drivers follow six important rules while behind the wheel:

Make sure the car is in good mechanical condition, make sure the driver is in good physical and mental condition, drive at safe and sane speeds, drive on the proper side of the road, don't pass on hills, curves or at intersections, obey all signs and signals and don't drive after drinking.

Sgt. Rizzo said there were 110 accidents investigated in the county by the patrol last month. There were 38 injury accidents in which 67 were hurt. Officers made 409 arrests and issued 236 written warnings.

Assistance was given 113 motorists.

Motorist Will Face Hearing In Accident

NEW CUMBERLAND — A Pennsylvania driver will appear before Squire John D. Herron Aug. 21 on a charge of reckless driving after an accident on Route 66 near the intersection of Route 2 Tuesday night.

Richard J. Severson, 30, of Pittsburgh was headed south when he lost control and his car tore up several feet of guardrail and overturned. There was heavy damage to the car, but Severson was not injured.

The accident occurred at 11:55.

Next to green, red is the most predominant color in nature.

Florida Firm Takes Over At Chester Plant

The Jim Walter Corp. of Tampa, Fla., officially has taken over the Allied Chemical Co.'s Barrett Division plant at Chester, the former T-K Roofing Co.

John Burnquist, who continues as manager, said the plant's name has been changed to the Cellotex Corp. Between 65 and 100 are employed.

The facility was part of a $48 million sale of Allied's assets in the building materials business.

Of that amount, Allied received $20 million in cash and the balance in a new $40-par preferred stock of Jim Walter, convertible into Jim Walter common on a share - for - share basis.

Allied officials said the Barrett Division was sold because other phases of the corporation's operations have continued to move away from the building materials business. In addition, Allied's first - quarter earnings were down more than $2 million.

Allied Chemical purchased the plant from Ted Kashuba more than a year before the sale to Jim Walter.

Action Due Soon On Applications

LISBON — The Policy Advisory Committee of the Community Action Committee of Columbiana County, Inc., will meet next week to consider applications for the new position of administrative assistant.

Personnel in the CAC office at the county welfare building here said there are several applications, but they will not know exactly how many until they check with the East Liverpool and Salem offices of the Ohio State Employment Service.

Tuesday was the deadline for applications for the $6,600-a-year position to be added next month.

Applicants who pass the preliminary screening will be interviewed by the Board of Trustees. The next regular meeting of the board will be Aug. 22.

At cocktail time, insert small frankfurters in a head of cabbage and serve the franks with a tangy sauce. To prepare the cabbage, choose a dark green head, rinse thoroughly and dry. Trim base so head will stand steady. Curl loose outer leaves down and away from the head.

Projects Set For Post 70

Plans were made to have the exterior of the post home sandblasted as well as other building additions during a meeting of American Legion Post 70 of Wellsville Monday night.

Jerome Gitschier, commander, said the kitchen area also will be sandblasted and a new storeroom built adjacent to the home.

Michael Sweeney of East Liverpool, the first president of a newly - formed tri-state 40 & 8 Association was a guest at the meeting, along with James Cregar, 10th District commander. Sweeney said that the new association will meet twice a year in each of the states, with the first session Oct. 29 at the Wellsville post.

Cregar outlined fall events, including a fall conference Oct. 14 at Post 33 in Steubenville.

Gitschier said a family picnic will be held Aug. 27 at James Lake.

James Ralston served as adjutant in the absence of Harry Excell. Thomas Enochs, chairman of a book and magazine collection for veterans' hospitals, said a container had been placed in the post home.

George Wilkins, chaplain, gave a visitation report.

Members and guests who want to watch an all-star game on the post's color television Friday will be served refreshments, Gitschier said. Those in charge will be David Rife, Dorman Householder and Daun Gitschier. Frances House, past commander, reported that he has contacted the Pittsburgh Steelers to obtain a speaker for a post meeting.

Kenny Nichols and his band will provide music for dancing at a St. Rocco's dance Saturday from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m. Gitschier said it was being held in observance of the annual St. Rocco's celebration.

Motorist Fined $10 In 'Double Line' Case

LISBON — Harvey Richards of Elkton, charged with passing on a double yellow line, was found guilty Tuesday night by Acting Mayor Clyde B. Pike and was fined $10 and costs.

Lisbon police arrested Richards Thursday afternoon on a complaint filed by Brenda K. Wherry of the Salem Rd. She said Richards passed her car on N. Market St. and almost crowded her off the highway.

It has been estimated that some 100,000 Europeans live on boats and canal barges.

Canton Man Who Threatened Four Of Family Slain

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — An Ohio man who threatened to shoot four members of his family after a drinking spree has been killed by sheriff's deputies in this southern California beach town.

Officers were told Albert Heimes, 47, of Canton, Ohio, began shooting at furniture and walls after forcing his wife, Betty Lou, 40, his daughter Lorrie, 6, a married daughter, Linda Pelton, and their granddaughter, Michelle, 3, to line up against a wall. It was at the home of William T. Plotts, 44, Heimes' brother-in-law.

The shooting continued for some five hours while Plotts was at work before Mrs. Heimes was able to escape and call for help.

As five deputies surrounded the home the remaining members of the family fled. When the deputies ordered Heimes to come out of the house, they said, he opened fire. Their return fire hit Heimes several times, killing him.

Heimes had been drinking heavily before the incident, officers were told.

Licenseless Motorist Gets Impressing Term

"What will I do to impress you with the fact you cannot drive without a license?" Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff asked a West End man today after sentencing him to a 90-day County Jail term for the second time in eight months on a charge of operating a car without a permit.

Robert E. Adkins of 942 Fairview St. was arrested at 2:48 this morning on W. 8th St. by Patrolman James Buckley. Queried by the judge, he admitted he was sentenced to a 90-day jail term last December, also for driving without a license, and then bought another car and began to drive again after his release.

Beaver Man Named

Herbert Atkins and Raymond Ehrman of Pittsburgh also were nominated to the board. Their names were submitted to the Senate at Harrisburg Tuesday for confirmation.

Our word "witches" comes from the Anglo-Saxon "wica," which means "wise ones."

Infant Loses Life In Pond

The grandson of a Midland couple drowned Tuesday afternoon when he apparently fell into a pond near his home at Patterson Heights, west of Beaver Falls.

The victim was John Roony III, 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rooney and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. D'Innocenzo of Midland.

Beaver County Deputy Coroner Mearl Bozett said the child drowned about 20 minutes after he was last seen by a housekeeper, Edythe Hobson. He was pronounced dead at the Beaver Falls Unit of the Beaver Valley Providence General Hospital.

The mother was treated for shock. Private funeral services will be held Thursday at 9 a.m. at the J. & J. Spratt Funeral Home at New Brighton. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery at Beaver Falls.

Friends may call at the funeral home today from 5 to 9 p.m.

Weirton Cyclist Escapes Unhurt In Local Mishap

A 33-year-old Weirton area man escaped injury in a collision between his motorcycle and a Salem man's auto at 12:09 a. m. today on Dresden Ave., police reported.

The 1967 motorcycle ridden by George W. Males of Weirton RD 1 was struck from behind by a 1965 sedan operated by F. Howard Walker, 19, of 661 E. Perry Ave., Salem, officers said. Males told Patrolman Charles Coen he was southbound and attempting a right turn into an ice cream stand when the car hit his motorcycle.

The mishap scratched and dented a saddlebag and a chrome rail of the motorcycle.

Meanwhile, a 1964 sedan driven by Alan Lee Cornell, 23, of 1167 Lisbon St. and a 1965 compact sedan operated by Frederick P. Schultz, 17, of 1407 St. Clair Ave. were damaged in a mishap at 6th St. and Dresden Ave. Tuesday at 5:28 p. m., officers said.

Cornell, turning from Dresden Ave. onto 6th St., bumped the left side of the Schultz car, officers said. Cornell told Patrolman James Woods he was looking to see if a shoe store on 6th St. was open.

Raphael's painting of the "Sistine Madonna" is in the Dresden Gallery.

Tax Collections Up During July In Pensylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — Tax collections for July, the first month of the 1967-68 fiscal year, amounted to $61.2 million, $4.7 million above the figure reported for the same month last year.

The Office of Administration noted Tuesday that the total collection of $61,207,000 reflected an increase of 8.4 per cent over last July's take, while the administration of Gov. Shafer had projected an increase of only 2.75 per cent.

On the other hand, the two largest tax sources, the 5 per cent sales tax and the corporate net income tax, both missed their marks.

Sales tax collections amounted to $19.2 million, $345,000 or 1.8 per cent higher than July a year ago. The administration is projecting a 5.05 per cent increase in the sales tax for the new fiscal year.

Th bat is the only mammal that is able to fly.

Navarre Man Heads Student Loan Group

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Robert P. Zeigler of Navarre was named Tuesday as executive director of the Ohio Student Loan Commission.

He will be in charge of administering Ohio's student loan guarantee program under which financial assistance is made available to qualified students participating in higher and vocational education.

The name Judas tree has been given to a species of redbud because it is believed Judas hanged himself on such a tree.

National Steel Boosts Tinplate Prices By 2.7%

PITTSBURGH (AP) — National Steel Corp. announced Tuesday it's raising prices on its tin plate, used in containers, by an average of 2.7 per cent.

National said the price increases are the second since 1958, and said the price of tin has nearly doubled since then.

The latest increases, which become effective Sept. 5, are 25 cents per 100-lb. sheet of conventional uncoated to $8.25; 25 cents per 60-lb. sheet of conventional electrolytic plate to $10.25; 15 cents per 60-lb sheet of double reduced, electrolytic to $6.95 and 15 cents per 60-lb sheet of double reduce uncoated to $5.60.

In 1965, National hiked prices on electrolytic plate by 25 cents per sheet and dropped uncoated plate by 45 cents a sheet.

The president of the Panama Canal Zone is appointed by the President with confirmation by the Senate.

Murder Trial Of 2 Delayed Till Sept. 18

CHICAGO, Ohio (AP) — The start of the trial of two men charged with murdering a Chicago man and dumping his body into a quarry near Van-Wert, Ohio, a year ago now has been postponed until Sept. 18, it was announced Tuesday.

The trial of John W. Sparks, 32, of Indianapolis, and Charles Duncan, 20, of Middle Point, Ohio, has been postponed repeatedly because of illness and a heavy court docket.

Death Valley, Calif., 282 feet below sea level, is the lowest point in North America.

National Steel Boosts Tinplate Prices By 2.7%

PITTSBURGH (AP) — National Steel Corp. announced Tuesday it's raising prices on its tin plate, used in containers, by an average of 2.7 per cent.

National said the price increases are the second since 1958, and said the price of tin has nearly doubled since then.

The latest increases, which become effective Sept. 5, are 25 cents per 100-lb. sheet of conventional uncoated to $8.25; 25 cents per 60-lb. sheet of conventional electrolytic plate to $10.25; 15 cents per 60-lb sheet of double reduced, electrolytic to $6.95 and 15 cents per 60-lb sheet of double reduce uncoated to $5.60.

In 1965, National hiked prices on electrolytic plate by 25 cents per sheet and dropped uncoated plate by 45 cents a sheet.

The president of the Panama Canal Zone is appointed by the President with confirmation by the Senate.

Murder Trial Of 2 Delayed Till Sept. 18

CHICAGO, Ohio (AP) — The start of the trial of two men charged with murdering a Chicago man and dumping his body into a quarry near Van-Wert, Ohio, a year ago now has been postponed until Sept. 18, it was announced Tuesday.

The trial of John W. Sparks, 32, of Indianapolis, and Charles Duncan, 20, of Middle Point, Ohio, has been postponed repeatedly because of illness and a heavy court docket.

Death Valley, Calif., 282 feet below sea level, is the lowest point in North America.

Caucus Also Slated

Special Meeting Due For Council

Unable to enact five pieces of pending legislation Tuesday night for lack of sufficient votes, City Council scheduled a special session next Monday night.

Six votes would have been required to approve most of the legislation immediately under suspension of the rules, but only five voting members attended. But Council met for nearly 90 minutes, regardless, settling a series of questions in a caucus session before adjourning.

THE SPECIAL session is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. It will be preceded by a caucus session at 7 in which Council will confer with Harold Sneddon, district manager of the Ohio Valley Gas Co., on the utility's request for a rate increase in East Liverpool.

Councilmen Floyd Murray and Robert W. Sample were absent from the session, which officially was a continuation of the regular meeting of July 17. Attending were Councilmen Harold Maylone, James Lowe, Norman Bucher, Donna Richards Wilson, Frank P. Duffy and Ernest Lowe, president, along with Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robrt E. Vodrey.

In the caucus session, Council also accepted two proposals from the mayor calling for borrowing of a total of $15,000 to finance three major repair and improvement projects — $6,000 for a bulldozer garage for the new sanitary landfill dump on the Y. & O. Rd. and $9,000 for improvements at Central Fire Station, including $4,000 for a new boiler for the heating system and $5,000 to replace the roof.

The mayor pointed out that the incinerator department soon will occupy the new landfill property, a huge strip - mined area on an abandoned farm which the city bought in 1966. He said the department needs a garage to protect the bulldozer which is used daily to cover the waste.

THE BUILDING will be erected of concrete blocks, with a concrete floor, he said. The mayor pointed out the structure will be built as economically as possible and bonds will be issued only for the amount actually required. He said the administration hopes the garage can be erected before winter weather arrives.

The mayor and director cited the need for a new heating boiler and roof at the fire station. Vodrey explained $4,000 previously was allocated for replacement of the boiler, but it was transferred about a month ago to help raise funds for paying a new ambulance subsidy. He also pointed out that the roof of the building leaks so badly in four places that buckets must be placed on the floor to catch the water during a rainstorm. If the work is delayed, it will boost the final cost because of damage to plaster, the director said.

THE HOLDOVER legislation due for action at the special meeting would:

1.—Authorize the administration to call for bids and sell the abandoned street department barn on Lisbon St. at W. 9th St.

2.—Authorize the Board of Park Commissioners to lease for $1 a year the property near the Trinity United Presbyterian Church which is used as a Lincoln School area playground.

3.—Pay members of the police and fire departments an additional sum equivalent to four days' salary per year in lieu of four paid holidays on which they agreed with Council during wage negotiations last spring.

4.—Amend the 1967 appropriation ordinance, primarily by providing $5,358 more toward the city's share of the annual low-cost street surfacing program.

5.—Pay Mr. and Mrs. Ben Feldman of St. Clair Ave. $500. in settlement of their claim against the city for reconstruction of a driveway and yard slopes necessitated when the three-lane section of St. Clair Ave. was built.

Council accepted a suggestion from Duffy to send a notice to a Price St. property owner notifying him to cut weeds on his land. The notice will stipulate if the weeds are not cut the city will have the work performed and bill the cost to the owner on the tax duplicate under a "weed control" ordinance enacted last year.

Vodrey asked the street committee to make a series of inspections with him Saturday morning on requests for traffic and parking changes affecting stretches of E. 3rd St., Union St. and Back Alley.

Quakers Suggest Plan For Cease-Fire In Viet

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The Quakers today offered a formula for a cease-fire in Vietnam and asked for a reconvening of the Geneva Conference to work out a peace settlement.

To open the way for negotiations, they urged that the United States, North Vietnam and South Vietnam halt all military operations on a "cease-fire-unless-fired-upon basis."

The delegates indicated general agreement on the proposal Tuesday, suggesting only minor revisions.

The Quaker peace proposal said the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong) in South Vietnam should be represented at a reconvening of the Geneva Conference during the cease-fire. The statement also said any peace settlement should provide for "national independence and neutralization of Vietnam."

Declaring that the Vietnam war "is solving and can solve nothing," the Quakers urged the world's peoples to "demand that their governments withdraw all support" from the war, and bring it to an end.

"A dramatic act on the part of the U.S. and its allies, including the government of South Vietnam, is required in order to get negotiations started," the statement said.

It then suggested the "cease-fire-unless-fired-upon" course with simultaneous international inspection and a request for reconvening the Geneva Conference.

There are approximately 22 million war veterans in the United States, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Caucus Also Slated

Special Meeting Due For Council

Unable to enact five pieces of pending legislation Tuesday night for lack of sufficient votes, City Council scheduled a special session next Monday night.

Six votes would have been required to approve most of the legislation immediately under suspension of the rules, but only five voting members attended. But Council met for nearly 90 minutes, regardless, settling a series of questions in a caucus session before adjourning.

THE SPECIAL session is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. It will be preceded by a caucus session at 7 in which Council will confer with Harold Sneddon, district manager of the Ohio Valley Gas Co., on the utility's request for a rate increase in East Liverpool.

Councilmen Floyd Murray and Robert W. Sample were absent from the session, which officially was a continuation of the regular meeting of July 17. Attending were Councilmen Harold Maylone, James Lowe, Norman Bucher, Donna Richards Wilson, Frank P. Duffy and Ernest Lowe, president, along with Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robrt E. Vodrey.

In the caucus session, Council also accepted two proposals from the mayor calling for borrowing of a total of $15,000 to finance three major repair and improvement projects — $6,000 for a bulldozer garage for the new sanitary landfill dump on the Y. & O. Rd. and $9,000 for improvements at Central Fire Station, including $4,000 for a new boiler for the heating system and $5,000 to replace the roof.

The mayor pointed out that the incinerator department soon will occupy the new landfill property, a huge strip - mined area on an abandoned farm which the city bought in 1966. He said the department needs a garage to protect the bulldozer which is used daily to cover the waste.

THE BUILDING will be erected of concrete blocks, with a concrete floor, he said. The mayor pointed out the structure will be built as economically as possible and bonds will be issued only for the amount actually required. He said the administration hopes the garage can be erected before winter weather arrives.

The mayor and director cited the need for a new heating boiler and roof at the fire station. Vodrey explained $4,000 previously was allocated for replacement of the boiler, but it was transferred about a month ago to help raise funds for paying a new ambulance subsidy. He also pointed out that the roof of the building leaks so badly in four places that buckets must be placed on the floor to catch the water during a rainstorm. If the work is delayed, it will boost the final cost because of damage to plaster, the director said.

Council agreed informally to instruct the solicitor to present legislation to borrow the $15,000 at the special meeting next Monday.

THE HOLDOVER legislation due for action at the special meeting would:

1.—Authorize the administration to call for bids and sell the abandoned street department barn on Lisbon St. at W. 9th St.

2.—Authorize the Board of Park Commissioners to lease for $1 a year the property near the Trinity United Presbyterian Church which is used as a Lincoln School area playground.

3.—Pay members of the police and fire departments an additional sum equivalent to four days' salary per year in lieu of four paid holidays on which they agreed with Council during wage negotiations last spring.

4.—Amend the 1967 appropriation ordinance, primarily by providing $5,358 more toward the city's share of the annual low-cost street surfacing program.

5.—Pay Mr. and Mrs. Ben Feldman of St. Clair Ave. $500. in settlement of their claim against the city for reconstruction of a driveway and yard slopes necessitated when the three-lane section of St. Clair Ave. was built.

Council accepted a suggestion from Duffy to send a notice to a Price St. property owner notifying him to cut weeds on his land. The notice will stipulate if the weeds are not cut the city will have the work performed and bill the cost to the owner on the tax duplicate under a "weed control" ordinance enacted last year.

Vodrey asked the street committee to make a series of inspections with him Saturday morning on requests for traffic and parking changes affecting stretches of E. 3rd St., Union St. and Back Alley.

Quakers Suggest Plan For Cease-Fire In Viet

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The Quakers today offered a formula for a cease-fire in Vietnam and asked for a reconvening of the Geneva Conference to work out a peace settlement.

To open the way for negotiations, they urged that the United States, North Vietnam and South Vietnam halt all military operations on a "cease-fire-unless-fired-upon basis."

The appeal was drawn up in nine days of work by a special section of the Friends World Conference meeting here. Quaker representatives from 35 countries are attending.

The delegates indicated general agreement on the proposal Tuesday, suggesting only minor revisions.

The Quaker peace proposal said the National Liberation Front (Viet Cong) in South Vietnam should be represented at a reconvening of the Geneva Conference during the cease-fire. The statement also said any peace settlement should provide for "national independence and neutralization of Vietnam."

Declaring that the Vietnam war "is solving and can solve nothing," the Quakers urged the world's peoples to "demand that their governments withdraw all support" from the war, and bring it to an end.

"A dramatic act on the part of the U.S. and its allies, including the government of South Vietnam, is required in order to get negotiations started," the statement said.

It then suggested the "cease-fire-unless-fired-upon" course with simultaneous international inspection and a request for reconvening the Geneva Conference.

There are approximately 22 million war veterans in the United States, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Dear Heloise:: After peeling and carving a fresh pineapple, I always take the core and the outside bits of the fruit, cut them into small pieces and place them in a press. This way I always get three-quarters of a cup of delicious juice which otherwise might be thrown away.

And to think I lived in Hawaii many years and always discarded the core of the pineapple.

After buying one last week and putting all of the little pieces into my potato ricer, I, too, got nearly a cup of wonderful sweet juice.

Bless you no end.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's how to make wonderful buoys to mark the limit of a swimming area for children at the lake or in a home pool.

Tightly screw the caps on a number of plastic bleach jugs, then just tie them, evenly spaced, onto the necessary amount of rope needed.

They will float and always show up plainly.

The rope ends may be tied, staked or weighted.

DEAR HELOISE: I've just discovered the greatest way of fixing my hair so it looks nice all week.

After doing it up on my rollers (plasti, lattice - type curlers), I get my plunger bottle of liquid setting fluid and spray inside each roller.

This way, each curl is coated on the outside and the inside so when I remove the rollers, the curls are firm and full of body.

HILDA.

LETTER OF LAGUTHER

DEAR HELOISE: Every woman knows how difficult it is to put on a girdle or corset in hot weather.

I say: "Air-condition your garment!"

Put it in the refrigerator an hour or two before it's time to wear it . . .

DEAR HELOISE: We are campers.

I have bought many plastic tarpaulins with grommets on each end, only to have the grommets tear loose when trying to tie them to trees with a rope.

I had my wife sew a wide hem along two ends of my new plastic tarp. We threaded this with a rope. Now we can tie each end to trees and not have to use the grommets.

I am sure many other campers will find this a valuable idea, for it gives it the extra strength needed in a strong wind. Also, if you have an old plastic cloth and the grommets have already pulled out, all you have to do is cut off an inch or so and make a new thick hem.

Incidentally, my wife turned the plastic edging under four times before sewing it. We found this made it much stronger.

FRED.

DEAR FOLKS: For those people who wear rubber slip-on sandals, are you aware that they can be washed in the washing machine along with bath towels? Sure gets them clean.

If you are working in the garden and get the soles caked with mud, don't try to wash them off, expecially if it's the gummy kind of mud.

All you have to do is turn them upside down until the mud dries. Then one whack across anything and that old mud will drop right off in a chunk.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I made some durable shoe bags out of a pair of my old corduroy slacks.

I cut them off at the knees, and stitched across the edge and up the middle. Then I put a drawstring in the top using the original hem for the casing.

I just slide a shoe in each compartment when traveling. The shine is protected and my clothes in my bag are not soiled by the shoes.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I clean fingermarks off furniture?

A. — With a cloth saturated with olive oil. When applying wax polish, use just as little as possible, and rub until you get the surface free of film. If you do this, your furniture will increase in loveliness and luster.

Q. — How can I keep the drain pipes in my kitchen sink and laundry tub free of grease and disagreeable odors?

A. — By making a practice at least once every week of rinsing these pipes with strong hot, salt water.

A river cruise and a picnic on Babbs Island is an activity the Harold Moore family and their friends, the Halfhills, frequently enjoy on hot summer days. Mr. Moore (standing), an electronics technician with more than 23 years of service at Crucible's Midland Division, spends much of his holiday and vacation time with his family, plying the area waters in his cruiser. Veteran Crucible employes such as Mr. Moore, with 13-weeks vacation every five years, average 5 weeks vacation time a year. This is only one benefit in a fringe package valued at about $2,000 per Crucible employe per year. Including life insurance, hospitalization, pensions, SUB, holidays as well as vacation, this benefit package supplements wages by 25 percent.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I laughed over the letter about B (only N(only) Jones who wound up in the Army with the name Bonly Nonly. It's bad enough when such things happen by accident, but what do you think about parents who would intentionally give a child a crazy name?

I read recently where someone who researched odd names through Social Security listings came across Tin Cans, Safety First, Never Gamble, July Bonus, Pork Chop, True Story and Born Young. The one that took the cake was the name Mr. and Mrs. Around hung on their newborn son. They christened the boy Stick.

Why would parents do this to a child? Doesn't it mean they have a perverted sense of humor?—JUST ASKING.

Dear Just: Not necessarily. Some parents want to give their child a name no one will forget. If I ever meet Stick Around I'll never forget him. How about you?

No Art Gallery

Dear Ann: What a relief to read a letter in your column from a woman who has the same problem I have. For years I thought I was the only wife in the world whose husband collected pornography, hid it under the rugs, in the trunk of the car, and even in the rafters of the attic.

When I first discovered my husband's "hobby", I was disgusted and shocked. He confessed that his intense interest in pornography began in adolescence and I realized he was ill. I begged him to get psychiatric help but he refused. When our son found part of his collection he agreed to see a doctor. Although he is far from cured, he now understands his illness and is trying to get better.

I hope other wives who share this problem will recognize it is a sickness. Please tell them it takes a great deal of strength and courage to live with somebody else's problem, but it can be done, and I know it can be done, because I have been doing it.—DES MOINES.

Dear D. M.: Cheers for you. And for the thousands (yes, I said thousands) of other women who wrote to say they, too, are living with husbands who collect pornography. A problem understood is a problem half solved. Thanks to all of you who wrote to say, "Me, too."

Douse The Torch

Dear Ann: I'm 18 and going steady with a fellow 19. Jamie dated a girl for three years before I knew him. He says it was kid stuff and his love for me is much greater than the feeling he had for her. He did admit that she broke off with him, however.

Jamie is very fond of this girl's parents. When we first began to date he used to take me over there at least twice a week.

They are nice people but I was awfully uncomfortable in their presence and told him so. A few times his ex-sweetheart was at home when we arrived and I wanted to die. Finally I refused to go anymore, but he still goes at least once a week.

Jamie wants to marry me next year but I'm afraid he is still in love with his ex-sweetheart. What do you say?—MONTREAL.

Dear Montreal: It sounds as if he is still torching, Honey. Date others and urge Jamie to do the same. If, in a year, he still wants to marry you, and has knocked off his visits, reconsider.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Scotland Yard is the headquarters of the London (England) Metropolitan Police. The name "Scotland Yard" is often used to mean a special department of the force called Criminal Investigation Department, or C.I.D., which is one of the most famous police organizations in the world. Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

It's Habit, Not Hunger

Studies reveal that a great deal of overeating is done during the evening, particularly by overweight individuals. Many of you are not really hungry. you write that you can control your appetite during the day, but in the evening you seem powerless to keep away from food, and often eat when you are not

Ida Jean Kain

Doctors term this the night-eating syndrome. At any rate, the evening seems to contain the core of the overeating problem.

The homemaker in today's story is in the fat-since adolescent group, 5-feet-2 and weighs 165 pounds. She writes:

"My worst temptation comes around 4 in the afternoon when the family begins to come home . . .from then on until bedtime I want to eat. Dear friend of overweights, please map out a program to help me."

LET'S START with the late afternoon eating. Reason through the situation and you gain perspective. Until 4 you are fully occupied. When the family returns you want to relax, and eating is a part of the pattern. Fine, but use ingenuity to keep the snacks delightfully low in calories.

How about a dieter's milkshake? The basis is skim milk. In a blender, pour a cup (8 ounces) of skim milk, and add 3 to 4 ice cubes, plus a few fresh strtwberries, or nectarine or fresh peach slices, with drops of artificial sweetener. Let blender whirl until mixture is milkshake thickness. The ice cube chill aids the thickening and the beaten-in air increases the volume. This recipe serves two, 50 calories each. Delicious!

Or have a sociable cup of tea, hot or iced, plus artificial sweetener, lemon juice and a sprig of mint. With this have a snack —quartered hard cooked egg, or half - ounce of cheese and crisp celery. Prior to dinner preparations, enjoy a glass of tomato juice.

Ah—dinner! You are the cook, so plan some foods which you can enjoy without fear of fat—lean meat, chicken or turkey, vegetables quickly - cooked, a crisp salad with dieter's dressing, one homemaker used this plus a beverage.

TO CONTROL late - day eating, one homemaker used this plan: She prepared a snack tray to keep in the refrigerator. On this she put the foods she would allow from 4 on. Often it included sections of fruit, waxed wrapped, carrot sticks, cheese cubes, or celery stuffed with cheese, plus low calorie beverages. She varied the snack did not exceed 200.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I laughed over the letter about B (only N(only) Jones who wound up in the Army with the name Bonly Nonly. It's bad enough when such things happen by accident, but what do you think about parents who would intentionally give a child a crazy name?

I read recently where someone who researched odd names through Social Security listings came across Tin Cans, Safety First, Never Gamble, July Bonus, Pork Chop, True Story and Born Young. The one that took the cake was the name Mr. and Mrs. Around hung on their newborn son. They christened the boy Stick.

Why would parents do this to a child? Doesn't it mean they have a perverted sense of humor?—JUST ASKING.

Dear Just: Not necessarily. Some parents want to give their child a name no one will forget. If I ever meet Stick Around I'll never forget him. How about you?

No Art Gallery

Dear Ann: What a relief to read a letter in your column from a woman who has the same problem I have. For years I thought I was the only wife in the world whose husband collected pornography, hid it under the rugs, in the trunk of the car, and even in the rafters of the attic.

When I first discovered my husband's "hobby", I was disgusted and shocked. He confessed that his intense interest in pornography began in adolescence and I realized he was ill. I begged him to get psychiatric help but he refused. When our son found part of his collection he agreed to see a doctor. Although he is far from cured, he now understands his illness and is trying to get better.

I hope other wives who share this problem will recognize it is a sickness. Please tell them it takes a great deal of strength and courage to live with somebody else's problem, but it can be done, and I know it can be done, because I have been doing it.—DES MOINES.

Dear D. M.: Cheers for you. And for the thousands (yes, I said thousands) of other women who wrote to say they, too, are living with husbands who collect pornography. A problem understood is a problem half solved. Thanks to all of you who wrote to say, "Me, too."

Douse The Torch

Dear Ann: I'm 18 and going steady with a fellow 19. Jamie dated a girl for three years before I knew him. He says it was kid stuff and his love for me is much greater than the feeling he had for her. He did admit that she broke off with him, however.

Jamie is very fond of this girl's parents. When we first began to date he used to take me over there at least twice a week.

They are nice people but I was awfully uncomfortable in their presence and told him so. A few times his ex-sweetheart was at home when we arrived and I wanted to die. Finally I refused to go anymore, but he still goes at least once a week.

Jamie wants to marry me next year but I'm afraid he is still in love with his ex-sweetheart. What do you say?—MONTREAL.

Dear Montreal: It sounds as if he is still torching, Honey. Date others and urge Jamie to do the same. If, in a year, he still wants to marry you, and has knocked off his visits, reconsider.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

It's Habit, Not Hunger

Studies reveal that a great deal of overeating is done during the evening, particularly by overweight individuals. Many of you are not really hungry. you write that you can control your appetite during the day, but in the evening you seem powerless to keep away from food, and often eat when you are not hungry.

Ida Jean Kain

Doctors term this the night-eating syndrome. At any rate, the evening seems to contain the core of the overeating problem.

The homemaker in today's story is in the fat-since adolescent group, 5-feet-2 and weighs 165 pounds. She writes:

"My worst temptation comes around 4 in the afternoon when the family begins to come home . . .from then on until bedtime I want to eat. Dear friend of overweights, please map out a program to help me."

LET'S START with the late afternoon eating. Reason through the situation and you gain perspective. Until 4 you are fully occupied. When the family returns you want to relax, and eating is a part of the pattern. Fine, but use ingenuity to keep the snacks delightfully low in calories.

How about a dieter's milkshake? The basis is skim milk. In a blender, pour a cup (8 ounces) of skim milk, and add 3 to 4 ice cubes, plus a few fresh strtwberries, or nectarine or fresh peach slices, with drops of artificial sweetener. Let blender whirl until mixture is milkshake thickness. The ice cube chill aids the thickening and the beaten-in air increases the volume. This recipe serves two, 50 calories each. Delicious!

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Short Supply Of Good Comedy On TV

"I don't even hear any good dirty jokes these days," a friend of mine complained, then added, "maybe the whole world has become too serious."

Hal Humphrey

There seems little doubt that humor and comedy (dirty or clean) happen to be in short supply at present, but whose fault is it —the suppliers or the consumers?

Of the 26 new prime-time network series due to burst across our TV screens in September, eight can be labeled comedy shows, which is about one third the total of new weekly shows.

-:-

TWO OF THESE eight are headed by stand-up comedians (those who can mugg and deliver funny routines alone) — Carol Burnett and Jerry Lewis.

I'm not counting the Danny Thomas Hour because it's to be an anthology of drama, musicals and sometimes Danny as the star of a comedy show.

Last season there were 12 new comedy series, including Milton Berle's comedy-variety hour, which lasted half the season. Only three of the 12 survived — "The Monkees," "Family Affair" and "That Girl" — which is a high casualty rate in any league.

Naturally, there were all kinds of extenuating circumstances which contributed to that casualty rate last season, the accuracy, or lack of it, in the rating services certainly being one. But among those nine comedy shows folding (not including Garry Moore, whom I do not consider a comic) there actually wasn't anything outstanding.

IN A NEW BOOK by Steve Allen ("Bigger Than a Bread Box") he is quoted as having observed 10 years ago that "the comedians who continue to function despite the trend are subject to increasingly heavy attacks from critics, audiences, rating services, and from the vaguely defined spirit of the times."

Leonard Feather, the jazz critic, has written some commentary in the Allen book, which pulls together speeches, letters and radio-TV scripts of Allen's. Feather believes Allen was viewing the comedy scene with two much alarm at that time, and says now that Allen sees today's comedy as "wonderfully fresh and vigorous."

Neither Allen nor Feather can apply those adjectives to the bulk of comedy on TV the past few years. The freshest and most topical comedy has been on Johnny Carson's "Tonight" show, which comes on after most people have turned off their TV sets.

THE SMOTHERS BROS. new show which came on in the middle of last season revealed an honest effort for something fresh and vigorous in comedy. But neither Red Skelton nor Jackie Gleason could be assured of doing anything they haven't done in the past several years for their loyal fans.

As for the situation comedies, we saw Phyllis Diller, Jean Arthur and Tammy Grimes try and fail last season and largely, in my opinion, because none of the three comediennes were given good enough scripts. The writers can't be blamed solely for that either.

Networks and sponsors place an awful lot of taboos on what the comics can poke fun at, or joke about. Even guest comics on shows like Dean Martin's find their routines are examined word for word, and are warned not to ad-lib.

THE RESULT of all this provides a very narrow lane for the comedy writer to work in, and hence the comic himself. A decade ago everyone was asking where the new comics were coming from, when the Jack Bennys, Jimmy Durantes, Bob Hopes et al faded away.

That, it so happens, isn't the worry now. We've found plenty of new comics — Jonathan Winters, Mort Sahl, Bob Newhart, Shelley Berman — to name a few. The question is where do they work? In night clubs and at concert appearances mostly, because TV confines them too much.

The audience for comedy on TV is there, as Johnny Carson has proved, or, for that matter, Skelton and Gleason, but the networks shy away from the comedian because he is likely to cause them trouble with sponsors, various groups and organizations or just mothers-in-law who are offended by their jokes.

Sociologists like to point to TV as being a reflection of our times.

GEARED clothesline allows Mrs. Charles Bennett of Benton, Wis., to raise or lower it at will, to keep it within easy reach or raise it high enough to be out of the way, thanks to her inventive husband.

Ruritan Club Enrolls Trio

Three new members were enrolled when the Southern Ruritan Club met Monday night at the Bethel United Presbyterian Church.

They are Paul E. Campbell, Charles E. Powell and Wayne S. Boyd. Induction ceremonies will be held at the next regular meeting Aug. 28.

Members voted to sell fruitcakes to support the club's assistance program for needy families. Any Ruritan Club member will take orders.

C. P. Henderson, superintendent of Stanton Local Schools, screened slides of his trip to the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe.

Henderson was one of 135 who took the three-week journey under sponsorship of Kent State University to view educational procedures in Europe.

The next meeting will be a picnic at Hammond Park, with Pete Mase chairman.

Walter Nelson, vice president, was in charge during the absence of the president, the Rev. William Harper.

Coroner Rules In Boy's Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — The death of a crippled and mentally retarded Lakewood boy has been blamed on heat exhaustion and carbon monoxide poisoning, the Cuyahoga County coroner ruled Tuesday. His father is charged with neglect.

The boy, James Heffernan, 7, died July 18, but his father did not report the death until July 23.

The father, Charles J. Heffernan, 49, told Lakewood police that he found his son dead in the back seat of his car July 18. Heffernan said he thought death was caused by the boy bumping his head on a seat belt anchor.

The coroner's office, however, said that there was no indication of head injuries.

Police said Heffernan told them he was on his way home July 18 when he stopped at a supermarket for cigarettes. He left the boy in the car and when he returned, he said, the boy was dead.

Officers said Heffernan told them he drove around aimlessly, drinking heavily.

Jury Finds Principal Innocent Of Assault

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — A jury deliberated about two hours Tuesday before returning an innocent verdict in favor of E. J. Whilding, a school principal who had been charged with assault and battery.

The charge stemmed from the punishment May 18 in which seven girls were disciplined for leaving their cottages during the night at the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home, where Whilding is principal.

The Oxford and Cambridge boat races are held on the River Thames.

Meets With Mayors, Negro Leaders

Gov. Shafer Spurs Plans To Avert Racial Rioting

By WILLIAM E. DEIBLER

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer, pushing plans to prevent racial disturbances in Pennsylvania, was scheduled to meet today with mayors from major urban areas and Negro leaders from throughout the state.

The mayor's conference was to begin at 1:30 p.m. The Negro leaders were to meet with Shafer at his Indiantown Gap residence at 3:30 p.m.

The governor had scheduled the meeting with Negro leaders months ago, before riots erupted across the country. Shafer's plans to prevent such outbursts in Pennsylvania probably replaced other matters that were to have been discussed.

In a move to create jobs for unemployed Negroes, Shafer met with 85 business, labor and civic leaders Tuesday to urge the establishment of "instant action job" programs.

The meeting, however, was viewed as something less than a success by Dr. Thomas W. Georges Jr., state secretary of public welfare.

Georges, the highest ranking Negro in the Shafer Administration, told the businessmen that many of them "haven't gotten the message" that race riots could break out in Pennsylvania at any time.

"Either you don't believe what's going on around you, or you've insulated yourself against it," Georges said at the conclusion of the conference.

Negroes need jobs now, Georges said, not promises of long-range studies of pledges to improve ghetto conditions some time in the future.

Seven Negro advisers to the conference also voiced "deep concern as to whether or not it has achieved a start towards a solution to the problem faced by the commonwealth."

Conference proposals, reported after an hour-long discussion session, included:

Pittsburgh — A citywide meeting will be called to discuss the unemployment problem. No date was set.

Philadelphia — A meeting of business and industry leaders has been scheduled Thursday to discuss establishment of a job finding program.

Harrisburg — Industry and business leaders will meet Friday to discuss methods of finding 500 jobs to meet the city's Negro unemployment problem.

Wilkes-Barre — A meeting will be held to determine if the community has a problem. No date was set.

Scranton — Businessmen have pledged to hire as many Negroes as possible, particularly in fields where minorities have been reluctant to apply for jobs in the past.

Erie — A job task force has been set up to survey unemployment problems and to urge employers to stop discrimination, if it exists.

York — A program will be set up to use Negro churches as job interview headquarters. The program is designed to get Negroes to apply for jobs that are available now.

Chester — An action committee has been created to survey job needs and end discrimination in employment, if it exists.

Cleveland Negro Leaders Eye End Violence Theme

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's Negro leaders have planned a series of meetings with the theme of "end violence!"

At a recent meeting at Cory Methodist Church, leaders urged, "Don't get mad, get smart." They called the Negro community "95 per cent responsible."

The Rev. E. T. Caviness, pastor of the Greater Abyssinia Baptist Church, said Tuesday that "our stand may have helped a lot. But we realize that one meeting is not enough. Other meetings are planned to keep up the momentum."

The Rev. Alfred M. Waller, pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church here, says the chief concern of Negro leaders in Cleveland is to find alternatives to street violence.

The Rev. Mr. Waller advocates enforcement of laws to make slums no longer profitable for absentee landlords; calling for a commission to study unjust employment practices; getting full recognition of the "creative responsibility" of Negroes.

Coroner Identifies Body As Akron Coed

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — The Ashtabula County coroner has identified the body of a woman found in Lake Erie as Marie Nevels, 21, a University of Akron student who was one of four persons in a light plane that crashed last December.

Hers is the only body recovered since the mishap. The body was found July 27.

She was the daughter of John Nevels, an engineer at the General Tire & Rubber Co. in Akron.

Excavation Starts For Historical Site

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Excavation began Tuesday for the $7.5 million Ohio Historical Center building at the State Fairgrounds.

Cost of the center, to be completed by June of 1969, is to be paid from a $290 million bond issue passed in 1965.

Federal Funds OK'd For 2 Ohio Projects

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development announced funds Tuesday for these Ohio code enforcement projects.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Short Supply Of Good Comedy On TV

"I don't even hear any good dirty jokes these days," a friend of mine complained, then added, "maybe the whole world has become too serious."

Hal Humphrey

There seems little doubt that humor and comedy (dirty or clean) happen to be in short supply at present, but whose fault is it —the suppliers or the consumers?

Of the 26 new prime-time network series due to burst across our TV screens in September, eight can be labeled comedy shows, which is about one third the total of new weekly shows.

-:-

TWO OF THESE eight are headed by stand-up comedians (those who can mugg and deliver funny routines alone) — Carol Burnett and Jerry Lewis.

I'm not counting the Danny Thomas Hour because it's to be an anthology of drama, musicals and sometimes Danny as the star of a comedy show.

Last season there were 12 new comedy series, including Milton Berle's comedy-variety hour, which lasted half the season. Only three of the 12 survived — "The Monkees," "Family Affair" and "That Girl" — which is a high casualty rate in any league.

Naturally, there were all kinds of extenuating circumstances which contributed to that casualty rate last season, the accuracy, or lack of it, in the rating services certainly being one. But among those nine comedy shows folding (not including Garry Moore, whom I do not consider a comic) there actually wasn't anything outstanding.

IN A NEW BOOK by Steve Allen ("Bigger Than a Bread Box") he is quoted as having observed 10 years ago that "the comedians who continue to function despite the trend are subject to increasingly heavy attacks from critics, audiences, rating services, and from the vaguely defined spirit of the times."

Leonard Feather, the jazz critic, has written some commentary in the Allen book, which pulls together speeches, letters and radio-TV scripts of Allen's. Feather believes Allen was viewing the comedy scene with two much alarm at that time, and says now that Allen sees today's comedy as "wonderfully fresh and vigorous."

Neither Allen nor Feather can apply those adjectives to the bulk of comedy on TV the past few years. The freshest and most topical comedy has been on Johnny Carson's "Tonight" show, which comes on after most people have turned off their TV sets.

THE SMOTHERS BROS. new show which came on in the middle of last season revealed an honest effort for something fresh and vigorous in comedy. But neither Red Skelton nor Jackie Gleason could be assured of doing anything they haven't done in the past several years for their loyal fans.

As for the situation comedies, we saw Phyllis Diller, Jean Arthur and Tammy Grimes try and fail last season and largely, in my opinion, because none of the three comediennes were given good enough scripts. The writers can't be blamed solely for that either.

Networks and sponsors place an awful lot of taboos on what the comics can poke fun at, or joke about. Even guest comics on shows like Dean Martin's find their routines are examined word for word, and are warned not to ad-lib.

THE RESULT of all this provides a very narrow lane for the comedy writer to work in, and hence the comic himself. A decade ago everyone was asking where the new comics were coming from, when the Jack Bennys, Jimmy Durantes, Bob Hopes et al faded away.

That, it so happens, isn't the worry now. We've found plenty of new comics — Jonathan Winters, Mort Sahl, Bob Newhart, Shelley Berman — to name a few. The question is where do they work? In night clubs and at concert appearances mostly, because TV confines them too much.

The audience for comedy on TV is there, as Johnny Carson has proved, or, for that matter, Skelton and Gleason, but the networks shy away from the comedian because he is likely to cause them trouble with sponsors, various groups and organizations or just mothers-in-law who are offended by their jokes.

Sociologists like to point to TV as being a reflection of our times.

Coroner Rules In Boy's Death

CLEVELAND (AP) — The death of a crippled and mentally retarded Lakewood boy has been blamed on heat exhaustion and carbon monoxide poisoning, the Cuyahoga County coroner ruled Tuesday. His father is charged with neglect.

The boy, James Heffernan, 7, died July 18, but his father did not report the death until July 23.

The father, Charles J. Heffernan, 49, told Lakewood police that he found his son dead in the back seat of his car July 18. Heffernan said he thought death was caused by the boy bumping his head on a seat belt anchor.

The coroner's office, however, said that there was no indication of head injuries.

Police said Heffernan told them he was on his way home July 18 when he stopped at a supermarket for cigarettes. He left the boy in the car and when he returned, he said, the boy was dead.

Officers said Heffernan told them he drove around aimlessly, drinking heavily.

Jury Finds Principal Innocent Of Assault

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — A jury deliberated about two hours Tuesday before returning an innocent verdict in favor of E. J. Whilding, a school principal who had been charged with assault and battery.

The charge stemmed from the punishment May 18 in which seven girls were disciplined for leaving their cottages during the night at the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Orphans Home, where Whilding is principal.

The Oxford and Cambridge boat races are held on the River Thames.

Meets With Mayors, Negro Leaders

Gov. Shafer Spurs Plans To Avert Racial Rioting

By WILLIAM E. DEIBLER

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Shafer, pushing plans to prevent racial disturbances in Pennsylvania, was scheduled to meet today with mayors from major urban areas and Negro leaders from throughout the state.

The mayor's conference was to begin at 1:30 p.m. The Negro leaders were to meet with Shafer at his Indiantown Gap residence at 3:30 p.m.

The governor had scheduled the meeting with Negro leaders months ago, before riots erupted across the country. Shafer's plans to prevent such outbursts in Pennsylvania probably replaced other matters that were to have been discussed.

In a move to create jobs for unemployed Negroes, Shafer met with 85 business, labor and civic leaders Tuesday to urge the establishment of "instant action job" programs.

The meeting, however, was viewed as something less than a success by Dr. Thomas W. Georges Jr., state secretary of public welfare.

Georges, the highest ranking Negro in the Shafer Administration, told the businessmen that many of them "haven't gotten the message" that race riots could break out in Pennsylvania at any time.

"Either you don't believe what's going on around you, or you've insulated yourself against it," Georges said at the conclusion of the conference.

Negroes need jobs now, Georges said, not promises of long-range studies of pledges to improve ghetto conditions some time in the future.

Seven Negro advisers to the conference also voiced "deep concern as to whether or not it has achieved a start towards a solution to the problem faced by the commonwealth."

Conference proposals, reported after an hour-long discussion session, included:

Pittsburgh — A citywide meeting will be called to discuss the unemployment problem. No date was set.

Philadelphia — A meeting of business and industry leaders has been scheduled Thursday to discuss establishment of a job finding program.

Harrisburg — Industry and business leaders will meet Friday to discuss methods of finding 500 jobs to meet the city's Negro unemployment problem.

Wilkes-Barre — A meeting will be held to determine if the community has a problem. No date was set.

Scranton — Businessmen have pledged to hire as many Negroes as possible, particularly in fields where minorities have been reluctant to apply for jobs in the past.

Erie — A job task force has been set up to survey unemployment problems and to urge employers to stop discrimination, if it exists.

York — A program will be set up to use Negro churches as job interview headquarters. The program is designed to get Negroes to apply for jobs that are available now.

Chester — An action committee has been created to survey job needs and end discrimination in employment, if it exists.

Cleveland Negro Leaders Eye End Violence Theme

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland's Negro leaders have planned a series of meetings with the theme of "end violence!"

At a recent meeting at Cory Methodist Church, leaders urged, "Don't get mad, get smart." They called the Negro community "95 per cent responsible."

The Rev. E. T. Caviness, pastor of the Greater Abyssinia Baptist Church, said Tuesday that "our stand may have helped a lot. But we realize that one meeting is not enough. Other meetings are planned to keep up the momentum."

The Rev. Alfred M. Waller, pastor of Shiloh Baptist Church here, says the chief concern of Negro leaders in Cleveland is to find alternatives to street violence.

The Rev. Mr. Waller advocates enforcement of laws to make slums no longer profitable for absentee landlords; calling for a commission to study unjust employment practices; getting full recognition of the "creative responsibility" of Negroes.

Coroner Identifies Body As Akron Coed

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — The Ashtabula County coroner has identified the body of a woman found in Lake Erie as Marie Nevels, 21, a University of Akron student who was one of four persons in a light plane that crashed last December.

Hers is the only body recovered since the mishap. The body was found July 27.

She was the daughter of John Nevels, an engineer at the General Tire & Rubber Co. in Akron.

Excavation Starts For Historical Site

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Excavation began Tuesday for the $7.5 million Ohio Historical Center building at the State Fairgrounds.

Cost of the center, to be completed by June of 1969, is to be paid from a $290 million bond issue passed in 1965.

BEAR EXISTENCE is eked out of a garbage can in West Montana by this bruin, in a Yellowstone National Park in scavenging raid on the wastes that campers leave.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I clean a white felt hat?

A.—Use a mixture of one quart of cornmeal, one cup of salt, and one cup of flour. Cover the hat with this, allow to stand for about 24 hours, then brush off. This incidentally will clean only soil — not stains.

Q.—Please tell me how I can preserve valuable documents I am storing?

A.—Rub all over these documents with a gutta-percha solution, obtainable at any drug-store. Many other such easy-to-do tips are contained in my new household manual.

Q.—What can I do about mildewed leather items?

A.—Try wiping off the leather with a cloth wrung out of a solution of equal parts denatured alcohol and water, then drying in the sun.

Q.—How can I remove slight scratches from plate glass?

A.—First rub with a pad of cotton wool. Then cover the pad with a layer of cotton felt well charged with fine jeweler's rouge, and this when rubbed over the surface of the glass will not only remove the scratches, but will add luster.

Q.—Is there any way I can renovate dented table tennis balls?

A.—Sometimes these will pop back into shape if hot water is poured over them. The heat of the water expands the air inside the balls, which presses out the dents.

Q.—How can I remove crayon marks from fabrics?

A.—On unwashables, sponge with carbon tetrachloride. Use hot soap and water for cottons and linens, warm for silks and rayons. If traces of color still remain when the article has dried, sponge with denatured alcohol (dilute the alcohol with two parts water for use on rayon or colored fabrics). Javelle water can be used as a last resort on cottons, linens, and rayons.

Q.—How can I remove water stains from glasses or vases?

A.—By rubbing with vinegar, applied with a cloth, then washing well in hot water and soapsuds, rinsing with clear hot water afterwards. Dry on a clean towel, and your glassware will sparkle.

Q.—Can you suggest a way I can fill in an unsightly crack in an article of furniture?

A.—Try using beeswax, pressing this in carefully, then stain and varnish.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I clean a white felt hat?

A.—Use a mixture of one quart of cornmeal, one cup of salt, and one cup of flour. Cover the hat with this, allow to stand for about 24 hours, then brush off. This incidentally will clean only soil — not stains.

Q.—Please tell me how I can preserve valuable documents I am storing?

A.—Rub all over these documents with a gutta-percha solution, obtainable at any drugstore. Many other such easy-to-do tips are contained in my new household manual.

Q.—What can I do about mildewed leather items?

A.—Try wiping off the leather with a cloth wrung out of a solution of equal parts denatured alcohol and water, then drying in the sun.

Q.—How can I remove slight scratches from plate glass?

A.—First rub with a pad of cotton wool. Then cover the pad with a layer of cotton felt well charged with fine jeweler's rouge, and this when rubbed over the surface of the glass will not only remove the scratches, but will add luster.

Q.—Is there any way I can renovate dented table tennis balls?

A.—Sometimes these will pop back into shape if hot water is poured over them. The heat of the water expands the air inside the balls, which presses out the dents.

Q.—How can I remove crayon marks from fabrics?

A.—On unwashables, sponge with carbon tetrachloride. Use hot soap and water for cottons and linens, warm for silks and rayons. If traces of color still remain when the article has dried, sponge with denatured alcohol (dilute the alcohol with two parts water for use on rayon or colored fabrics). Javelle water can be used as a last resort on cottons, linens, and rayons.

Q.—How can I remove water stains from glasses or vases?

A.—By rubbing with vinegar, applied with a cloth, then washing well in hot water and soapsuds, rinsing with clear hot water afterwards. Dry on a clean towel, and your glassware will sparkle.

Q.—Can you suggest a way I can fill in an unsightly crack in an article of furniture?

A.—Try using beeswax, pressing this in carefully, then stain and varnish.

Junior Editors Quiz on ROBIN HOOD

QUESTION: Did Robin Hood really live?

ANSWER: Robin Hood, like King Athur, was an English hero of story and legend whose exploits were probably based on those of some actual person. But we know very little about the real Robin Hood, although he is supposed to have lived between 1160 and 1247 A.D. The legend says that as a youth, some foresters taunted him for carrying such a big bow. When a deer appeared, they dared him to shoot at it. Robin killed the deer with one shot. "Pure luck" jeered one of the foresters, "You couldn't shoot that straight." But Robin, losing his temper, fitted another arrow and shot the forester dead. After that, he lived as an outlaw, gathering a group of similiar outlaws around him. Dressed in green, Robin and his merry men lived romantic lives in Sherwood Forest. They robbed the wealthy, but gave the money back to the poor. Robin would never harm a woman. According to the legend, he did not wish to harm anyone, but took the part of the weak and helpless against those who oppressed them. Remember, however, this is a legend and not necessarily certain.

Junior Editors Quiz on ROBIN HOOD

QUESTION: Did Robin Hood really live?

ANSWER: Robin Hood, like King Athur, was an English hero of story and legend whose exploits were probably based on those of some actual person. But we know very little about the real Robin Hood, although he is supposed to have lived between 1160 and 1247 A.D. The legend says that as a youth, some foresters taunted him for carrying such a big bow. When a deer appeared, they dared him to shoot at it. Robin killed the deer with one shot. "Pure luck" jeered one of the foresters, "You couldn't shoot that straight." But Robin, losing his temper, fitted another arrow and shot the forester dead. After that, he lived as an outlaw, gathering a group of similiar outlaws around him. Dressed in green, Robin and his merry men lived romantic lives in Sherwood Forest. They robbed the wealthy, but gave the money back to the poor. Robin would never harm a woman. According to the legend, he did not wish to harm anyone, but took the part of the weak and helpless against those who oppressed them. Remember, however, this is a legend and not necessarily certain.

Driver Fined After Mishap

Doris Tatgenhorst, 22, of Yeager Rd. RD 1 was fined $10 and costs Tuesday in Municipal Court on charges filed by the Ohio Highway Patrol as an aftermath of a mishap July 24 on old Route 30 in which her sports car skidded out of control on wet pavement, struck a ditch and an embankment and overturned.

The patrol cited her on a charge of operating a defective vehicle, alleging that three of the car's four tires were "bald."

Marilyn Kay Sullivan, 18, of 7th Ave., LaCroft, was fined $15 and costs on a charge of failing to signal a left turn — also the result of a mishap investigated by the patrol. The patrol cited her Thursday at 9:45 p. m. on County Rd. 430.

Dennis K. Wells of Pennsylvania Ave. was fined $15 and costs on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance. The charge was filed by Nina Show of Center Rd. as the aftermath of a collision May 21. A second charge of crashing a stop sign at State and Mulberry Sts. was dismissed.

William E. Cain of 213 W. 2nd St. was ordered to pay the costs on a charge of driving without an operator's license. He was cited at 5:30 p. m. Monday on E. 3rd St. by Patrolman Karl Samples.

George Dawson, a Wheeling trucker, forfeited two bonds of $58 each on charges dating back to July 12, when he was cited on Route 7 by the patrol. He was charged with speeding 60 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone and operating a rig for hire without first filing ICC authority with the state of Ohio.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — When hanging a new door, how can I make easier the job of keeping the proper amount of clearance under the door?

A. — Before screwing the hinges in place, rest the bottom of the door on several thicknesses of newspaper laid between it and the threshhold. Then attach the hinges, remove the paper, and the door should move freely.

Q.—How can I deal with yellow stains in a bathtub or sink?

A—Make a thin paste of three parts of cream tartar and one part of hydrogen peroxide, spread this on the discolored areas, let dry, then wipe off with a wet cloth.
